Downtown Christmas Lighting

Last year, Lacombe became one of those towns in the province to offer downtown merchants a fully illuminated Christmas street lighting. They showed the way for next year. It does not take a huge sum of money but it does take some effort and imagination — and funds — to give a centre of this size a gay and festive air.

A regular budget each year, for four or five years would go a long way toward providing the material required to brighten up the town at Christmas time. It's too late for this year . . . but plans should be made . . . now for next year.

It has been many years since the town council has budgeted an adequate sum for Christmas street lighting. They should do so for next year. It does not take a huge sum of money but it does take some effort and imagination — and funds — to give a centre of this size a gay and festive air.

Television Programs

TELEVISION must have the greatest impact on public opinion since the invention of the art of printing. The number of hours spent by men, women and children in front of television receivers is fantastic. Millions of dollars are made yearly staggering to call for repeated examination of the type of programs provided.

Any such examination reveals the fact that there is a lot of time spent on the same old stales programs. Invented under the guise of comedy, are ridiculous farce of the made-in-Canada programs, under the "variety show" heading, are pompous and inane.

Canadian networks, though, have bright spots. For picture is not all black. Both networks produce a few excellent public affairs programs both provide some vivid on-the-scenes news coverage when is informative and is helping to clear up some grave injustices within today's society.

Time provided for these highly informative programs though, is small when compared with the hours devoted to situation comedies, crime shows and westerns.

The industry with a keen ear for ratings, stands over and over again that it provides only what the viewers want. Admittedly, there are a lot of viewers even though some of them are "captive" audiences who can watch only one station if they wish to watch television at all.

Generally speaking, there must be disappointment almost television's failure to fulfill its responsibility as a prime source of public information and culture.

Where this examination of TV's problem either lauded direct to such an extent increased governmental regulation of the industry is certainly no answer, and there seems little justification that government stations. Instructors are about to change programming patterns what's are profitable and apparently pleasing to the public.

In the final analysis, change can be brought about only by the viewers themselves When — and if — they become eventually fed up with swapped face and demand something better, they will get it. Until this time, those who have already had enough can read a good book!

ALBERTA JUNIOR CITIZEN OF THE YEAR BULLETIN:

THORSBY BOY HONORED FOR SAVING COUSIN

It was November 21, 1964 when a near-fatal incident occurred near the home of thirteen-year old Tim Abshire. His sister Linda and cousin Pat Wickstrom were skating in his playground. Pat skated out too far. Suddenly, the ice cracked and Pat fell into the icy water of Pigeon Lake.

He could not climb out. Linda skated furiously for her home to bring help, but her father's repeated efforts to reach Pat were prevented because the ice kept cracking.

Then young Tim came into view. Quickly sizing up the situation, he crawled out to the exhausted Pat and caught him by the hand.

He inched even closer, grasped the collar of Pat's jacket, and slowly pulled him onto solid ice. Then Mr. Abshire took over with towels, blankets and hot water.

We congratulate Tim. Our thanks to Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active co-operation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

This is one of a series of Junior Citizen Award announcements. Get several thanks to Warren Bevan, editor of the Lethbridge Herald and to Tim's nominator, William Gerdsel of Thorsby.

Local P.O. Passes Peak

"We passed the peak mail loads over the week end," postmaster P. C. Thompson told The Globe yesterday afternoon in the annual onslaught of Christmas mail.

It was a heavy December for the past office which employs 10 members, with five people being hired as extra staff.

From December 1 to December 20, a total of 4,000 parcels were delivered through the post office from the mail sacks received from the mainline trains.

Mr Thompson reports that 12,240 bags of mail were received during the 20-day period and 2,373 bags of parcels were made up by the local post office staff.

There is quite a trend in mailing Christmas cards today to use first class (5c) postage rather than the acceptable by mail. Mr Thompson claims. "This year I would say that Christmas cards were delivered in a two-to-one proportion to the parcels we received by mail."

The office makes a much higher volume of first-class mail to be handled," he noted, "and the heavy delivery of parcel post comes after."

How was the mail volume this year as compared with last? "Probably up a bit," the postmaster replied. "We handled 4,000 more cards this year than last, at the same date."

Outgoing mail Tuesday afternoon, had dimmed down substantially, although mainline mail is still quite heavy.

Glad tidings to all. May the message of Christmas bring you joy.

Leaders in Broomball Win Again

The trustee Rams were tied after 1-0 on a goal by Lloyd Bamlett at the end of the first half and it looked as if they might be heading for their first victory. It broadened when Jo Jo Bamlett added an insurance marker late Wednesday.

However, the Apaches came out all fired up in the second half and scored four unanswered goals to wrap the Rams in their own Dec Bandquest with two goals and Lawrence Goodtrack and Curt Gunner

Jets caught Lincoln unprepared last Wednesday and defeated them 5-0. Dirk Hoedeman led the Jet attack with two goals while Ralph Bee notched the third.

Tonight Jets meet the Rams in the first game and Lincoln and Apaches play the late game

Fights Mar Game

Red Deer	7	5	1	69	58	15
Lacombe	3	10	1	35	65	7

Last week's scores: Red Deer 6 at Bentley 2, Lacombe 5 at Bel'mo 4, Rockets 7 at Innisfail 4.

Next week's games: Thursday, Edmonton at Red Deer. Monday (Boxing day) game at 2:30 Red Deer at Lacombe.

Lacombe Rockets lost a pair 4-0 and 5-1 on a back to back series last week end against the first place Drumheller Miners. Only in the fight department did the locals hold their own.

Gordie Bear Lodden had a rousing bout with Drumheller on Sunday with the Miners' Bert Crawford in which both were assessed penalties.

But most of the blows are hooks and have Saturday night's 263 penalty assessments when Lacombe's Dave Cooper and Terry Kohlman drew the started mixing it up.

Then coach Bob Bolinger got in a scuffle, and when Miner's Jack Rothstein hopped on Bolinger to help his mate that was enough for Dick Dunnigan to get in the act which brought further reprisal from Ronald Leopold.

Rothstein, Dunnigan and Leopold were banished for the remainder of the game, while the more participants went to the penalty box.

However, there was not too much to report from the ice on the second and third periods. Only Dick Dunnigan was on Sunday second Lacombe four a hooking penalty.

Next action: a Boxing day afternoon game here at 2:30 next Monday, with Red Deer Cherokee as the visitors.

Speaking of sport . . .

By Terry Jones

A hockey team died a natural death this week. No, it wasn't Lacombe Rockets.

The team to succeed the Lacombe Juvenalier Dubeg in intermediate hockey circles is probably are not aware that such a team existed.

At the beginning of hockey season there were signed 16-20 players supposed to be playing under the Junior "B" banner, but after a few weeks of dissension only 12 were playing.

A couple of unnecessary misdeal crimes — Ben Mantle and Elmer Lanier — left the team themselves to provide them with hockey.

However, by the time of formation, it was impossible to get substitutes into the league.

For one or perhaps two of the 11 interested players, the Purity Pirates will be the course of hockey for the year ahead, but for the rest, it looks like "game over". Most will probably not play an organized form of hockey again in their lives.

The root of this problem, I think, lies in the minor hockey system.

This town's fireworks and new leagues are overflowing but the number of players who go from Juvenile to Junior and so on up through Midget to Juvenile.

Of course you say that this is natural, that some boys have interest in the sport after just one year. True. But at rates exceeding 50%?

Something has got to be done to keep the boys interested in the game past the pee wee level.

A.S.S.L.

You would never know it by the crowds we get in Lacombe, but it so happens that our beloved dollar-dwelling Rockets are bigger attractions (paid attendance wise) than either the Edmonton Oil Kings or Red Deer Automobiles are at the Drumheller Miners home games in the Metro Arena.

Ukie "the dagger" Dunnigan is worth a scoring for every game's only He has four goals and four assists on the road.

Dunnigan is also 10th place in the scoring race with 13 points, sporting a total of nine goals.

No wonder the Rockets are in fourth place, they've only had one player in double figure point. Drumheller has 14.

What have Jose Mangiat and hockey Dave Carlyle got in common? Both are pro golfers now? Have they hit.

After this week end travel-filled double header with Drumheller, defender Ron Hilton has adopted the nickname "Casino". He gained two points on the road trip one from Ken Hargrave and Bob Kevet were not intending on playing basketball Wednesday night for Chamberlain's Lady Eagles. This is not recently Ken Hargrave, Bob Kevet, Merry Bolton and Arvid Hopp are not planning to participate in the Sport Shoot.

. . . Red the Juvenales decided to play, the basketball squad might have been short one or two more players.

. . . Looks like a rough season for both Vets and girls outfits. The 1965 CWAH champion Lacombe girls have all (or at least most) resigned to Red Deer to continue their schooling. According to last reports neither Barb Johnson, Myrna Olafson or Maureen "Moe" Thompson plan on making up with the Composite girls.

It's Christmas Time!

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

In these two familiar words come love and gladness and memories of the first Christmas, on that lonely night close to two thousand years ago.

As the happy day approaches, this customarily vibrant world and thousands of others throughout the Christian world proclaim the spirit of the season in ringing hymn, gleaming lights festive decorations and last minute but not essential greeting. Merry Christmas.

These two words are a reminder that Christmas is indeed a merry time. The laughter and the smiles, the fun and excitement of small children the feasting and shared events are but the surface symbols of what Christmas truly means.

It is a time of sharing and giving, a time to remember others, not only our family, friends and neighbors, but all mankind and especially the less fortunate among us.

As the gaily-wrapped packages make their way to Christmas trees throughout this district the gala once again recall the spirit of giving that began with the gold and myrrh and incense of the Wise Men, just as the evergreen Christmas tree represents the message of the Christ Child, the emperishable of life eternal.

"Merry Christmas" we say again and with the words we seek to share our reverent homage of the age-old story our joy in ever-present blessing.

"For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

Unenforceable Regulations

THE Canada pension plan, with more merits than demerits in its favor, has some unfortunate regulations which are unenforceable The pension plan comes into force on January 1, 1966, and will overnight create a vast new army of employers people who until now have never thought of themselves as that.

As the Financial Post points out, the largest group of "new employers" will be homeowners who have domestic help on a part-time basis Housewives who take the help on a casual basis once or twice a week, are employers — by law — to take over Canada pension plan bookwork of that part-time help, at any time in the year, exceeds $11.94.

A housewife — whether at home or on the farm — which employs cleaning women gardeners, cooks baby sitters or any of a host of non-resident helpers, and pays any one of them more than $11.94 per week, will have to make the CPP deductions and remit to Ottawa.

Thus in an effort to make the pension plan cover all wage-earners in Canada, the government (bureaucratic section) has gone overboard The move cost of inquiring and investigating pension plan deductions of wages for casual help would be staggering, if indeed it is possible Certainly, the pension plan means from such sources will never meet the cost of inspection

The government should seriously remember whether unenforceable regulations such as these are a worthwhile addition to pension plan legislation.

Stand Up To be Counted

IN retrospect, the biggest thing now in what must be considered Canada's most tumultuous general election is Tommy Douglas and his left wing New Democrats.

Having gained four seats and a considerable increase in the popular vote, the NDP more than ever believe will be able to influence Liberal government thinking

Even without their new found strength, the socialists did pretty well as the Liberal policies became more and more socialistic in their legislation during the past two years.

But in the next sitting of the house of commons, left-wing influence may exert even greater pressure as the NDP might prove to be the pivotal force which grants parliamentary power to the Liberals.

The only effective counter to this socialistic trend must come from outside parliament. It must come from those members of the Canadian public who realize how today's standards of living were developed and are not afraid to express their opinions It must come from those who have seen that private initiative is a much more productive force than governmental control.

GREEN ACRES

By District Agricultural Worker McNary

Heavy Clover

The soil in the main Christmas tree belt with the boys and I have spent in the Lacombe district They have been very pleasant years and I sincerely hope to see them at Alberta where the farm families are so pleasant to work with.

On behalf of the whole family, I take this opportunity to wish you all a very merry Christmas.

Time Set By Counting

It appears that the farmers in the district who have a cow-calf operation should invest quite all possible ways of producing every head per cow they are going to stay in business With this in mind, I feel that the balanced information supplied by Dr. S. B. Slen, head of the animal science section at the Lethbridge research station, should be of interest.

"Understanding as a means of increasing beef production is of great importance to the beef cattle industry. At present the most profitable practice is to market all the first-cross progeny, but first-cross females would be retained as breeding stock. Generally, they have a lower mortality, produce more calves, and live longer than straight-breds.

"When bred to a bull of a third breed, they will produce progeny that are superior to straight-breds and straight-cross. The practice of three-breed crossing has not yet become widespread mainly because knowledge of breeding on the most suitable breeds to use and where are not available to interested producers of the stock in the district.

In one of this an extensive cross-breeding program has been undertaken by the Lethbridge research station in co-operation with Bryce Stringam of the Three Waving Starks Ranch Limited at Duchess.

"In this program we will compare the performance of the first-cross females with their two parent breeds and with the best pure-bred herds in the area. Initially three breed crosses of Shorthorn-Angus-Hereford, Shorthorn-Angus-Charolais, Shorthorn-Hereford-Charolais and Angus-Hereford-Charolais females will be produced under range conditions.

Because not all cow-calf owners maintain a unit, the project leaders have begun and what success has so far been made in the area will be the subject of questions to growers later.

The foundation herd consists of Hereford, Angus and Hereford females, which will be bred to bred records of performance tested bulls The same breeds of bulls are Hereford, Angus, Shorthorn, Charolais, Santa Gertrudis, Brahman, Brown Swiss, Simmental and Jersey.

From the first conditioning we will obtain 21 groups of straight-cross, three-way cross and reciprocal cross weaning weight, feedlot performance and carcass quality. The comparisons will show the benefit of the crossing. If you bred, will be used as comparisons Purebred Angus and Charolais will be tested their weaning weight, performance and carcass merit. Purchases cannot be made.

The first completed cross will be born in the beginning of June. After that we can expect to have a yearly crop of calves descended on the basis of crossbreeding.

Merry Christmas Traditions Come From Germany

From Christmas trees to Christmas lore, makes Christmas customs now universally revered came first from Germany.

In the ecclesiastical hymn of Nuremberg, the height of the Christmas season is the "Christ-child market" or Christkindlmarkt.

The Christ Child or Christ Child is the gift giver and the culmination of the fair on Christmas Eve is a visit by the Christ Child to the homes of the town's children. The Frauenkirche Choir of group standing by the children precede this event.

ALBERTA JUNIOR CITIZEN OF THE YEAR
BULLETIN:
DIDSBURY GIRL HONORED FOR ENTERPRISE AND COURAGE

Fifteen-year old Fay Johnston has had complete charge of her home since her mother died four years ago. Ever since she was eleven, she has made a home for her father and brother — and intends to keep on doing so. She has learned to learn all the shopping, cooking, baking and a multitude of other household chores.

Undaunted by this great responsibility, Fay has kept her five horses. She exercises, grooms and trains them for entry in various horse shows.

In addition to all this, Fay is active in community affairs. She is a member of the Didsbury Light Horse Association and Wolfcott Hi-C Group, and in 1964 was chosen Rodeo Queen of the Didsbury Lions Rodeo.

We congratulate Fay. Our thanks to Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active co-operation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

This is one of a series of Junior Citizen Award announcements. Our special thanks to Mrs. James Dunda, Editor of the Didsbury Pioneer.

From Premier E. C. Manning

I am grateful to this opportunity to once more extend warm and sincere greetings for a very happy Christmas to each and every citizen of Alberta.

On the annual festive occasion we appreciate hearts and hearts to greet ones and friends and the members of fellowship and good will prevail as does the season bring in memories. Always a time of we recognize the many wishes of many fortunate than ourselves. Let us give a present portion to the needful and practice the kindness and thoughtfulness of the spirit and are possible to those who will spend this Christmas under the cloud of sickness, sorrow or what have you.

We also welcoming the birthday of Jesus Christ that may help and bring to all a measure of peace, goodwill and happiness. Let us remember that the message of a babe Lowly circumstances in the Bethlehem manger is as full of hope and inspiration for those of other nations as it was for the people of Judea.

Lasting accomplishments and the world progress in the spirit of Christmas day. Hate and war and evil must cease to prevail. Because else has written:

Malice cannot conquer
Nor all misunderstood
There are days the worst that on him is the master of the good
But at Christmas kindness rules has and he puts himself aside,
All his petty hates are vanquished and his heart is open wide
Oh I don't know how to say it but somehow it seems to me
That at Christmas man is almost what God sent him here to be."

Love, then, is the real miracle of Christmas and its setting it in the Christian family

It is only as the spirit of love known to us that we can radiate in our churches, our nations and the world community. Then we can sing "Peace on earth, good will to men."

The Lacombe and district

PREMIER E. C. MANNING

The Hon. Percy Page, Lieutenant-Governor

Memories of former Christmas are an added contribution to the joy of the present season. Christmas is the time for renewing friendships and for strengthening the ties that bind. This spirit of renewal brings memories of Christmas past and the hope of Christmas future. Unless I am greatly mistaken, Christmas is a time of gathering together of family and friends and of renewing old acquaintances. Let us remember that we are not alone in the world. We are all members of one family and we should be thankful for the opportunity of meeting with our loved ones and friends at this time of the year.

Turkey Talk

With Christmas only a week away everyone is concerned with the menu in preparations. Because turkey will be on many Christmas dinner menus, the following information may be useful.

How To Estimate Quantity Required: For roasting or boiling allow ¾ to ¾ pound pre-stuffed whole; half as much for turkey per serving raw per person, some like more.

How To Thaw Frozen Turkey: Thawing may be speeded up by placing bird in lukewarm (not hot) water. Allow about hour per pound to thaw. A more slow method is to thaw in the body or neck cavity if giblets or poultry are used. Or as soon as thawed cover loosely, store in refrigerator for 1 or 2 days.

How To Prepare Turkey: Wash if necessary. Examine body cavity for bits of lung, windpipe etc. Wipe turkey with clean damp cloth or rub under cold running water. Rub inside cavity with salt, pepper, if desired.

To stuff and truss: Sprinkle body cavity generously with salt. Fill neck cavity with dressing to give natural appearance. Fasten neck skin over back with skewer or by folding wing tips over back. Fill body cavity loose but firmly, using less over opening and winding string around ends of drumstick and tail. To measure, fill body cavity for "loose" type, arrange in pan.

To Roast Whole Turkey: Thawing turkeys of any size from small to mammoth may be roasted whole indoor or quartered. Place bird on rack in shallow open roaster. Cover turkey as usual enough to turn over once or twice during the last portion of roasting. Cooking breast down helps to keep breast meat moist.

Cover with double thickness of cheesecloth dipped in melted fat or cover with aluminum foil left loose at either but basted or under foil at either end to allow for browning. Baste frequently with pan drippings or a dressing of fat and water. If turkey has been covered with aluminum foil remove foil during the last half hour and baste with fat drippings.

Roasting means an uncovered (unless breast covered) pan in a moderate oven.

Many homemakers have been using the oven cooking bag to brown a ginger bag in which to roast the turkey for them. It is a satisfactory method of roasting as well. This practice may still be followed. However, the poultry producers insist that warm air circulating in the bag or transfer of germs from raw to cooked vegetables and fruits carried in it may cause contamination when the bag is used and heated. It is thought the contamination may be from these foods when raw.

Proper cooking is an important factor in turning out that perfect turkey. Remember! The shape and temperature of the oven can cause a tenderer or tougher bird when cooking time. When turkey is cooked at a low temperature (300°) and roasting time 30 minutes ahead of schedule is used, some of the bird's juices will be retained. The meat will be juicier and more tender.

Allowing bird hence cooled at room temperature for 20 to 30 minutes before serving may be more satisfactory for handling and carving.

To Judge When Poultry Is Cooked: Press fleshy parts of drumstick between pot holders or paper towel protected fingers. If tender or soft, bird is done. Or test with fork. If fork goes in easily, bird is done.

If meat thermometer is used insert in middle of thick fleshy part of turkey, but not touching bone.

Thank You, All!

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the people who supported me in the Council Election.

A special thank-you to the man who signed my nomination paper and gave me my vote on my behalf.

I hope I can prove worthy of your support.

Attendance Good at Activities at Clive

CLIVE — Quite a number of Clive and district people attended the funeral of the late W. Rosman at Lacombe.

The sentiment has given everyone a very nice Christmas gift with free weather during most of December. This has made for good attendance at all activities such as Christmas concerts, carol services and Santa's visit at the kiddies hall on Saturday.

J. B. Harrow was in charge of the Treasury Branch and in his absence Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Senecal are looking after it.

Santa Claus visited at the Legion hall last Saturday.

Mrs. Harrower is assisting at the post office in Clive during the Christmas rush.

Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Harrower and family of Red Deer will spend Christmas with the latter of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Harrow.

Notes for The Globe will be somewhat difficult to get in on time during the holiday season, as all business passes will be closed from Saturday until Tuesday. Items may be given in by mail on Saturdays and the rest is quickly phoned in on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harrow were week end visitors to Edmonton, guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Fawcett.

Thursday evening a night p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend.

I would like to take this opportunity to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and happy new year. The Chatelaine club has appreciated your co-operation with the column.

Christmas Gift - Giving Goes Back to Early Roman Days

"Christmas is getting too commercial!"

The modern complaint while it may have force is somewhat lacking in originality. I hate the crafty arts of giving presents," said the wit to Roman poet Martial a thousand and twelve years ago AD. "Gifts are like books."

His complaint was expressed in a series of poems written for a wealthy patron, at the time of the Saturnalia, the pagan festival from which came many Christmas customs.

Martial, however, was not always averse to presents. After telling a large number of small gifts such as toothpicks, figs, napkins, which had been delivered to him, he pointed out that it would have been much easier for the messenger to bring him "five pounds of silver plate."

"Merry Christmas..."

EDITORIAL

The Year in Review

THE year 1965 has not dealt unkindly with the residents of the town of Lacombe and district. There have been no disastrous events in the field of education or industry, and generally speaking we have been fortunate in the matter of health in the town.

Agriculture is the business of our community, and while 1965 was a good average year on the crops and livestock side, it showed a definite pattern. A wet spring gave way to a wet summer, and although September weather threatened to completely spoil the harvest, in the end we were favored with an October which made the best of a bad situation. The prices have also been satisfactory to the year comes to a close, with the exception of rapeseed stable.

The question of over-confidence seems are nowhere more noticeable than at this health fund drive. Settlement of claims, and more modern facilities in all areas hospital, they also demonstrate a need for a new hospital. The problem of nursing home care for Lacombe and district will certainly not be solved by the opening of the Lacombe Nursing Home. Indeed, the demand for beds at Ponoka is February

The last item of this century is that, after a full 13 months, there has been no action, nor any public announcement of action in the near future. With such inertia in the provincial government of health, there will have to be a great spirit of aggressiveness shown by local citizens. The problem of nursing home care for Lacombe and district will certainly not be solved by the opening of the Lacombe Nursing Home. Indeed, the demand for beds at Ponoka is February

Fearless Forecasts For 1966

THE year end is a traditional time for reflection of events of the past twelve months, and a time for speculation and anticipation in the coming year. With this determination in mind, The Globe makes its fearless predictions for 1966:

- The remainder of the town of Lacombe will survey all animals and outbreaks clear of dogs, and there will be no public outcry against these actions.
- The provincial government will announce the long-awaited plans for a hospital here. The present hospital will be renovated to provide first nursing home facilities, and a handsome new 50-bed active hospital will be completed by the end of 1966.
- Perfect growing weather brightens the hearts of farmers. Market prices rise to $45.00 for choice steers, hog prices continue to climb, and a Canadian reciprocity trade agreement with Japan drops the price of farm equipment by 50%.
- The Red Deer chamber of commerce will invite a letter to the Lacombe and district board of trade and plaintively request cooperation to stop Red Deer residents from shopping in Lacombe.
- The provincial government will announce plans for its new building in Lacombe, and the necessary new structure will be started as soon as frost is out of the ground.
- Bids for the new composite vocational-academic high school here will be $300,000 lower than estimated, and the contractor guarantees completion of the entire building by August 31.
- Federal funds are offered to central Alberta counties to pipe water from the Saskatchewan River to Quill Lake. The area will now

Jan The Chairman of The Board

Women's organizations seem to have a common problem — how do we get more women in the community to join your group, particularly younger women? I wonder if part of the problem isn't a lack of goals in meetings.

A few years ago, women joined organizations simply for a chance to visit with their neighbors over a while the day tomorrows provides company and many interesting programs for homemakers and many women no longer feel in their element or at ease if not sitting through a club.

With our pace of living today, many homemakers feel their time is too valuable to be spent at meetings of women's organizations This is especially true if the groups do not offer a stimulating afternoon

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved Daddy, who passed away one year ago, Jan. 5, 1965.
Our Daddy's gone from us,
Gone from our home,
Gone from our hearts,
Gone from our sight,
But not from our memory,
Or in a home that is homeless and broken.
Sadly missed by Mom, Dad, Sophie, Ben and Mildred.

Rockets Edged In Close Contest

Lacombe Rockets have now lost 10 games in the Alberta Junior hockey league, bringing total of their loses to seven games.

They have didn't shake off the habit even though it is now past a disgusting smelling two-goal decision by 6-5 to the Chevvies at Red Deer on Saturday afternoon.

A city holiday crowd of 1,500 watched the see-saw tussle, as Rockets came up behind a two-goal defeat to go into the final 20 minute session, but they couldn't hold the lead Chevvies amassed never before the fastest rushed and the third session was over-powering.

It was one of Rockets' best efforts of the campaign, and spells better days ahead.

Three Downey Bears, Gord Downey, Dave Downey and Ron Downey, were the leads. Ted Demchuk with two, and Bill McCulley and Ald Cameron paced the Chevvies.

Last night's scheduled Edmonton-at-Lacombe league encounter was postponed due to the cold weather.

Thursday, Drumheller at Red Deer; Friday, Lacombe at Edmonton; Saturday, Edmonton at Bentley; Sunday, Red Deer at Drumheller.

PUCK IN FRACE—Young Lacombe homefrow Frank Pelechowski (6) gets first goal on a rocket to give bench a 3-2 lead in the late game of the game at Red Deer in Rockets' 6-5 loss to Chevvies on Saturday.

Jets Stretch Win Streak in Broomball

Lacombe Jets widened their lead atop the local broomball league as they stopped the second-place Apostles 6-4 on one of two games played at rubber stadium last Wednesday.

Jets opened the scoring when Ralph Ess banged home a pass from Hans Spolt. It didn't take the Apostles long to tie the game as Steve Klan swung from close in.

Jets once again forged ahead on goals by Bill Marquardt and Hans Spolt, but Apostles came back strong to tie the game 3-3 on goals by Lawrence Cousineau and Bob Hosking.

With only three minutes remaining, Bill Ess was left unprotected in front of the net, and he made no mistake after taking a pass from Jets' defensive stalwart Gwynne Watts.

The winning Bears kept their unbeatable record, succumbing to Lincoln 3-0. Bears are having little difficulty with the common opponents on defence and Goal-getters for Lincoln were Ken Ewtre, Claude Dirstu and Terry Ross.

Tonight's games are cancelled due to the cold.

By Terry Jones

No doubt, you read Mr. Jim Church's letter to the editor last week and week's sport.

Although I wasn't actually mentioned by the way in which the letter was written, I do agree with one of Mr. Church's statements, that I would see a recreation director in this town.

When committees of the town get some school time, they are unable to get the job done, it is a well-known story of Lacombe oldest city more salary to it's payroll in order to do the job properly.

In answer, Mr. Church quoted that by and his committee couldn't handle the growing number of participants in minor sports, organizations such as the Lacombe senior Bombers are unable.

I request Mr. Church's opinion on this matter as he is the only hundred of hockey on almost all of the minor sport organizations in this district.

Why hasn't a town this one [illegible]

another helper?

Simply because things appeared at first glance to be in good order.

But it not been for our community minded citizens and hundreds help of our service clubs, the situation would have been much worse than it is today.

Penhold and Bentley fared extremely well after adopting a recreation director and hiring one.

Lacombe is the only town in the district without one.

Although I have no statistics to back me up, I am sure that Lacombe has the largest number of participants in minor sports, organizations such as the Lacombe senior Bombers are unable.

I request Mr. Church's opinion on this matter as he is the only hundred of hockey on almost all of the minor sport organizations in this district.

Why hasn't a town this one [illegible]

introducing . . . Our School Principals

Miss MARGARET WISH
Vice Principal
Grades 1, 2, 3 - Belvedie

Mrs. Winn, who has been principal of the school several years, is a native of Drumheller, and received all her early schooling there.

She attended the University of Alberta (Calgary) and took two years toward her degree in the faculty of education. She taught at Drumheller for two years, before she left the profession.

Mrs. Winn returned to the teaching field in 1955 — at Bellville — and has continued there since her husband John, died in 1958.

She is still working toward her university degree, and has taken summer courses at the university in Calgary in 1962 and 1963 — leaving only a thesis to obtain her degree.

As vice-principal of the primary school, Mrs. Winn supervises instruction in one-room classes, as well as Bellville grade two students on a full-time basis.

At the present time she is finding two of her pupils a particularly interesting challenge. They are two Norwegian girls, who did not speak English at the start of the term.

"They are getting along fine," she reports with satisfaction, and the rest of the pupils are exceedingly good to both of them."

Mrs. Winn hopes to continue with summer school courses to obtain her full degree.

She has two children: Bishop 13, and Judy 9.

New Farm Gate Signs Arrive

Balance of farm gate name plates has now been received, Lacombe board of trade secretary-manager Roy Sturgeon told The Globe this week.

There are about 125 plates in the order, which covers all farmers in the district whose name plates were not previously received.

"Now that these have arrived, we would certainly appreciate to the co-operation of the farmers in picking them up", the McCabe Grain Co. official here's Mr Sturgeon stated.

Delivery of these plates by board of trade members "would be quite a job," Mr Sturgeon stated, "since the farms for which they are intended are scattered throughout the entire area."

Agricultural Outlook Good

THE federal department of agriculture this week released its views on the 1965 situation in agriculture, with an outlook more than likely of its being the most encouraging reading there are currently.

Reporters from field crops, during 1964, were unanimous at the end of the season in their claims that production was down, especially for livestock and livestock products and many have put a large part of the with cattle marketings up about 20%, and a sharp increase in hog prices.

Total farm cash income increase in 1965 as a result, is expected to be around 5%, and the increase in net farm income is expected to be the largest since the increase had be long. Gains in total cash receipts is believed to have more than offset the rise in wage rates, interest, and total net income of agricultural products.

Farm wages each increased by 4% to $1.40 per hour.

Department officials say optimistic that the trend in 1965. They expect Canadians to get at wheat and flour to remain at last month's level in the 1965 year. Meat product that consumption may be a bit down from 1964 levels, and prices prices are expected to hold.

Dairy shortages and prices are not expected to vary much during the new year, and there is expected to be increase in both cattle and prices for dairy products.

There is, indeed, a more optimistic look at the future of agriculture economy. While the total net is based on only a few provinces and not all farm products are yet in, the results point to residents of this area for a truly prosperous new year.

The Pension Plan Starts

THIS week, Canada's labour force will commence to feel payments into the Canadian pension plan fund. The combined employer-employee contribution is at the rate of 3.6 per cent on the first $5,500 of earnings, and this coming year will determine just how much this compulsory withdrawal of money from circulation will affect the economy.

There are many who say that it will increase the cost of living by as much as 3%. There are others who say the contributions form a hedge against ever-growing inflation, and will therefore keep down the cost of living. Between these two extremes lies the truth, as there are people.

In any event, Canada's most ambitious welfare program is now underway. There are numerous anomalies in the present plan regulations, there are injustices in payments, there are many regulations which will be changed, no doubt.

But for better or worse, this country has embarked on its most comprehensive social insurance measure yet. What looming year should provide everyone with an opportunity to view its ramifications.

"Bugging" The Soviet Embassy

A NEWS item from Ottawa last week reported that the occupants of the newest embassy complained that their premises had been "bugged" — presumably for espionage purposes.

Prime Minister Lester Pearson replied that the report was "nonsense" and implied that Canadians should wake up to the fact that human leaks to Canada as a happy hunting ground for industrial spies.

A diary by a convicted Russian spy — since believed "liquidated" in Russia has been recently published in London. In that diary is this paragraph:

"We Russians remember Canada to be representative of the highly developed technologies of Australia and Britain. It is relatively difficult to steal secrets in the U.S. and Britain, but in Canada, in many cases, it is easier to get industrial data. Also, it is much easier to get entry visas to Canada for various Soviet delegations."

Britain and the United States have long insisted that Canadians are far too lenient in spreading information. As one example, an assignment of agents from the Soviet were told to get the formula of a special glue that is used to fix artificial fur to its cloth backing — a product that apparently had limited elements in the Soviet.

There is no reciprocity from Russia on the dissemination of secrets, as results from their research outline. They work on the basis that what is theirs is secret, what is ours they hope to steal.

For it must be remembered that spying is much changed from its heyday. If Canadian companies — or the Canadian government — signed millions in diverting some certain material or process, it is your business on our part to let the Russians to obtain those secrets by spending only a few thousand dollars on an industrial espionage ring.

Say the Soviet embassy? Maybe we should!

Reflections of the Times . .

"I'm not very smart yet, but I'm smart enough to see what you are doing to the country and which I must fight up and support my family.

When I do that well I be allowed to be myself, or will I be a social security member in a government file? When I get sick, should I have to go to my doctor or the government dentist.

Where I go to school, who is going to decide what I study, my teacher and father or a government bureau? Where I am able to afford a house will I be able to find it or just get a permit to make it and if so, a government approved one? Will I be able to work in any part of the country I wish?

When I get old, will I be able to live with my own family or will I have to live in a government home? Will I be able to leave my money to my children or will it go to the government?

And what's the idea of [illegible] I'll have to ask the government for permission to marry? And what's the idea of [illegible] I'll get a work permit?

What makes you think it would be best for me to have to make my way in competition with others?

"If I work a little harder, or better, or get lucky will I be able to keep any more of what I earn than the other fellow who didn't work as hard, or as well, or get as lucky?

Where did you get the cockeyed idea that the most who earns more so much should be taxed four times as much I earn where you get it Right out of Marx.

Where did you get the idea that government can take care of everybody when it hasn't the money to do it? You can simply build a house, you will have to borrow it from the government and you cannot borrow any part of what you earned.

And what's the idea of [illegible] you can't even move from one city to another without permission?

And that's exactly what is happening when you vote yourself security, by giving the government more and more so the government can give you some of it back."

Teachers In Short Supply

Dr T E Giles, superintendent of schools for the county of Lacombe, penned a picture of a grim teacher shortage for county schools next year, as he gave his report to the county council meeting on Wednesday.

He reported that three teachers had been hired to fill vacancies, one at Bentley, one at Bricville L. E. Thornton at Buttermere and Dr J Mennie at Alix. At the present time, he noted, "we have a complete teaching staff with no vacancies."

The superintendent then stated that he wished to start advertising now for teachers to fill vacancies for next year. "I broke my thumb if will an tougher than ever to get teachers," he said. "Calgary needs 300 teachers, Edmonton needs 200 of more, and this will also almost the entire graduating class from the faculties of education at both universities"

He expects to start interviewing teacher prospects in Calgary and in Edmonton later this month and in February. "Having a going to have to start now for this year", he remarked.

The school superintendent told of a wide variety of duties during their day-long meeting, some of the matters dealt with:

☐ Confirmed monthly rental of $40 per month for use of the Mirror skating rink by Mirror school students.

☐ Accepted recommendation of trustee Eli Brooks that the town of Lacombe be paid $100 per month for use of the stadium by school boys and children for the school noon hour.

☐ Agreed to pay $100 per month for the use of the Lacombe Memorial Centre by the Lacombe Collegiate Institute for the duration of the present school year.

☐ Mrs Chester Miller brought up the need for an extension to the Bentley section of the rectory school. This is presently the most overcrowded one, she said, and "need it is badly needy dark". School committee is investigating.

☐ Hans Moen brought up the need for an outside light at Bricville, between the church and the school. This will be looked into and checked

A reading institute will be held for teachers of grades four, five and six, at Lacombe, on February 7 and 8, it was reported by superintendent Giles

County 4-H Banquet Here January 26

County 4-H banquet will be held at the Lacombe memorial centre on Wednesday, January 26, it was announced by the board of trade president David Badger at last week's meeting of council.

This is the annual get-together for 4-H club members in the district, together with businessmen who act as sponsors, and other guests. Some 225 persons attended last year's function Here details will be available next week.

Uniform Hours?

Lacombe board of trade agreed to do some exploration work in the matter of uniform week hours in central Alberta.

In view of recent provincial government regulations limiting the number of work hours each week, the local group thought there would be some advantage in working toward uniform store hours for all people in central Alberta from Alix to Bentley and Rimbey, including Red Deer and Innisfail.

A meeting of other chambers will be arranged, if possible.

Christmas Decorations

While efforts to improve Christmas decorations will cover two bids for the last season, the board of trade agreed with

"School Holiday" For County Pupils February 10 and 11

Annual teachers' convention will be held on Thursday and Friday, February 10 and 11, it was reported at the county school committee held yesterday.

Classrooms throughout the county will be closed on these two days, and pupils with an eye on extra two-day "holiday"

The Story of a Cat . . . . Back "Home"

This is the story about the cat that walked 27 miles to "go home."

When the George Sayers family moved to Lacombe last April from their farm in the Rumberford district, north of Trax, they brought along their black cat, age four

The cat apparently didn't like town life because it disappeared a few weeks later and to where the family didn't know.

Then it, until last week when Mr. and Mrs. Sayers visited the Rumberford district, and the family met Mr. Sayers on the farm.

You guessed it — there was their cat, Tenglish, and there was no doubting the immediate horseness of the fuss welcome given by the kitten.

The Sayers rode their cat, and they'll know it as the time, "When it came to all that it never really got a chance to start."

Jhought for the week.

Our greatest glory is not in never failing, but in rising every time we fall.

98.3% of Town Taxes Collected

Christmas Tree Bonfire Planned

Educational Christmas ... will provide fuel for a municipal bonfire to be held on the Glendale Trailer Park later this month.

Councillor Gordon Smith reported at town council meeting on Monday that the town town of Lacombe town persons to push up old Christmas trees for the bonfire. "They've gathered up about 100 of them so far," he reported, "but want to spread another issue of newsletter to attain the quantity they desire."

He added that any householders could hand the trees to the bonfire party if he so desired.

Second day of the gigantic "burn" has not yet been set.

40 Appeals Against Assessment

How long does it take to hear a complaint against land assessment?

Two councillors, faced with 40 appeals against the new general assessment, wrestled with the question Monday afternoon.

It was finally decided to change that date for the court of revision (to hear complaints against assessment) to Wednesday, February 2, and to start hearing complaints at 2:00 p.m. Mr Lacey said that this time schedule could be beaten and that many complaints from other areas could be settled out of court. Board of revision members for this year W. H. Jackson, H. Hierlehi, Gordon Smith, Paul Alberg, Henry Salmonson.

Study Details For New Composite High

Plans for the new composite high school at Lacombe are now being completed and it is expected that tenders for the new building will be called for "around the end of this month."

This information was advanced on the new school was given by school superintendent Dr. E. Giles at the county school committee meeting yesterday.

Many details in connection with the school were discussed by the committee members, in order to make sure all needs are fulfilled in the architects' plans. Among the matters discussed:

☐ Present plans call for a ... [illegible] ... sewer to be installed from the school to an outlet on county property about one foot north. The alternative is to connect with the town's town storm sewer line about 600 feet to the east, and it was reported that tenders for the sewer ditch would be called for separately.

Little Damage In House Fire Wednesday

Volunteer firemen were called out last Wednesday about 2:00 p.m. when Mrs. Walter Bulanek discovered fire in the residence she occupies in 39 avenue.

The landlord, J. Will, had thawed out some frozen water pipes with a blow torch during the afternoon, and apparently some sparks had ignited shavings. These smouldered slowly throughout the late afternoon.

Mrs. Bulanek told The Globe, "I kept smelling smoke all afternoon and evening, but thought it was just a case of the house being overheated."

"Finally, I called Mr. Bevenough [sic], next door to see if he could detect anything, and he called the fire department."

Fire chief Colin Dalrymple and his crew quickly tossed down the source of the smoke.

"It could have been a bad fire," Mr. Dalrymple said. "But it was easy to put out because it never really got a chance to start."

Council Reviews Town's Financial Position at Monday Night Meeting

Town councillors Monday evening expressed general satisfaction with the town's financial position, as they studied the regular monthly statement from Secretary Dan Dow.

"It looks right now as if we will end up the year with a nice surplus," observed acting mayor Don Dow, who presided at the meeting in the absence of Mayor Jackson.

Various department budgets and expenditures were studied briefly, although secretary-treasurer Frank Lacey pointed out that many of the surpluses would not show in the monthly statement would disappear [illegible] payment of December revenue.

"Actually," he noted, "we won't know for sure how we stand on our 1945 financial position until auditor comes up the collected [illegible] statement for the year."

The audit is expected to be completed within the next few days.

The secretary reported that a town-owned trust company certificate for $11,500 matures this month, and that a further $2,000 interest could be added to this sum for re-investment for another year.

This sum is part of the special building reserve fund to be used at some future date for construction of a new town office (Over the past five years the town has set aside, and invested, $40,000 to this fund).

It was agreed by council to re-invest $15,500 in trust companies for another year, at an interest rate of 2½ %.

"The Path to God's Heart Is Through His Son"

"No Place Like Home," Says Burglar Bill

If you took the advice of Burglar Bill, you'd keep all your valuables at home. Under the mattress, maybe. Or in that old teapot which lost its spout.

But Bill's advice isn't entirely objective.

If you leave your valuables at home — even in a "safe hiding place" — he stands a good chance of getting his hands on them.

Much better advice comes from Bob Conner, manager of the Lacombe branch of the Bank of Montreal. "Every of your valuables really safe is a B of M safety deposit box," says Mr Conner "Your personal strong box, conveniently yours, costs less than two cents a day, and it pays for itself over and over again in peace of mind alone" he adds

Hundreds of thousands of Canadians use B of M safety deposit box facilities. Their valuables — cash, bonds, stock certificates, insurance policies, deeds, birth certificates, jewellery and other valuables of all kinds — are safe and sound behind the steel doors of B of M vaults.

Forget what Burglar Bill says. Mr Conner says, "Clean out those closets, drawers — and lockers, too. Bring your valuables into the bank instead."

(by Terry Jones)

The first ball was tossed up Tuesday evening in four centers, signifying the opening of the central Alberta high school basketball league season

Our league champion and junior girls under the direction of coach, Mrs. Ruby Henderson perched up where they left off last year by edging Didsbury 32-24.

Our boys also pished up where they left off last year downing 36-24.

Prior to the openers, I had the pleasure of talking with all 13 coaches in the league

Although a few of Friday's games don't quite agree, here are my bold predictions (and they are bold, for I have to live with these two Lacombe clubs all year)

BOYS

Stettler (First) . . . everyone's back except their manager.

Red Deer (second) . . . always tough to handle.

Rimbey (third) . . . average team.

Delburne (fourth) . . . lost league's top two scorers.

Innisfail (fifth) . . . just strictly a rebuilding year.

Innisfail (sixth) . . . lost fair chunk of first string.

Lacombe (seventh) . . . loads of rookies. Next year! (maybe)

Penoka (eighth) . . . even less than last year.

GIRLS

Red Deer (first) . . . league's top scorer and top playmaster from Lacombe.

Penoka (second) . . . could go all the way with the right breaks.

Rimbey (third) . . . strength lies in their shooting.

Delburne (fourth) . . . will win more this year than in last three seasons.

Stettler (fifth) . . . in tough division.

Lacombe (sixth) . . . have received 14 miles to the south.

Innisfail (seventh) . . . will gain experience, not points.

St. Thomas (eighth) . . . might win one, if lucky.

Now L.H.S'ers, here's why

Coach Bud Belanger with a pair of goals led Lacombe Rockets to a surprise 8-2 victory over Edmonton Old Kings in a re-scheduled league game at pebble stadium last night before a handful of happy fans

There were only 156 paid admissions at the game, which

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Fred Potter, who passed away January 10, 1965.
We have our loved to see him
But the loving voice is still.
The hands we often clasped in
Are still.
Lost in God's solid shell.
We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone.
For memory is the only thing
That death cannot take away.
The love we cherished for us
Lasting with the blessed years
Gone by.
Sadly missed by wife and family.

SAYING — In loving memory of Pete, who left us suddenly Jan. 7, 1963.
Days and years go swiftly by,
But love and memories never die.
Ever remembered.
— Dad, Mother and family

Contract for the building was let in October for the new $80,000 school unit, and construction work was started before winter set in. Work is held up for the time being because of cold weather and shorter days. Tenders will be called for the new building, which were received before Christmas. — Staff photo

Officially Open New Bentley Rink Jan. 29

The grand opening of Bentley's recently new arena will be officially held on Saturday evening, January 29, preceded by three days of various events. The many activities for the week, coinciding with minor hockey week in Canada, are being arranged by a co-ordinating committee consisting of T. Wilson, L. Hartman, G. Bennett and J. Pattenaude, in cooperation with the Bentley recreation board.

Hockey, basketball and public skating will compose much of the activities. In hockey, teams will play their young sons, oldtimers will match their skill against the high-flying midgets, and the seniors will match youth with the skill of old guys from Calgary and Red Deer.

Confirmation date will take on three energetic daughters in Innisfail.

Although all the details are not to be decided, the committees of all those taking part in the organization of the activities, indicates that an interesting program for all ages will be in store.

The hockey committee stated approached the work of many Bill leaders of the Bentley district when to solicit help, both and served dinner and coffee to all men who helped to build the new stand-in skating rink. It took four weeks to erect.

There is public skating five days out of seven, in the new rink.

The recreation board is employed with the enthusiasm shown by the public. They feel it necessary to purchase a new and coffee maker.

So please turn on your Holmes coupons at the Bentley Store, and if you have any old dishes and cups or mugs please bring them along before the official opening day or phone 166.

Ski Hill Wins Of Bentley Draws Large Crowds

Ski hill, five miles west of Bentley was a hive of activity last Sunday but about the first time this season.

Large numbers of skiers took advantage of the return to milder weather to flock to the slopes under good snow conditions. The ski tow was in operation.

The club's name has been changed to the Mesdevne Valley ski club, but it still encourages membership from the Lacombe - Bentley - Penhola clubs

More Emphasis On Education

THE [illegible] will mark a turning point in history as the decade during which Canadians insisted on being provided with the need for economic Heat to avoid wasting more of their big but misplaced hours and passions. Our youth can use lasting favor, our industry are all being pushed to a higher degree of efficiency by extreme hours search and it.

Latest in a long series of reports aimed at stress the importance of [illegible] better education for Canadians is the 70,000-word report released last week by the Association of Council of Canada. The 32-member council is made up of both management and labour representatives, and in an unprecedented advisory board set up by the federal government 30 months ago.

While the report wanders across the whole spectrum of Canada's economy it comes back repeatedly to education. Some of its conclusions on this topic:

Is productivity the most important factor in our business resources, and we can best invest in these through education, training and training are fundamental to the whole future of Canada.

For many years Canadians left school to join the labour force with less education than in any other. They can now is being narrowed but it has never on the other hand that Canadian labour force had fewer educational attainments than the American force, and by inference Canadians are less at a disadvantage in competition on the open market.

The numbers of students in [illegible] favored to constantly be extended, and the need immediate.

Ready opportunity for higher education should be provided to every qualified student, without financial barriers.

Funds for research should be substantially increased.

It is rather startling to read such emphasis on education in a report which is basically economic. But the council leaves no doubt in any readers' mind that the future of Canada literally will depend on the future of young Canadians to obtain sufficient skills to meet international competition in the field of production.

The emphasis by the economic council, coming on top of the famous Bladen report which pictured a frightening need for more educational facilities, is bound to affect government thinking.

The Bladen report called for more of everything, more buildings, more teachers, more money from both federal and provincial coffers.

It will be most interesting to see how senior governments are going to meet the challenge of "more" without completely submerging the property owner in smothering taxation.

No Coins To Jingle?

ECONOMISTS have long chided us that the western world is moving toward a "cashless" society. They use as a basis for forecast the phenomenal growth in the use of credit cards and cheques and note that more with good incomes now rarely carry with them large amounts of cash.

But there's an even more jarring note than this An official of the federal reserve system in the United States forecasts that, within the discernible future even credit and credit cards will be old hat.

Computers, they claim, will be used exclusively. The plan sounds quite simple A person would receive a commission cash-credit card which he could present for purchases at a store He presents the card in payment, which would set in motion computer mechanism that would end by deducting the amount of his purchase from the customer s bank account and crediting this sum to the merchant s account.

We are told, further, that the computer will also be used to make out payrolls, crediting the worker, in the bank, with his pay, and deducting therefrom bills lumps like rent, taxes, mortgage payments and the monthly deduction for the family car

We won t even see our pay No more rol of bills to look at and ponder as to the best which they represent Just a cold efficient bank statement with deductions all neatly taken off

Thank goodness there are a few things. She, that will still require money Parking meters will still require a few coins, laundromats can't be operated with a cash-credit card, and it is to be hoped that enough small merchants and businessmen will still accept — and pay — in cash, the old fashioned way!

Plan New Hospital For Lacombe

A new 50-bed active hospital is being planned for construction in Lacombe this year.

Hon. A. R. Patrick, provincial MLA and provincial minister of industry and development, told The Globe in a telephone interview yesterday afternoon that the department of health had approved board modifications of the standard government plans for 50-bed hospitals. These modifications offered "no hitch" in plans for hospital construction here, he stated.

J. D. Campbell, head of the hospital a division of the provincial department of health, will meet with local hospital board members today to discuss some of the details of the proposed modifications, and to "talk equipment needs" for the new building.

Detailed working plans for the hospital will be prepared by the architect with a view to accepting bids for construction as soon as possible.

Nursing Home

Mr. Patrick also stated that government authorities had accepted proposals of the county of Lacombe and the town of Lacombe to take over the present active hospital and renovate it completely for use as a nursing home.

No work can be done toward remodelling the present hospital for a nursing home, of course, until the new active hospital is constructed and in operation.

Although site for the new hospital has not been publicly discussed, it is assumed it will be located on town-owned property, immediately south of the present hospital. The town purchased this land (about 5.2 acres) some years ago for hospital purposes.

44-Hour Week Causes Many Changes Here

Numerous business firms in town and district have done considerable changing in work hours — and in many cases, store or business hours — to meet new provincial government regulations which call for a maximum 44-hour work week throughout the province.

The new ruling went into effect on January 1, and reduced the maximum hours of work from a nine-hour day and a 45-hour week to a maximum nine hour day and 44-hour week.

To meet this new regulation, many garages, service shops and the like have started to close at five o'clock in the afternoon (instead of six) or close earlier (or all day) on Saturday.

Retail stores in Lacombe have not changed their operating hours, but counters have been formed to engage hours for their staffs in order to keep individual's work-week to the 44-hour maximum.

The new regulations are an extension of the 44 hour week to work which first became mandatory in 1962 in the cities of Edmonton Calgary, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat in 1961 the work week maximum was extended to all cities, towns and villages having a population of over 1,000. In the regulation is mandatory on all centres throughout the province.

There are some exceptions made to the hours-of-work-per-week in such jobs as physical exploration, oil well servicing, highway construction, saw mills and day labor camps.

New Veterinary Clinic Opens This Week

A new service is being offered to stock owners of the Lacombe district with the opening this week of the Lacombe Veterinary Clinic by Ross Watson, DVM and R. V. Burt, DVM.

The new $10,000 building, located half a block north of the Lacombe Auction Mart, will provide clinical care for livestock.

"We hope it will give better service to for-users of the area," Dr. Watson told The Globe Monday. "If they have a sick or ailing calf or pig, they can just run it into us at the clinic for attention, and save travelling charges."

Lions Club Pancake Day February 22

Lacombe Lions will hold their annual "pancake day" at the Lacombe municipal centre on Shrove Tuesday — February 22.

At the regular service club meeting held Monday evening, Lions Bus Brown, Wes Jackson, Fred Stewart and Bill Douglas were appointed by president Alex Martin to arrange the event.

It was stated that it was one of the most damaging intersection accidents to occur in Lacombe in many years.

$3,000 Damage As Cars Collide At Intersection

An estimated $3,000 damage was caused to three cars at 2.55 a.m. on January 16 when a collision occurred at the corner of 49 street and 54 avenue.

In collision were cars driven by Kenneth Ray McArthur of Lacombe and Joseph Robert Parent of Lacombe. A 1961 Buick, owned by Walter Albers and parked near the intersection, was damaged to the extent of $1,200 when one of the cars in collision studded into it heavily.

The 1964 Meteor station wagon driven by Mr. MacArthur received about $1,000 damage and the 1959 Monarch owned by Mr. Parent received damage beyond economic repair.

Local police investigated, and Mr. McArthur has been charged with failure to yield the right of way.

E. Wigmore Dies at Age Of 87 Years

If December 31st proves to control Mrs. Lundie and her education. Several parents re- ated from the lovely dance- son period. A child art ex- ibition is basically the respon- sibility of parents, and should start when the child is ten, of or before.

● The emotional side of art should be stressed to the child as well as the physical.

● The majority of parents were not in favor of teenagers dating before the age of six- teen and felt early dating was a direct result of the pres- vent to take a firm stand to say "No" not only to the child, but also in junior high dances and mixed home parties.

Speaking of Sport . . .

by Terry James

The more we see of the new Lacombe rink we like it. The ice is good, the lighting is fine and the ... are comfortable.

The impression one tends to get on the eve of a hockey game in this town is ... Lacombe must be the only town in central Alberta that has many players than spectators at a hockey game on any particular night.

Not that there are an unusually high number of boys in each family in this town, or parents are particularly keen to "take the kids out every now and then" to the movies ... during the ... week.

Why parents can't give up big enough to stretch from goal post to goal post and always get the students supply because no one can raise over ten bucks for a sport is beyond us.

However, I get more of a kick from watching the coach- es than any of the players in the activities. Many of the coaches will give you the line that they are only doing this to help the kids, be a servere to the com- munity or even because they were "roped" into it.

But after 20 seconds of de- tailed observation I have reached the conclusion that they are having more fun than the kids.

Not to sound like Ann Lan- ders, but, don't be a failure as a parent, buy a ticket from your young poacher and take her in the evening. They could do without your buck, but they need you.

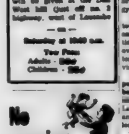
Remind me I.I.B.I.

Don't forget the big all-star game and banquet featuring Canada's number one sprinter Bobbie Pratt, and ex-NHLer Gene Achtymichuk here on Jan. 29.

On Friday night, it was Pon- oka taking two games, 66-32 on the boys' match, and 36-33 in the girls' set-to.

Bob Shubert rounded up 18 points for Eagles, and Bill Little had six. Darlene Dumont and Pat Liddle shared honors for the girls with seven points each.

Lacombe is at Stettler this coming Friday night, and will host St. Thomas from Red Deer on January 28.



No nagging backache!

Callous Acceptance of Deaths

OVER the years, our society has progressed in almost every avenue to the constant toll of lives taken annually on Canadian highways. There is the old "tut-tut" uttered following the reading of a report of tragic results on the highway, but usually of personal grief felt by close relatives and friends of victims there is no visible moving of emotion in everyday life which might lead to a public outcry against the causes slaughter.

Until our society accepts the seriousness of the highway toll and demands personal action from there is little chance for improvement. It is just almost time that all of us stood up and demanded positive authoritative action. A start might be made by points accepted of the four basic steps recommended by the Canadian highway safety council.

The council states that in order to reduce the 1966 highway death toll four corrective actions are required.

- Driving drivers must be trained to drive properly and all of us must accept responsibility for our part. No matter how low a standard we may have set for ourselves, we must be prepared to raise it.
- Vehicles must be kept in safe condition. Each of us must accept responsibility for the safety of our own vehicle.
- Roads must be improved. Each of us must accept responsibility for the safety of our own roads.
- Traffic laws must be enforced. Each of us must accept responsibility for the safety of our own streets.

Acceptance of these four actions would not, by themselves, stop our traffic toll, but they would go a long way toward relieving some of the needless loss which brings tragedy to so many families. Isn't this worth getting steamed up about?

Hidden Taxation

THOSE who speak most vehemently in favor of public ownership of utilities overlook the danger of the "hidden tax" feature which is so often used by governments agencies to augment revenue. Apparently working on the theory that hidden taxes are best because they attract the complaint from an apparent public, publicly-owned utilities rarely speak consumer bills to siphon off funds for other government projects.

When governments operate public utilities, of course, it is only the taxes in the government, and are supposed to operate on a non-profit basis to provide the best service to the people at minimum cost. But there it work out this way?

Take B.C. for instance, where the Social Credit government has taken over the BC Electric and now operate the electrical power and gas distribution systems in Vancouver.

The Vancouver Province recently reprinted copies of gas bills for former Premier Premier George Wenfield, who now lives in Benmore Surrey, B.C.

Mr. Wenfield showed a copy of his gas bill from January 20th. He compared them with his B.C. government bill for 1453 thermal units and $14.62

The Vancouver paper points out that the gas has to travel further to its major market in Vancouver than it does to Penticton but it also notes that in Seattle, Wash., which is 150 miles farther from the gas supply than is Vancouver, the same Canadian gas sells for $3.50 less than the BC Hydro's rate in its major city.

So, at least, it has the government-owned agency, the BC public is balled two ways. First, because it collects no taxes from the BC Hydro owned, because it pays a higher rate for gas, which can be remembered nothing from them an extra hidden tax.

Bentley Residents Attend Funeral for E. Chowen

BENTLEY — Mr and Mrs. Harold Petersen left on Friday for the plane to attend the funeral of Edwin Chowen, who passed away suddenly on January 20 at Langley Prairie at the Regal Columbia hospital in New Westminster B.C.

Mrs Chowen was born in Norwich, England, on January 7 1906 and came to Bentley in 1928. He was married to Miss Norma Mae Petersen on 1929

They lived in the Bentley district until June of 1957 when they moved to Mission City B.C.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, two brothers, Mrs. Robert (Jane) Bradley of Vancouver, Mrs. Ivy Calgary, and Mrs. Ed of Waste Bank.

There are two sisters, Mrs. Irene Murray in Edmonton and Mrs. Harold Petersen of Bentley Interment took place in Mission, B.C.

A church missionary service was held in the Bentley Pentecostal Tabernacle every night this week at 8:00 p.m. There are two services on Sunday — at 11:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Allan Robertson of Penhold, former residents of the Bentley district on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary Open house will be held at the Byron John nursing rink clubroom on Sunday, Jan 30 from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. Friends and relatives are invited to attend

Personal preferences of a more serious nature which home-makers can search today

According to Marion Allen, Alberta's extension clothing specialist, shortening a dress is the simplest way to update it at a future to get a really stylish appearance It helps keep clothes clean neat by holding down the lazy hemline Lines and help to move dirt and grime The first attention itself to the shortening and to consult with the store during the work

Alterations expert says Mrs. Allen can be made for cures or wheat starches while a plastic starches are made of a synthetic resin Vegetable starches tend to swell with each wash, while plastic starches give a more permanent finish and are usually applied only after several washings

For this reason, care should be taken not to overstarch Another point to remember says Mrs Allenson, is that plastic starches require a lower pressing temperature than vegetable starches

Although liquid starch is used in most commercial laundry starch it is often more convenient to use powder when only a few items are involved Spray starch is the most expensive of all types but is convenient for small areas such as collars and cuffs

Our School Principals

M. Treleaven, resident of Lacombe since 1947, retained his membership in the Lacombe school staff.

He was born in Bottrell, Alberta and has been married for 18 years. He has a wife and two children, a boy and girl.

He left Bottrell to receive a first year teaching certificate at Camrose Normal school. After a year's teaching at Bottrell, he attended Normal school in Edmonton. He then went to Lacombe where he taught for two years.

He was then transferred to Wetaskiwin where he taught for four years. He received his degree in education, "but it was to get a bit more letter on" during the depression.

After teaching at several schools in Lacombe, Treleaven joined the Wetaskiwin staff in 1956. He remained there until 1961 when he left Canada to join the CPR staff in the same city.

"I built my own house in Wetaskiwin," Mr. Treleaven states, "and developed an interest in carpentry work."

So after one year with the CPR, he joined the staff of the Atlas Lumber Co. Ltd. in Wetaskiwin. There he spent two years before he was transferred to Lacombe as manager of the lumber retail outlet here, a position he held until returning to teaching as guidance counsel.

After his decision to return to teaching, Mr. Treleaven took a summer course at University of Saskatchewan, then summer courses each year at Calgary and Edmonton, and finally a year's course at Normal school in Edmonton. He received his degree in education, "but it was to get a bit more letter on" during the depression.

He taught grade six at Lacombe for four years, and was appointed last September to the post of vice-principal at the Clive school where he teaches grades seven and eight in science and mathematics.

He married the former Miss Margaret Bergman at Wetaskiwin, and the couple have four sons. Several who is teaching high school classes at Lacombe Terry, who is employed at Edmonton with Halliburton Oil Co. Richard in his fourth year at university where he is studying computer science, and Allan, an Edmonton with the Alberta research council.

Measles Vaccine To Be Available Soon

● Dr. C. G. Moss medical officer for the Red Deer health unit, told The Globe this week that the measles vaccine will be available soon and that it will be given to children over the three months, to those years age group.

Mrs. J. Dawson Ross, minister of health, has announced that measles vaccine will be available in Alberta in the near future. Alberta's decision follows close upon the heels of the announcement that the federal government will make the vaccine available to provinces at no charge.

Measles vaccine has now been in use in North America and private practice for two and one half years and has been proven to be a safe and effective way of preventing measles.

Contrary to popular belief measles is not just a simple childhood disease but one which can have serious consequences. In 1964 in Alberta nine children died as a result of measles and many others were made seriously ill.

Dr. Ross said that the age group from two months to four years is the group that is most affected by measles. The vaccine does not work on the age group are likely to become seriously ill as a result of measles.

Alberta in the past years has undertaken a program of providing measles vaccine to all

The New Proposed Hospital

NEWS that a new active hospital will be constructed in Lacombe this year is most welcome to residents of this district. The announcement has been a long time coming but there were many factors which delayed the long awaited announcement.

Biggest stumbling block was to determine the future of the present or type hospital which was built co-operatively by the town of Lacombe and the now-defunct municipal district of Crown during the late 1920's. The building has outlived its usefulness as an active hospital but is still too valuable as a potential nursing home to be demolished.

The Lacombe - Penhold nursing home district was approached, but this board's jurisdiction was such that they themselves had no power over disposal to take over the responsibility to pay for renovations and operation of the present active hospital as a nursing home. This board said — and quite rightly — that its job was to see that nursing home facilities were available for residents within this district — and that this objective was completely disregarded by the proposing Lacombe and district with a new active hospital.

Officials of the town of Lacombe then entered the picture, and in consultation with councillors from the county of Lacombe, agreed that the interests of ratepayers of the area could best be served if the town assumed responsibilities themselves agreed to renovate — and operate — the old hospital as a nursing home.

Then formal consultations resumed the blessing of the Lacombe Pembina nursing home group, and was approved by the provincial authorities.

With the future use of the old hospital thus assured, the department of health which had long agreed to the need of a new active hospital at Lacombe has given the go-ahead sign for planning and construction.

There is much credit for this decision due to members of the local hospital board, members of whom have steadfastly refused grants for minor improvements to the present hospital because they insisted that a completely new plant was required to provide proper active hospital care for this area.

And so the matter has been resolved, and in a happy manner through the mutual co-operation of all official groups directly concerned in the project.

The Ombudsman Theory

THERE has been much talk in political circles recently about the need for an ombudsman — a man to whom a wronged citizen could present his case with a view to correcting injustice caused by stodgy unbending bureaucratic control.

In theory, the idea of an all-powerful citizens champion sitting in a government centre and anxious to take up the cudgels on behalf of the wronged is an enticing one

But on this day and age it sounds mightily like a fairy tale. A full-time ombudsman would of necessity be a civil servant and it seems quite axiomatic that because civil servants will not be reported by another bureaucrat.

As the Medicine Hat News points out, no wonder with which an ombudsman could be vested, could possibly prove more effective than the power of a member of parliament asking questions in the house of commons.

The power of the parliamentary question — backed by the powerful publicity curtain far more weight than a citizens complaint against bureaucratic stupidities that is quietly settled behind the scenes . . . or the frustration (again quietly) of having grievances piqued-holed for action sometime in the future

Any MP or MLA who does his duty to his constituents is the logical ombudsman for his area. Let's keep this responsibility in the hands of our elected representatives, rather than delegate it to a government appointee

Reflections of the Times

Better Late Than Never!

Perhaps it is better late than never, but opposition leader John Diefenbaker is now warning Canadians workers that while cuts in their take-home pay for the 6 months pension plan are already higher than necessary it is obvious that the deductions will be higher soon.

Ironically the continuing response to employee contributions — at the rate of 3.6 per cent on the first $5,000 of earnings, for Mr. Diefenbaker points out that the American social security program started in 1937 with a 2 per cent rate of only three per cent and at the rate of 3.25 per cent in 1960.

In the original draft of the new pension plan, Mr. Diefenbaker recalls it was planned that the schedule of contributions would be spread out over a longer contribution of two per cent, This was raised to a rate of 3.6 per cent.

However while present payments at the start are higher than need be to cover pension benefits the actuarial formula is that unless contributions are raised as 15 to 20 years the fund will level off at about $14 billion and then plunge quickly into the red. The program is not even to pay the pensioner how promised, the fund would be about $13 billion as short as 40 years.

Based on the record of other social security programs there can be little doubt that there will be further amounts on take home pay from the pension plan.

The maximum direct contribution to the old age security pension is now $170 a year compared to 360 only ten years ago (indirect contributions to the pension fund have also increased).

Inquest Held Into P. Pogadl Death

A coroner's jury returned an open verdict at an inquest last week into the accidental death of Paul Pogadl of Bentley who took his own life and one child, were killed in a high-way accident on December 11.

Ten witnesses were called to give evidence at the inquest.

The jury's verdict: "We, the undersigned, understand that Paul Pogadl came to his death from accidental injuries received as a result of a head-on collision between the car he was driving and a 1965 Ford pickup delivery truck driven by Louis Reid on highway no. 51 approximately five miles west of Bentley, at approximately 5:00 p.m. on December 11, 1965."

Members of the jury were foreman Ric Brake, N. C. Brown, C. A. Wiebe, R. M. Johnston, H. Siekmann and George Walters.

A graphic story of how the accident occurred was given by Alex Metro, 21-year-old lumberjack resident, who was a witness to the accident.

He reported that he was driving east toward Bentley on highway 51 on the morning of the accident. He told of a pickup truck approaching behind him, and how the truck veered to pass him as he crested a hill.

"I could see another car approaching from the east," he testified " maybe 200 feet ahead as the truck was passing me. My passenger (Donald Pike of Bentley) and he's not going to make it".

"I then applied the brakes and shielded to a stop as the truck passing me hit head-on with the vehicle approaching," he testified.

In answering questions submitted by RCMP Sgt. M. J. Sleck of the Red Deer detachment, the following additional information was given by Mr Metro.

Both the vehicle behind (the truck) and the vehicle approaching (Mr Pogadl's car) had only one light, he was travelling "about 45 miles per hour" when Louis Reid's truck passed him.

After the accident he went to call for a doctor and the police and spoke to Louis Reid, who was dazed and said: "I never saw them coming; I never saw a light."

Helped Victims

William Schrader, also of Bentley, stated that he came upon the scene of the accident "from seven to ten minutes" after it occurred.

He told of finding Mr and Mrs Pogadl both slumped in the front seat, and of seeing Mrs Pogadl in the back. "They were moaning," he reported.

He removed the gas cap to his truck and another car to keep the car warm and then the doctor arrived.

Dr Graham Ardouin of Bentley, who arrived at the accident scene shortly after Mr Schrader reported he found Mr Pogadl slumped, dead, behind the steering wheel. Mrs Pogadl, he reported, was "also obviously not going to survive."

He checked one small girl, Linda, and instructed a driver to rush her to the hospital, "but she was dead on arrival there" he testified.

The two other children were also taken to hospital and checked Nancy suffered a broken leg and Bonnie suffered head injuries.

The driver of the truck, Louis Reid, suffered internal abdominal injuries, and underwent surgery in the Red Deer hospital.

Don Pike passenger in Mr Metro's car witnessed the evidence [illegible] Reid [illegible] the accident stated that he was driving "better than 60 miles per hour and speeded to about 50 miles per hour in [illegible] Metro car.

"I was looking ahead and didn't see any vehicle approaching and felt it safe to pass the car ahead of me," he testified.

"It seemed to take longer to pass the Metro car than it should have," he noted "I remember when I was alongside the Metro vehicle, and that's all I can recall."

RCMP officers drew sketch diagrams, overhead and ground photographs of the accident scene.

Constable Frank Mosley of the RCMP Identification section of Red Deer introduced pictures showing the vehicles "partly lodged together."

"Facts my observations," he reported, "it would appear that the approaching car (Mr Pogadl's) moved hardly at all after impact. There were no marks noticeable to indicate that either car or truck braked heavily before the crash."

Constable John Jorman of Bentley and RCMP constable Donald Gilmer also gave evidence pertinent to the accident.

Dr. Wilfred Tutz, who conducted a postmortem examination of Mr Pogadl, stated that death was instantaneous from chest injuries and internal hemorrhage.

Throughout the hearing, there were numerous queries from the jurors and two lawyers who attended.

Rural Fire Protection

TWO unfortunate fires on farms in the Blueyes-Joffre area have brought into sharp focus the growing need for proper fire protection for the valuable farm buildings in this area. It brings into equally sharp format the question of responsibility in providing that protection.

To date county farmers have relied on protectional protection from village or subsidiary town fire-fighting units. Many trips to farm units over most south will the years by town of Lacombe firemen — and by village fire fighting equipment — and in many cases they have saved heavy loss.

But as the town fire area rolls like that must be, it becomes the court reluctant to send out town equipment on 20 hours over town. Other fire actions have brought considerable — and in our opinion unwarranted — criticism.

Speaking from the experience of 32 years in active fire department duty Mr Dalrymple says "nothing is worse than traveling 12 or 20 miles to a fire only to find that you got there because the truck is gone."

Last week Lacombe the assembly of representative The Lacombe fire department — with equipment costs totaling more than $45,000, all read for by town residents — owes its first responsibility to the ratepayers of the town. The same is true of the fire fighting equipment of Alix, Bentley, Blackfalds and other villages.

A rule back five or more miles from is always a problem our Shamed the fire chief send out equipment and leave the townspeople for a hundred later with less protection than they have paid for — or should he rush the lot of neighbors by saying no.

Back in Mr Dalrymple's heritage. "If the temperature is zero, or even five below I will take a chance if there is a reasonable opportunity to arrive on time to do some good But when it gets really cold, I won't send the men out." His logic are echoed by town and village fire chiefs throughout the province.

But farm buildings have no interest in normals and value that they request and deserve better protection than this. The county council has for some time discussed the feasibility of providing some type of fire protection, but the problems of dispersion of the locations involved have seemed insurmountable.

County reeve Bill Lee and his deputy, Art Wagner will carry this problem to a provincial committee next month. Whether answer they come back with will be an improvement over the present system — which too often leads to unjustified feelings between the farmer who suffered the loss, and the town or village firemen.

Vanishing Values

THE earned dollar of every Canadian is going to buy less and less in the future.

Who says so? The federal government.

Doubters need go no further than the budget speech. Listed to explain the Canada pension plan. On page seven, these words appear:

"Benefit amounts are not fixed once and for all. They will be increased in line with rises in the cost of living . . ."

It does not read "if living costs advance." It accepts the fact that they will. Every wage-earning Canadian knows his dollar buys less than it did a few years back. Still, if the government recommends that the shrinkage in dollar value will continue is discouraging.

There was a time when saving was considered among the great virtues. Now, savings put to work bring heavy taxes on their earnings, and dollars put idly by withdraw investment are shrinking in value as they lay brownish the mattresses or in the safety deposit box.

It is a sad state of affairs when thrift and savings have become habits fit for punishment by the tax collector.

Four Decades Ago

The 1st season of the year when business people look and hustle, sharpen their pencils and look back of the past year. A number of farm management meetings have been held in Erskine Lacombe and Morris Alexander has been pre-occupied due to the unfavorable weather.

Main purpose of these meetings has been to explain the workings of a farm analysis sheet which when completed and returned to the office will be forwarded to the Edmonton office for analysis. Keeping farm records has become a necessity for income tax purposes. Why not make full use of your records in completing a farm analysis sheet? It would tell you a great deal about the strengths and weaknesses of your farm business.

The farm analysis sheets should be completed as soon as possible and an may office by February 15. If you have problems please phone 782-3814 or come in to the office. We will be glad to be of service. Lois Boone of the Edmonton research branch and specialist in farm accounting will be in this office on Monday, February 21 obtaining information and answering any questions you may have.

EDITORIAL

The Auditor General's Report

TO those who feel that governments should take ever more vested fields the public interest, the auditor general's report tabled in the house of commons last week must come as a shocker.

And a shocker it is! Auditor Max Henderson cites $36 varied duplications from paying more than he didn't work to providing retirements much front accounts to those on the public payroll.

In spite of the fact that the government spent $5,000,000 on a Royal Commission since 1960 also to tell it how to operate more efficiently lower than one-half of the commission's recommendations have not been put into effect.

Federal officials have repeatedly stated that more and more of the weight of government is being transferred to provincial and municipal levels but the Henderson reports that it added a starting 7,200 employees to the payroll last year — possibly to prepare for the transfer of the work!

This is a ridiculous situation made possible only by a monstrous bureaucracy whose inability to give blame is not matched by its sense of responsibility to the taxpayer.

The $16,000-a-year legislators in Ottawa — many of whom make virtually came as for counter government from the auditor general — must come to grips with this ridiculous bureaucracy which is threatening to throttle the country's economy.

Our Changing Language

THE English language is said to be great because it has continued to change with the times. The Kingdom of the Chaucer period for instance can be considered a foreign language compared with the English we use today.

But sometimes it seems we are attempting to change it too quickly by too radically and to no advantage.

We are referring to the rise in use of gobbledygook, that art of saying one-word by using many long words what is best expressed in a few short ones. This art has reached its greatest pursuit in the state, in the fields of government and education.

Government agents we no longer start anything they "initiate" or think. People living in poverty are not poor, they are "disadvantaged." Problems are no longer solved they are "resolved." Committees no longer go to work, they "study three terms of reference in order to find an area of common understanding."

But it is probably to the fads of education that gobbledygook flourishes best. There is no such things as a backward child any more, he either has a "low conference factor" or else he is lacking the developmental key of meaningful motivation."

A student who is failing rather poorly "is producing unsatisfactory for his peer group", or in short-round pidgeon, "he is an underachiever".

This is quite a description of a young boy or girl who is struggling with the words "This is Jane and "This is Dick".

Cost Of Living

RECENT rises in the cost of living in Canada due largely to government measures on heavy welfare payments are a matter of concern to the dollar-bound winner, not only because it means his dollar buys less, but also because Canadian produced goods are put at a disadvantage in world markets.

Additional taxes in this country have led, inexorably, to higher prices And the more welfare cases are embraced by our governments, the higher the taxes are going to have to be to pay for them.

We wonder if the federal ministers made final assessments ever informed the minority of welfare that the jobs of one Canadian in every four depends primarily on Canada's ability to compete in the markets of the world. And that if our cost of production continues to rise those jobs are going to be in jeopardy because our customers will be able to buy more economically from our competitors.

Bentley Seed Cleaning Plant

The days are getting longer again and there are a few signs that may be intended to betray the approaching spring. I visited the Bentley seed cleaning plant this week to see what progress was being made in the grain cleaning business. The plant was built in the late Quarters the manager was saying the past year was the best one he has seen since he came.

Bean and forage crop seeds would have made it difficult for them to be long grain on the plant, there required but these seeds generally more convenient. I then went and to see more extensive cleaning will mean 24-hour operation which in turn means hiring more staff ... and that increased cost of operation. Early cleaning, on the part of farmers would save Mr. Bentley money. It means a more even distribution of his work and he would have grain cleaned after the end of March that if brought in before that time.

Buyers of the market are now going through the plant. Some visited out on the 100-mile circuit on Wednesday, 63,252 farmers passed the plant in the last month. Andy Whyte asks:

ARE YOU WORTH $50,000 ?

Take a few moments today to estimate the value of your life insurance estate. If the total exceeds $50,000 you should consider setting up a trust company to administer it. And if cash is not readily available they may be forced to sell part of the business at less than its true value. Let us present this idea to you without cost or obligation.

Clean Up Hockey, Reader Urges

To the editor

In reading the paper about the suspensions that have been handed out, also the opinions that have been expressed, I, at one time was a very regular customer at the hockey games but all the time at time went on the games were getting out of control and dirty dangerous hockey was developing.

Good clean hockey players are not being completely crippled or crippled if they wouldn't go in and get fractured.

I express my opinion with out prejudice

POPULAR SPOT — The Mediview Valley ski club hill west of Bentley is drawing large week end crowds of skiers from all sections of central Alberta The above view was taken from the lodge at the bottom of the hill, and gives some impression of the number of skiers Lacombe were confronted with yesterday afternoon for beginners' lessons with instructor Bandy Johnson. Elmer Calder and Norman Madsen were among those taking these lessons The rope tow which runs up the left hand side of the picture above, takes skiers quickly to the top of the hill from which two or three excellent downhill runs are available.

An Arduous Task

ONE of the most thankless offices in public service is that of being a member of the county municipal committee, as Reeve Keith Knox and many councillors in rural Alberta have learned to their sorrow.

Most of his work goes on unseen by the general public except when there is trouble . . . and then the councillor is subjected to more or less the brunt of many complaints.

Members of the county of Lacombe No. 14 have had their share of headaches but as neither of these fields can ratepayers become experts as they see what they feel is an educational effort with few frustrations.

Members of the county of Lacombe No. 14 council, meanwhile, will have spent the past year immersed in a county-wide school building program, have had more than their share of problems. They serve the thanks of every parent and taxpayer who contributes to county improvement. Until the day comes when all the problems are solved, the thanks of a grateful public will be their reward.

There are compliments from the REA and sincere, often critical

Give-away Gimmicks

THE federal parliament continues to be prejudiced by people who believe that the best way of getting support at home is to spend more of the taxpayers' money.

Recently there was much about a $50 per month increase in the old age pension. Those who favor this plan state that such increases can be easily financed from Canada pension plan funds.

So that even before pension plan funds have started to accumulate our politicians are figuring out ways to spend it for other purposes!

Opposition members seem to believe that an increase in the old age pension is a sure-fire election platform. How else should they consider such a preposterous scheme if they can add one and one and get two?

There are now 1,116,500 Canadians eligible for old age security benefits. An extra $25 per month paid to each would thus take an additional $280,000,000 from pension plan funds this year. By 1976, this same $25.00 per month for an estimated 1,800,000 old age recipients would reduce by more than $400,000,000 per year the money paid into the pension plan pot.

To try to make political gain by suggesting withdrawals of this sum from a fund which will take in only $800 to $700 millions each year is to defraud all those who make compulsory payments to the Canada pension plan . . . for by the time these people are eligible for the pensions they have paid for, the pot will be dry.

what's life like in the R.C.M.P.?

YOUNG? YES.
FOR ANYBODY? NO.
GOOD PAY? YES.
ORDINARY JOB? NO.
FINE CAREER? YES.

A career in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police is no picnic. Sometimes it's gun. You like it—or you don't. There's no in-between. The force selects young men who measure up to its standards. It offers them more a life that's interesting and satisfying, a career they're proud to pursue. If you like the sound of the military, if you have a basic respect for law and order, if you like people, if you like working with other men as a team, if you are self-reliant, if you like travelling new things, if you love Canada and all our country stands for—you may make the grade with the R.C.M.P. Why not find out?

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Agnes Mae Hagen who passed away Feb. 21, 1957.

Her equal never
— Sadly remembered by her husband and children.

How Much is Your Home Worth?

Next to family home is each's most valued possession. It's a wonderful feeling to know that your home is worth more today than several years back. But if it were destroyed or partially destroyed would your insurance cover your costs at today's prices? Many people unknowingly everything will cost you more to replace than the last bought item. Almost 30% of all insured homes in this country are underinsured. Don't risk losing out on the big saving now with current market values.

Local M.P. Reports From Parliament Hill

From Ottawa

In the first report on the new session of the 27th parliament, I would like to comment briefly on certain ordinances of members privileges.

These ordinances are based on a widespread understanding of their purpose. Daily expenses are meant to grant sufficient allowance to no one member [illegible] lodge some thing of all people elsewhere [illegible] for the [illegible] session.

Every member, a new one, that is, can be considered, on week ends. Before the days of fast air travel, there were very limited to those people who lived within a reasonable distance of Ottawa.

To keep the books straight [illegible] is passed [illegible] the member's name in public records. Actual [illegible] to leverage cost as the whole idea is to give each member equal access to his constituency.

An [illegible] member up to his constituency [illegible] at the same cost as one flight by a westerner. As Air Canada is operated by the federal government, the payment for a flight ends up back in government funds at the end in the taxpayer a very little.

On the other hand, the member is able to keep in touch with his home and his constituents.

HARRY A. MOORE, Local M.P.

Guest Sponsors

It might be of interest to know what visitors from abroad are doing in the house at the present.

The estimates for the present session of parliament are [illegible] Canada. Each year [illegible] members have been able to speak on matters [illegible] of great concern to [illegible] west.

The C.P.R. [illegible] for sustaining passenger services as well as for [illegible] to engage an adequate number of [illegible] for passengers. Because [illegible] provided accepted the members concerned have assured us that they would do all [illegible] to see that the grain shipments would not be held up.

At the time many Alberta points are [illegible] a two hundred quota.

The plight of farmers in west central Alberta, the Peace River area and parts of northern Saskatchewan, have been discussed in the house. We have appealed to the minister of agriculture, and made a number of questions.

I have had interviews with the minister and his parliamentary secretary appealing for special consideration for farmers who have had two successive crop failures.

We are hoping that the federal department of agriculture will come up with a plan to assist those who get little or no coverage under the P.F.A.A. Without help some of these farmers may be forced to give up farming.

Blackfalds Girl Weds Peter Shayler

Blackfalds United church [illegible] the scene of a pretty [illegible] when [illegible] and Mrs. Melvin Moore of Blackfalds became the bride of Mr. Peter Shayler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Shayler of Lacombe. Rev. [illegible] officiated at the double ring ceremony performed at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. R. Stevenson was organist and [illegible] "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer" were sung by Mrs. Ken Beaumont. Presentation of the bride was by her father. She was attended by Miss Marilyn Beaumont as bridesmaid and Miss Bonnie Lupardus as flower girl.

Best man was Ken Beaumont and ushers were Ron Moore and Ken Beaumont.

The bride wore a floor length dress of white [illegible] with [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] and

Pleasant Retirement, Mrs. Henderson

Mrs. Eleanor Henderson will wave the Lacombe union relief's reins at the end of this month after five and one-half years of faithful service and devotion.

Connected with the lodge since it opened, Mrs. Henderson has managed to make it a "home" to all residents who have stayed there.

Upon her retirement from that position The Globe joins her many friends in publicly saying "thank you for a job extremely well done.

It's Your Business

Next Monday evening, November 7, the town of Lacombe goes all out-ratepayers in this area will have an opportunity to attend the annual take-power-to-be rally. This meeting starts at 8:00 p.m.

At these meetings residents of the town and the village discuss mutual items and, especially, local issues and municipal matters that have arisen during the year. These annual meetings provide a public platform for those with ideas or complaints. They represent democracy in action - but unless ratepayers take part, they are valueless. Invite to council members and to the ratepayers whom they serve. Attend the meeting in your centre next Monday evening and make democracy work at home.

Water Rights

There might well be an interprovincial constitutional battle coming over the Alberta government's recent decision to proceed with numerous developments affecting the Saskatchewan and Belsam river systems.

The big issue to be decided, of course, is who owns what water resources. Alberta's move may bring this question into legal conflict with Manitoba and Saskatchewan governments. The Financial Post reports, since the waters to be used are thus pumped-back their eventual outlets through our neighbouring provinces to the east.

Such legal action would be unprecedented in all Canadian. Legal jurisdiction over water has remained largely undefined in Canadian courts, and there is no machinery for resolving conflicts prevailing from the use of waters.

Alberta plans to use waters which flow through this province for the mean purpose of irrigation of Alberta lands.

If this should lead to legal action, the results might not only include installation of water controls what water but may also spur the formation of a national water policy - a policy which is now sadly lacking.

Annual Meetings Hold Spotlight

Annual Meeting County Lacombe Friday, March 4

● Annual meeting of the coun-ty of Lacombe will be held on Friday March 4, meet-ing at 10 a.m in the La-combe Legion hall

Election of town and vil-lages and of rural school dis-tricts are entitled to attend to participate in the discus-sion of school affairs which will be held immediately af-ter the election of a chair-man to conduct the meet-ing.

County operations will be discussed later on in the day.

CPR Station Known Nothing About Closing

Rumor that the CPR sta-tion at Lacombe will be closed is unfounded at this time, according to local railroad officials.

Apparently a number of stations have been closed in the Lethbridge division in Ca-nadian Pacific's efforts to "modernize", and if the line recommend the policy might be extended to the Calgary Ed-monton which includes La-combe.

However, station authorities have have received no direc-tive and have no information that such a move is imminent.

Even if the steel-town sta-tends to fold here, the Lacombe station would still retain most of its importance as a freight station for the surrounding area and a terminal point for trains coming and going.

At stations like Chesterdown and Hussar, where CPR sta-tions are closed, passengers may still board trains which continue to stop at the station and then purchase tickets from the conductor.

Per long - distance travel, passengers may phone a board-ing house established to make reservations.

Lacombe, without CPR sta-tion, will be the only town in area to the daily package pick-up in the business area.

● Ron Miller wanted to know "what becomes of paper after a garbage pick-up?" He was referring to private busi-ness papers like invoices, etc

Horned Cattle Numbers Up

PRELIMINARY estimates of horned cattle marketed in Alberta look your way to 10 2 from 8 3 in 1965 Provincial averages for the three previous years were 8 9 in 8 and 8 3

In commenting on last year's increase Alberta's livestock commissioner W H T Allred pointed out that the investing off of the provincial average which had dropped from 17 to 8 5 in 1961 coincided with the increased popularity of the cow-calf production program

It seems fairly evident from government figures that the large numbers of horned cattle delivered last summer substantiate that there were steps to prevent further reduction of the herd numbers are dropping

A suggestion that consideration of dairy and sanitary sewer systems rate either relief from pollution has been spurred by Mr Shein "They simply don't work," he says. "During the winter, the volume of water through a combination sewer will overload a treatment plant and raw sewage gets dumped into the lake or stream."

So much for our "cheap" suggestion for improving the pollution. It is clearly evident that there can be no solution to the improvement. The cities around the Great Lakes are simply going to have to improve their waste disposal systems, or else they will find the lakes on which they depend for their existence.

Problems of Pollution

WE know of no way to revive Lake Erie — or Ontario — if Lake Erie ever dies. It is gone forever.

Three words were uttered by Murray Shein, chief of the enforcement branch of the division of water supply and pollution control for the United States public health unit.

This man is a recognized authority in his field, and his words emphasize the fact that while pollution has taken over on one of the great lakes.

Inaction, complacency and general low basic sense of the major factors which have led to the serious conditions which face the great Canadian-American inland waterway. It is incredible that it has taken so long to face the problem. It is even more incredible that even now steps to prevent further pollution of the lakes are dragging.

A suggestion that consideration of dairy and sanitary sewer systems rate either relief from pollution has been spurred by Mr. Shein "They simply don't work," he says. Man vs. Man

SOME of growing distrust between workers and management, between workers and unions, between man and man are becoming more characters each day.

This thought arose recently following the report of a walkout strike called in Toronto but year when management installed a machine to record the productive capacity of 30 machines.

Close to 2,000 members of the union were convinced that the electronic device was no more than a means to spy. Management maintained it was merely a recorder to calculate machine efficiency and productivity capacity. Labor, unions couldn't convince the workers that this machine was not intended to replace workers — so the union man walked out for a few hours, without their leaders' sanction — to protest.

This illustrates the teaching man's fear of automation. But it also shows his distrust of management, and his equal distrust of his own trade union leaders. It emphasizes, too, management's ever-increasing demand for more production, more profits, greater dividends.

It shows, in short, man's distrust of man. Any excuse is being used these days to justify action as one man tries to better his lot over his fellow man — be he on the next bench or on the front office.

Until man learns the wisdom of the words of a lowly carpenter of Nazareth who said "Love thy neighbor as thyself", man will continue to be the only breed of prey that preys systematically on his own kind.

County school committee members wrestled with problems created by overly-high bids on the proposed composite high school at Lacombe at a special meeting held at the county office Tuesday morning.

Chairman Art Wigmore, who with school committee member Rick Wiersma, county superintendent T. E. Giles and assistant John Berreman of Calgary had just returned from conferring with provincial government officials in Edmonton, told the building problems before the ten man school committee

● "We are up against a problem in rules and regulations some more are involved in more expenditure than we are prepared to meet."

● "We are isolated to the extent of about $200,000, which is more than we can take from current revenue more than we can borrow without advertising a new by-law."

● "We are uncertain as to additional grants which we may receive from the provincial department of education in the light of the new basic Standard Grant. Foundation grant for this type of school is $16.60 per square foot but price of the school, including furnishings, equipment, etc. is $20.89 per square foot."

The school chairman then elaborated on the importance of the time factor "If we have to advertise again, with the petition for a vote, advertise and hold the plebiscite, then wait for the period required by the school act, so much time would go by that we wouldn't hold the contractor tied to his contract out."

Such a delay, commented we wouldn't have time to finish the building before expiration of the federal government's [illegible] March 31 1967]

The federal government grants 42 2% of total cost of the building

Alternative

Chairman Wigmore gloomily summed up the situation "If we can't do enough with the building we will be forced to [illegible] alternatives. We would have to build a straight academic unit without the extra grants specialists for a vocational school from the dominion government) and we would be in difficulty because of building costs bearing directly on the county."

Superintendent T. Giles then explained some of the matters taken up with the department of education authorities concerning grants, and other members of the committee agreed with the recommendation that it is possible that additional grants from the provincial government, [illegible] of the share of cost both because the additional $200 site contributed by the chairman.

These figures will not be known before the problem is resolved by the board of the new [illegible]

"No matter what is cut from [illegible] cost of the school additional grants are forthcoming from the government," Mr Wigmore stated, "so county at this time is that we will have to borrow most money to meet our share of additional costs."

Lawrence this would in future of it wasn't possible to "cut something out of the building to get costs down."

Mr Wigmore pointed out that because of the great structure we would have to add not more than three dollars to taxes to save one dollar in our borrowing.

The architect, Mr Stevenson however will let certain details which appear as the plans with a view to giving the school [illegible] the greatest [illegible] Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation authorize loan on money saving [illegible] cuts

It was pointed out that the provincial government agrees with county officials that for some of increased costs as of [illegible] and June were current at that time. The present difficulty arises because of a big jump in building costs during the past six months.

So the matter rests

A further special meeting will be called as soon as information is received from the provincial government about additional grants and advices from the department is given as to how the county can meet its present problem in the sufficient time to complete the contract by March of next year.

Meanwhile Olsen Construction Ltd. of Calgary the low tender will be asked for an extension of the normal 30-day period before the contract is let.

SIDE ARE SIDE — Lowest tendered bid for the proposed vocational-composite high school at Lacombe [illegible] shown above was $2,397,000, which includes costs of all built-in equipment. Olsen Construction Co. Ltd of Calgary was the lowest of three bidders. Other tenders were Pilate Construction Ltd of Edmonton, $2,435,044 Forest Construction Ltd. Edmonton, $2,594,770. Company representatives and other interested parties were present at the county council school committee meeting as the bids were opened at the county office last Friday afternoon.

Study Plans For New Town Office

Town council's general government committee will start preliminary investigations into plans for a new town administration building.

At council meeting last week, councillor Mabe Ruhl brought the matter up by saying "if we plan to go ahead with construction of a new town office next year, we should start looking into it [illegible]

Council [illegible] ted itself to building a new administration building next year, but all present seemed to be in favor of starting preliminary planning at this time.

Old plans, drafted many years ago, and on hand at the town office will be studied [illegible] with a view to either revision of similar size and use what has been built in the way of municipal administration offices.

If construction does start next year, the town has a healthy sum already saved as a down payment. A building bond was started five years ago — and so far about $35,000 is already in the kitty — ear-marked to help meet town office construction costs.

Golfers Vote In Favor of Beer License

Lacombe golf and country club shareholders voted overwhelmingly in favor of serving beer at a meeting held in the clubhouse, when [illegible] ballots were counted by officials late last night.

Of the 122 ballots received from shareholders, 113 voted in favor of the issue of beer, eight voted against the proposal, and there was one spoilt ballot.

Stuart Beveridge, club director in charge of this application, told The Globe today that the decision rests in the hands of the directors, who will now make application to the liquor control board.

There are still numerous and stringent regulations which must be followed before a license to serve beer is received by the golf club. These include the necessity of advertising the golf club's intent, and official application for the license.

Engineers Study Town Sanitary Sewer System

Present sanitary sewer needs in Lacombe are adequate to stand to handle the population growth for present areas in town, providing all existing and future storm and roof drains are cut off from the system.

This was the pleasant news contained in the engineer's report of the town's sanitary sewer system which was filed at the town council meeting Monday evening of last week.

But not all news is good [illegible]

Valve injuries in dust, [illegible] manholes in trouble, the survey report, which was prepared by council in early winter, and was completed by Stroud, Lamb & Nelson, consulting engineers.

Main points made in the recommendations and conclusions of the report

● We recommend that the Calgary Power Ltd. continue maintenance of the storm sewer lines.

● Present mains are adequately sized, providing manholes are properly maintained, and infiltration is kept to a reasonable figure.

● All existing and future storm and roof drains should be cut off from the sanitary system.

● Equipment are inspection [illegible] storm of the sewer pumping station — either a dry well arrangement with [illegible] centrifugal pumps, or replacement of existing wet well pumps.

● A better ventilation system is also required at the lift station.

● There will be need for a parallel 6-inch force main from the sewage lift station to the lagoon area when the average flow rate exceeds 475 gallons per minute, and full further extensions when average flow exceeds 900 gallons per minute.

Following the reading of these recommendations, sanitation committee chairman Gordon Smith remarked: "this should stop a lot of guessing on sanitary sewer needs in the future."

ARE YOU WONDERING WHAT TO DO ABOUT REPLACING YOUR HERD SIRE THIS SPRING?

If you are, why not bread with the Lacombe Artificial Breeding Association this year? Consider carefully the following advantages:

- You will have the use of PROGENY-PROVEN BULLS, many of whom have won the highest honour that a breed bull is endowed, "Genetic SUPERIORITY" That is, they have been proven to transmit superior traits to their calves, but also have you years ahead in your breeding program.
- Multiply the number of cows you have to breed by $7.00, our regular price for four services if necessary. This will be your full cost if you breed with us. Compare this with what you will have to pay for a bull, then add $200 to $a for feed costs per year. You can readily see the savings as well as convenience.
- If you own a bull, but have too many cows for him to handle why not take advantage of our SPECIAL BEEF BREEDING PROGRAM. Four services at $.50 for one service only. Then when the busy field season hits, turn your bull in to look after the roundabouts.
- We handle semen from all the Units in Ontario the B.C. A.I. Centre at Milner, B.C. and will be glad to assist you if you care to import SPECIAL SEMEN from the States.

Spring House-Cleaning Needed

CANADIANS have listened with growing disgust to the vindictive outpouring of direct recrimination from the house of commons in Ottawa.

The return of the most stinging outbreak which have marked the house of commons ever since the Pearson Government regained power, [illegible] for a change in the advantage of both Liberal and Conservative parties.

The two leaders and their lieutenants have become more intent on scoring personal, egotistical triumphs over their counterparts, than on dealing with the problems which face this country.

Scars have become too deep, too sore, to expect future debates to rise above this incompatibility. The acrimony engendered during the past two weeks must bubble to the surface in the future to prevent vital reasoning powers of parliamentary thinking.

If the recent nasty spectacle will result in the resignation or prime removal of the two leaders, then Canadians can truthfully feel they have profited from the unsavoury mess.

Co-operation Required

THE time is approaching when [illegible] village municipalities in this area should sit down to discuss mutual problems relating to police and fire protection.

Recurring requests are received from villages within county boundaries asking for financial support of the fire brigade or the municipal police force. The villagers point out [illegible] that village police [illegible] are called upon often to provide service to county residents . . . but that the county provides no funds for the maintenance of these services.

Latest to bring up the matter was the village of Bentley which has requested assistance in maintaining its police force.

The county has one police constable based in Blackfalds but one man has no chance of coping quickly with all complaints and requests received from a wide area in a county the size of Lacombe. He MUST proceed to one end the another since the Mounties are [illegible] stationed and keep in touch with larger problems to investigate individual matters. Complaints of county, town and village residents.

Repeatedly talks between representatives of the municipal districts would clear the air on problems which [illegible] Whether or not corrective action would come from such talks would depend on the level of co-operation extended by each.

There is enough no conflict of interest. All bodies are anxious to provide the best possible municipal services at the lowest possible cost. To date, there have been no meeting of the minds to iron out these problems as one group. There should be.

We Need The Vocational School

At the time of writing, the future of the proposed vocational component at least at Lacombe is shrouded in uncertainties. While the school has sparked considerable opposition the purpose is of the opinion that it will be a sad day for the future of education in this county if it is not constructed.

Most of the opposition has come from well meaning ratepayers of town and country who are against the project, but fail to provide an alternative.

The opposition has centered around two points "we don't need it" and "it is too expensive".

Let's examine the need first. Federal, provincial and county officials have spent a year carefully checking the educational patterns of the county school system. After such study federal officials agree to the need by the most tangible evidence possible they will pay 62.9% of all construction costs.

Provincial department of education officials convinced of need to such that all but 800 square feet of the school has been accepted as approved costs under the school foundation grant and even this space is subject to negotiation at the present time.

The federal and provincial officials mentioned are far removed from the realm of local affairs, and judged the need strictly on the basis of realism. Are unfounded criticisms often based on little more than rumor and emotion, to be taken as more factual than the studies which have taken place by men competent in their field?

Let us consider the "it is too expensive" argument. Over two million dollars for a school is a lot of money, but what do we receive? The federal government picks up 62.9% of all cost. The provincial government will pay through the foundation grant $16 per square foot of construction . . . and possibly more if negotiations now underway reach fruition.

Because of the senior government's grant structure the actual cost of this school to county residents will be less than the cost of a handful of smaller projects undertaken last year and those at Blackfalds, Clive Mirror and Alix . . . and it will provide more and much wider educational facilities for many more students.

Any new change in educational patterns sparks opposition. We are not in sympathy with any thoughts of the new generation educationalists . . . but we feel that in proposing and planning this new school for the county, they are providing, at the outset, for us with the best educational economic deal ever obtained in this area.

Suppose the school does not proceed. What is the alternative? High school space must be provided at Lacombe for the burgeoning high school population. This means more building either in the form of a large addition or a new school, with much more of the burden of cost falling directly on county ratepayers than in the case of the vocational school.

By today's standards, it also means severely restricted educational opportunities for our teenagers, for only those with substantial incomes can afford to send their children to Red Deer to attend high school. In spite of what would probably be liberal grants from county coffers.

It will be a sorry day for education in this county if the vocational school is not built because of opposition from ratepayers whose conditions have overcome their reasoning however well-meaning they may be.

Injun - Giving !

THERE are protests flooding Ottawa to have the 11-odd million dollars in building materials removed. The tax is considered one of the most inhitimary of all measures as federal legislation.

It is economic nonsense on the part of the federal government to pay a $500 "incentive bonus" to encourage winter construction and then proceed to take away the economic incentive (plus considerable more) by this sales tax.

It becomes a "now you owe it, now you don't" game which no citizen has a hope of winning.

Farm Labour

Each year the farm labour shortage seems to get more acute. What can we do about it? This is a question that many farmers are asking these days, but there doesn't seem to be too many answers.

However on the evening of April 6, there is to be an open meeting in the Lacombe agricultural division hall here to labour situation. This meeting, sponsored by the Lacombe board of trade and agricultural representatives from the Alberta department of agriculture, the department of labour, the Alberta department of industrial education, and a number of others, is an attempt to find a solution to this problem which may help to lessen the farm labour problem.

Such topics as government assistance programs, wages and various points, including hours of work training programs assisted, and so on will be discussed. The results of this meeting could well have an influence on agriculture in the years ahead. Plans for April 6 should be made now to attend this meeting.

How Much Fertilizer?

A standard question we get these days is "How much fertilizer should I use". I don't intend to answer that question because the answer depends on several factors such as soil type, moisture conditions, crop rotation, and a number of others.

It seems rather silly for a farmer to be considering the possible use of fertilizer to the extent that he is not applying enough to get a result, especially in spite of research results that indicate that he can increase yields by using more than the two used two months ago. Only the newer varieties of crops which are highly responsive to fertilizer have been grown that the reason the need is for a put-grower generation, the highest the yield potential.

Therefore, let's consider all the good cropping practices to increase yields and not depend just on the use of fertilizer. Such practices as summerfallowing, crop rotation, seed bed preparation, seeding rate, time of seeding, and a number of others should be considered before deciding on how much fertilizer to use.

What is the best use for your money? I can't say. The only way you can find out is to put your best foot to the front and try out all of the practices mentioned above. Keep good records of your results. However, one thing I can say is that if you do not use enough fertilizer to get a result which will give better than break-even value, you will be better off not using it at all.

Capital Report

(special to The Globe
by Jean Waters)

It was the week for the big Marketing Council tour through the world of filthy manure, observers between country CBC and an oil [illegible]

While the delegation never [illegible] anything from one year to the next it gives all members a chance to try to make their associates in provincial competitions. The speeches are often [illegible] of one-upmanship, pomposity and superlatives.

For instance the provincial secretary, Hon. Anderson Hardeman is noted "If a gardener that it is unlawful to bring in some vegetables [illegible] and public will be [illegible] that is lawfully and infested with obnoxious is allowed to enter."

Premier Manning added that the position of early bonds [illegible] as long as the public [illegible] heart of early bonds [illegible] darkest filth as great. And he [illegible] a touch at the CBC for using public money to pay big fees to prostitutes and other [illegible] of society.

The whole tour was [illegible] by Calgary's Bill Lucas [illegible] who managed the rotation regarding interesting features "seems to have gotten out of hand again."

It was a week of variety. Industry and development minister Bert Patrick said the Alberta government studying gasoline marketing a consultant [illegible] a Royal Commission [illegible] on the subject from British Columbia. Among other things, that report suggested the provincial government might have to take over oil company sales [illegible] as competitors act to reduce prices. That seems like a rather extreme proposal for Alberta.

Two members — Jim Henderson (PC-Lisbon) and Mike Maccagno (L-Lac La Biche) started the ends and found [illegible] That and Alberta is ragging far behind in its fish and wildlife programs.

And health minister Dr. J. [illegible] opposed the request of a power deal between the Alberta government and the municipal professor over fees. The suggestion is that a fee increase was being delayed until the ratepayer [illegible] voted on.

It took Calgary Liberal Bill Dickie [illegible] 10 minutes to [illegible] a motion calling for an independent commission to study reduction of Alberta's retail prices.

It took Police Works minister Colborne to [illegible] how to count the votes down in Mr. Colborne headed the last provincial [illegible] in 1963. He said he wanted to make it simple and absolutely clear that he wasn't opposed to the idea of representation [illegible] [illegible] but [illegible] [illegible] impossible.

He might have stopped there but he didn't. He pointed out that the last federal redistribution [illegible] the independent groups created all sorts of confusion and that it didn't achieve representations by population. [illegible]

The whole thing really boiled down to the old argument that the cities have at least half Alberta's people and so should have half of the legislature's [illegible]. Rural ridings are already too big to be handled thoroughly by one man and "one by pop" would make them squarely settled ridings even bigger.

The odd part of it all was Mr. Maccagno's support of his colleague's motion. The Lac La Biche riding is the biggest one of the most unwieldy in the province. You'd hardly expect Mr. Maccagno to support any action that would make it even larger.

Clean Seed Vital to Good Crop

Proper planning now can be a big factor in whether you will have satisfactory crop yields next fall. Good seed is one of the most important requirements for good crop production.

Weed control planning says Mr. Ludwig, should start with the selection of weed-free seed. Make sure it is of good quality. Buy registered seeds and find out if they are certified or germination tested. The kind of weeds present and the cleaning equipment available on the farm should also be taken into consideration.

The author, an instructor at Lethbridge Junior College, is a specialist in crop production and development.

This is the Centennial Symbol.

What does it mean? What does it mean to you?

We hope it means more than any other symbol we have ever been supposed to. Because this symbol is Canada. And Canada is you.

It is composed of events as well as Territories representing the Provinces, and the other one northern territories. The triangles are arranged in pairs, and Maple Leaf, the unifying symbol for Unity and Confederation.

It is your symbol and it was born out of your involvement in Canada. It can have your power. It can manifest more enthusiasm for a greater Canada. From your power, all Canada will see triangles and in the growing experience of knowing. A vision of Confederation that will make everyone concerned with their own Centennial proud.

Being commissioned to have already begun to embark on large scale Centennial undertakings. Businesses have initiated local, regional Centennial efforts of varying degrees. All Canadians working to say "Canada" to the world.

You will be seeing this symbol everywhere. Like to be one of those behind it? We'd like you to use the symbol in your home, your office, as found in your paper wherever you can. The manual noted below may help to explain how you can best use it.

Remember this is an opportunity for all of us to understand Canada, its history, its present and its future. Let's respect what can now be called a great country. Let's not be a nomad for Canada, the same way this is nomadic for Confederation.

Dear Friend:

We are sure the average citizen would be surprised to know how much equipment the modern funeral director must have.

We are constantly adding to this equipment to further improve our service. Most of this additional investment is not apparent to the public but it is nonetheless essential if we are to maintain the high standards we sometimes set ourselves.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my father and grandfather who passed away April 2, 1964.
The years are quickly passing,
Though still we can't forget
For at the hearth that was your home
One memory lingers yet.
—Sadly remembered by Cliff, Mrs. Vivian Meadows and Elsie

In loving memory of Mrs. Fred Sherrick who passed away March 30 1951 — fifteen years.
Each echo passed away 1966 years
Sometimes I think of the sunset
When memories bring you near
They live in a world of Glory
Well the Lord has put you out of the shadow
And we will have to labour and bravely bear
Where parting is sought and tears
With eternal love memory always,
Husband,
Thomas and the present nurse
Always remembered by Mary family

County Seeks Additional Funds To Build Composite School Here

County school committee members agreed in special session last Thursday to ask permission to borrow a further $270,000 on the security of the county to proceed with construction of the composite high school at Lacombe.

(Official notice of this by-law appears on page [illegible] of this issue.)

The committee carefully studied the financial picture of the school which was altered two weeks ago when construction bids were opened.

Cost of the composite high school is now $2,895,050 which includes architect's fees, site, [illegible] equipment, water and [illegible].

Of this sum $1,364,000 will be paid by the federal provincial vocational education training act. $686,418 will come from the foundation program of the provincial department of education. $345,562 will be a direct charge on school rateparg[illegible] work.

All problems concerning the new school were thoroughly aired during the three-hour meeting and [illegible] was decided after the committee learned that [illegible] [illegible] would be additional.

A three-man sub-committee was set up to prepare an official announcement concerning the building and this sub-committee met over the week [illegible] announcement. The announcement appears on page [illegible] of this issue.

In addition, the committee drafted answers to the most commonly asked questions concerning the school. Here are questions and answers, as released from the county office Monday.

Q. If the county needs only $345,562 to build this school, why do they ask borrowing powers for [illegible]?

A. The provincial grants of $686,418 are paid to the county in the form of a refund. The county must borrow the full amount before it can qualify for this [illegible].

Q. How does the county of Lacombe propose to pay this $345,562?

A. Through borrowing, with principal and interest to be paid annually for 25 years.

Q. Last June the county, in advertising this project, indicated a much lower building cost than now. Why the increase?

A. Building costs increased substantially from June to December, 1965, and again since January 1966.

Q. Will the cost of operations of this composite high school be higher (than a normal high school).

A. Yes. However, additional grants are provided from the provincial foundation program (for vocational school operation). These additional grants amount to $1,500 per industrial vocational aren per year (there are five areas) and $150 per grade 11 and grade 12 industrial vocational student per year. These are in addition to the regular per pupil, per teacher, transportation and other grants.

Q. When this composite high school is in operation, is it the intention to close the schools at Bentley and Alix?

A. No. The school in Lacombe is planned for instructional space for 700 students By 1969, there will be 1,000 high school students in the county.

Q. Will high school students come from Bentley, Alix by and Alix be permitted to attend this composite school if the program they wish is not provided in their [illegible]?

A. Yes.

Q. Will transportation to Lacombe be provided for these students?

A. Not in 1966-67. Some transportation provisions will be made from September 1967.

Q. If this school is not built, what do the ratepayers of the county, the town of Lacombe and the village of Alix lose?

A. All hope of a vocational school for district high school students. In terms of money, the cost of clearing the site and the architect fees, which would be approximately three mills on the 1966 tax structure.

Q. What credits will vocational school graduates have?

A. A graduate from the vocational school section will have credits for one-year technical school training and one-year apprenticeship.

Q. Why didn't the county cut down the size of the building to stay within the limits of the first money by-law passed?

A. Because of grants, the county would have had to cut down $3 00 in cost to save $1.00. This would limit the facilities to the point that the school wouldn't be able to perform the function for which it is intended.

Ed Scraba, past president of the Lacombe Lions club and town representative on the county of Lacombe school committee, spoke to Lions club members on the need for a composite high school here at the regular meeting held at the LMC Monday evening.

He pointed out that if the project is dropped, cost to school ratepayers will be high "since there will be no relief in grants to help pay such item's fees, landscaping, etc" and he emphasized that a high school will still have to be built.

He answered many questions from members town ratepayers have a vote on any school matter some teachers have a ready been signed to teach the national subjects here this fall.

"We are not afraid of a plebiscite on this question," he pointed out "but what we fear is that if a plebiscite is called there will be such a time delay we will be unable to hold our present bid If we have to call for new tenders, the price might well be up again." he stated.

It' An Ill Wind . . . .

PROBABLY the farmer and the housewife cause which benefit the least as a result of the latest reports in dweller over unfavorably sensitive and dogged to provide the slack treatment that was necessary to bring permanent to its crease.

Maybe disgust at the spectacle was an good that it may have stirred our representatives into some more thinking about the future of Canada's governments. It has certainly made the nation as a whole face up to the sorry state which politics has fallen recently.

In The Financial Post, John Bird refers to the past ten years as the "dreadful decade" which started with the virtues pigeons debate in 1956, and has had permanent tattering from crisis to crisis ever since.

Moving bit such a low ebb last month, it is entirely possible that our members of parliament will mend their manners for the good of the country . . . if the time that remain than to protect their $10,000-per-year incomes which are continued only by the support of the electorate.

Rail Companies Fight Back

THE combination of passenger car cutbacks by short trips and airline travel for long trips has played havoc with railway passenger business over the past 30 years.

Railways, with extensive trackage and over hundreds of unproductive miles, have cut off services, rerouted trains and at least in the case of the CPR, have generally resisted the imposition of frustrating airline passenger monopolies.

It is therefore interesting to note what is being done by railways in other countries to combat the homely order and the airplane in their fight for existence.

Japan's two largest cities, Tokyo and Osaka are 322 miles apart. The trains were considered a good name for domestic airlines, but that was about the fastest express train took six hours to make the trip. Late in 1964, airlines noted a 10 - drop in passenger traffic when the railway introduced a five-hour schedule on a new express.

Last April, train time was cut to four hours, and in December, another 30 minutes was lacked off the longest travelling time. By the end of the year, there was a further drop of 25%, in airline traffic and the super-express with 160 seats is headed mind with revolutions each day.

Speed, apparently, is the essence in ground travel. And once railways generally leverages in the central portions of the city, they have a big advantage in the respect over airlines which contend with lengthy ground trips to and from airports.

Competition takes on a best edge when departure points and destination by air or rail become closely related Canadian — particularly the CPR — railways should take note!

Bride Price Inflation

THERE is a near revolution on marital contracts brewing in Nigeria, where inflation is threatening to price brides out of the marriage market, and the time-tested custom for young men to buy a bride from her father is at stake.

Under the African system, if the wife misbehaves, the husband gets the purchase price back from her father-in-law if the husband philanders, he loses both his bride and the dowry paid. This system has worked for centuries in tribal Africa but inflationary influences — and democracy — are threatening its future.

Interior Hog Sow Pools

Do you know that pooling one or more of hog prices can be dangerous to your profit? As J. Chamberlain, swine supervisor with the Alberta department of agriculture, reports that there have been several times when a pool, which seemed to promise to be a lucrative method for the producer of hogs, proved to be poor management.

Mr. Chamberlain says the "minimum basis in lieu of bonus on quality" is the only pool method he considers of any real benefit. They become complicated and overloaded and there is very small amount of real assistance to be given to set up the pooling procedure on young pigs.

Is there anything that can be done with this situation, Mr. Chamberlain? Yes but there is no easy way. Mr. Chamberlain is of the opinion the pool business can be greatly improved by giving the pool manager more to do and keeping in addition to their regular time duties. The pool manager should attend every hog sale in his area and be made up of three or four members of various segments of the hog picture.

Boards chosen not used in this manner may not be used to pools which are a drawback to farmers. According to some pool members the best thing pool does may be taken to be that it has caused the sale dealing perspective of farmers and to public marketing. It is time should be used only in sales dealings or during hot dry weather.

Mr. Chamberlain also stresses to producers who sell pigs to the local packing plant that they should be free of the Lord our God.

Signs of Spring

Ah, Spring
You glorious thing
You make me want to sing

And the flowers reckon

And what a pity that would be. Winter puts the run a nor mean flu into us, and we go around for most of two months complaining of certain parts emerging from low wrinkle of death hats that look to us like they are quite gaga.

Then we get optimistic as a heron's gut about spring. But then isn't it ordered you. The sun comes and for three days a morning out of my quilt. Ah and the evening approaching a thaw.

There are the people that I hate. Those who are active as soon as the robins arrive. There was the neighbor couple. I thought I knew. They were so active, so lively so organized and so full of life. Then in midwinter, one night at dinner they announced that they were going to be a new arrival. A baby.

Perhaps I should put them away in the fall. But when the sap has set and I go out and see them there it's like

Capital Report

reported to The Globe
by John Warren

The legislature for very nearly is bubbled over last week. At usual ends of the hour as generated by debate on one or two subjects. And by the harbor of those is no again the matter of aid to Peace River farmers.

On Tuesday some 14 members spoke during a two-hour debate on the budget. Charges of irresponsibility parading, time-wasting and the like flew around the house. The charges brought Premier Manning to his feet several times until he finally suggested the members get on with the business. Second ship. Chester Rogers threatened that by demanding his right to speak. Another half-hour of debate ensued.

The whole thing was prompted by opposition criticism stemming from a lukewarm progress on conditions on the Peace River region.

The premier replied testily "If the house has to lose its decorum on that type of propaganda, then democracy is in a bad way . . . Our information was not based on discovery of a CBC cameraman visiting personal to a few Lobstel farmers.

He added that the province has devoted a comprehensive program to the extent of its re agencies and that it is not based on isolated cases in the region. Most northern members pointed out that the problem was certainly not general. All but the NDLA members were in support of the government stand and called on the opposition to stop creating bad publicity for the area by constantly bringing up the issue.

At week's end the opposition showed no sign of quitting.

One of the things the legislature is supposed to do, however, is legislate. The government left no doubt about its intentions during those days by bringing in more than 30 bills last week, 20 of them on a single day. Each must be studied in detail and we can do no more than mention the highlights of a few of them.

However, the years had made perceptible by Easter seem doubtful. Despite the wishes of many of the members here are some of the legislative items given first reading:

● An amendment to the act governing daylight fund which has been in force for nearly 20 years. It provides that daylight time may be practised through the province if a majority vote is obtained in a provincial plebiscite on the issue.

● An amendment to provide for certain drivers between 16 and 18 who have passed driver training courses. Minister Gordon Taylor said it is designed to help prepare responsible young drivers and lower insurance rates for the safe ones. He said the government chose juvenile licenses as an alternative to raising the driving age to 18.

● An amendment to the credit and loan agreement act that will be a major step towards having all lending agencies close to simple terms, the extent they charge it. It would also provide for appointment of a supervisor of consumer credit who would among other things, deal with public complaints about credit terms and loans.

● A change that would make it an offence for a driver to be in a drinking joint while a board is on duty. A penalty is $100.

● A bill that would establish a province-operated hotel in Edmonton to be 80% of that is by livestock producers resulting from default by a licensed auction dealer. It will be repayable to MLA for the Lethbridge West.

● A change in the farm purchase credit act to make the assessable maximum loan $5,000 instead of the present $10,000.

● A new non profit corporation to provide prepaid pharmaceutical services. It would be established in connection with the Alberta health insurance plan.

● An amendment to the jury act that would allow women to sit on certain criminal cases and another legal change that will provide a courts' check on the use of securities by certain organizations.

● An amendment to the provincial hotels act to raise the retired serving age from 15 to 16.

Lacombe Experimental Farm Tests Show That

Fungi Affects Germination Of District Seed Oats

Farmers should make a special point of checking the germination of their seeds to be planted on a seed supply this spring. Dr. L. J. Piening and H. J. Kushnak of the local experimental farm claimed last week.

Reason: set germination tests at Lacombe indicate that many have poor strong seedlings but fail may have favored growth of a fungi which has reduced germination by as much as 20%.

Extent and severity of the germination problem isn't known for sure. Dr. Piening stated. Test germination on part of last year's oat crop at Lacombe indicates a germination as low as 80%.

Many of the seeds that did germinate resulted in weak, slow growing plants. Not much can be done about it now we admit, except to test the germinating seed over-all to get a good seed supply if the germination test is not good enough.

The problem stems from the fungi growing into the seed and stopping food reserves required by the young plant to sprout. It's a good year to germinate your seed, Dr. Piening stated. Don't expect a repeat of 1965 when all could get close on the paper after it was marketed.

Dr. Piening is assessing the problem, states that this is not something to become alarmed about. There would be a few problems, he stated, but the big problem during the wet year was weeds. Control of these will challenge us this year.

Contractor Starts Work Clearing Land For Six-Acre Centennial Park at Alix

ALIX — Three cheers for the centennial committee which has signed a contract with John Lawrence of Red Deer to clear the six acres steel plow, bow saw and axe-swinger, John will be on both ends, and develop short walks through the park.

The park, situated in Mc-Donald's quarter, that the village purchased from Mr. Mc-Donald a few years back, is a natural for a centennial project.

Being a wooded area, there will be no landscaping and it won't be necessary to plant trees. All prospects of spring are that the park will be a beautiful place for picnics and outings.

Mr. Lawrence had planned to have the project completed by Dominion Day, but with the late spring he doesn't anticipate completion before the end of June.

Mr. Lawrence has been in the contracting business for a number of years, and has had the use of a bulldozer, but has sold it and will be using only hand tools.

Village council has given the project its blessing and as much of the area is covered with poplar trees, the work on the park will be carried on as a community project.

Mr. Lawrence has been in the Alix area for a number of years and has many friends here.

Cemetery Upkeep

On Thursday, two workers and a tractor from the cemetery, Jim Dixon and the tractor, Mr. Mc-Donald, began the annual cleanup of the cemetery.

Mr. Dixon has been in charge of the cemetery for a number of years and has done a fine job of keeping it in shape.

AGT, County Meet Here

Representatives of the County of Lacombe and representatives of mutual telephones company from this area will meet this afternoon at the Legion hall to discuss matters dealing with underground telephone cables. The meeting started at 1:30 p.m.

R J Attwood, outside plant engineer on rural lines for A Government Telephones will be main speaker at the meeting, and will acquaint municipal and mutual telephone officials with the procedure established by the AGT in laying underground cables.

Council is directly interested because long range plans of the AGT call for telephone lines to be laid under the ground, in conduit and most of these lines will run beneath road allowances.

Mutual telephone company directors are interested in AGT plans since many of the rural companies are considering burying telephone lines in their areas.

With Mr Attwood will be Tom Wade, manager AGT in Edmonton and Bob Currie of the Red Deer AGT office.

An invitation to officials of the 36 mutual telephone companies in the country has been issued by county officials and most members are expected to be represented at the meeting.

Vol. LX. — No. 39 LACOMBE, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 13, 1956 PRICE — TEN CENTS

New Plant to Start Operations Here May 1

A staff of "around twelve" will be employed in the Mobile Living Products Ltd., plant and head office by the time operations get underway here at round the end of this month.

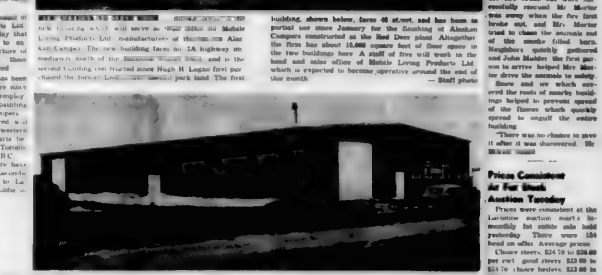
Present plans call for one building to be used for the assembling, storage and fitting out of Alcohan Campers which will eventually be manufactured at the firm's plant in Edmonton.

Between five and six employees will initially work in the plant finishing building here and assembling five will be employed in the head office section.

Charles Chomiak, president of Mobile Living Products Ltd. told The Globe yesterday that plans are underway to expand into the manufacturing of holiday trailers, but those plans are not yet finalized.

The finishing plant has been in partial operation here since January with three employees undertaking the painting and finishing of the campers. Materials manufactured will be distributed to all western Canada with some parts being shipped as far as Toronto and New Westminster, B.C.

Mr and Mrs Chomiak have purchased a house in Lacombe and expect to move to Lacombe around the middle of May.



Plan Series of School Meets

Public meetings will be held throughout the county to give a thorough airing to all phases of the composite (vocational-academic) school planned at Lacombe.

The PUA has requested county school committee members to attend these public meetings so that the entire subject of the school may be fully discussed.

At Lacombe proper, the board of trade will sponsor a similar meeting for the information of town ratepayers.

Meetings have been planned as follows:

● Friday, April 16 — at Lacombe high school auditorium commencing at 8:00 p.m.

● Monday, April 16—at Eckville school auditorium, at the Eckville school auditorium. Both meetings start at 8:00 p.m.

● Tuesday, April 10 — at Clive school auditorium and at the Blackfalds school auditorium. Both meetings at 8:00 p.m.

● Wednesday, April 20 — at Alix community hall, and at Bentonwood school auditorium. Both meetings at 8:00 p.m.

● Thursday, April 21 — at Mirror school auditorium, at 8:00 p.m.

Where two meetings have been called on the same night, different members of the educational committee will be present to discuss the matter

County School Committee Busy at Day-Long Session

County school committee members dealt with a mass of routine business at the regular monthly day-long meeting held at the county office Tuesday. Among the more important matters dealt with on the 33-item agenda:

● Bus needs for the coming year were discussed in full, and it was agreed to call for tenders for the purchase of three 65-passenger buses and one 30-passenger bus.

● J. W. McKay, director of the safety division of the highway traffic board of the department of highways, wrote to the committee recommending drive-in ... ding courses in high schools.

● The safety division highly recommends such drive-training, and Mr. McKay will be invited to attend the next meeting of the school committee to discuss this matter further.

● Authorized school superintendent Dr. T. E. Giles to study requirements and look into the need for an "expressly classroom" for elementary grade students who will not profit adequately to normal classroom teaching.

The matter was thoroughly discussed. Dr. Giles reported that such "opportunity rooms" have been running for many years in other centres, and that a special curriculum has been set up by the department of education for instruction of these students.

If the need exists, the committee went on record as being in favor of setting up such a classroom "probably for 1957."

● School Inspector Carl Jaudon had numerous matters upon which he sought guidance. Matters discussed dealt with the condition of electrical wiring at the Alix leather room, a heating coil leak at the elementary school at Lacombe, need for sidewalks at the new Blackfalds and Mirror school sites.

● Physical education equipment at schools also came up for discussion. Mr. Jaudon reported on finding storage space for some of this equipment at the schools. The matter was referred to committees, whose members will investigate both purchases and storage facilities.

● Need for "darkening" some classrooms so that film strips and projectors can be used in classrooms was also discussed. Supervisors were instructed to repairs floor polishers and vacuum cleaners which are required.

● Heard a report that the new high school at Alix is progressing well, with more than half the walls up on the classrooms are.

● Approved installation of peanut vending machine in Lacombe junior high school.

● Appointed a committee of five — A. E. Wagner and Mrs. Lee — to meet with village of Blackfalds councillors regarding a new rural in the vicinity of Blackfalds school grounds.

● Committee members will meet today at Mirror (at 1:30) to inspect Mirror and Clive schools during the afternoon. Visits to other schools are planned this month at Clive and Alix on Monday, April 16, and at Blackfalds and Bentley on Wednesday, April 20.

The petition was read at town council meeting Monday evening, and was discussed briefly before being turned over to the public works committee for study. No paving improvement had been planned in this area this year.

It was noted that considerable excavation and fill would be required at the north end of 49 street before the lane was suitable for hard-topping.

by Terry Jones

My mother like so many females only has a vague idea of what's happening when the football, baseball, golf fantasy, boxing and curling games are on and her favorite phrase is "I know it's there but I'm not interested."

Under the guise of watching the hockey game on TV, she'll sit and knit and hum and generally contribute to the atmosphere of the room.

On the mammoth shoulders of football players are huge quantities of padding. Their clothing is to keep them warm.

Numbers are worn on the back and big burly sylvesters wear them to help identify the players in the shaving cream materials.

The game of ninth and of the field with a crossbar holding them together. Whenever a football player scores the goal line the referee lets out a terrific blast through three posts. If it goes through he gets one point. If he dies he gets a free kick from the ball through the posts he gets a fifth from his coach. However he is likely to make up to $20,000 from royalties and T-V rights to the kid.

Basically the object of the game is carry the ball over the goal and drag four or five players of the other team over with you. Then is done by allowing players on the other team to bite your leg grab your pants or pull on your shoe laces.

The Composite High School

THE Mill pause is in favor of construction of the composite high school at Lacombe for two reasons.

The vocational section of the building (which is paid for by federal and provincial funds) will fill a pressed need by teaching optional subjects which are an integral part of the department of education's high school curriculum. At the present time the high school here offers only 10 courses out of 120 courses listed by the department of education. Thus, present high school facilities offer severely restricted courses to county students.

No county school committee, charged with the responsibility of educating pupil with a changing educational system could ignore the weakness and fulfill its duties to the public.

The second reason we favor construction of this school has largely to do with the supplement alternative classroom space is badly needed at Lacombe Plans for construction have been held delayed pending construction of the composite high school.

But if this school is not built, additional classrooms will have to be built anyway. These won't be constructed without cost ... and the new classrooms would still fail to provide space for the additional training badly needed.

If this school is not built, county high school students will be the sufferers, and the total taxpayer will not have saved enough to make the students' sacrifice worthwhile.

The Canadian Budget

THE recent Canadian budget, on which debate will commence in the house of commons this week, has been the subject of much entire during the past two weeks, having been dubbed the "down with prosperity" budget.

One thing the budget did recognize, though, is the threat of all-out inflation in Canada, and it has given government action to slow down these inflationary trends.

It is noteworthy that the government was not swayed by the Canadian Labour Congress brief in January which emphasized that there is no need for the government to follow anti-inflationary policies at this time and as no need for restraint on wage demands.

This is praiseworth as most housekeepers are aware, the cost-of-living index has seemed to new heights with the January official price index at 161.3, up 3.1 per cent from the index figure of 156.9 a year earlier

No person likes increased taxes, but most people will agree that next year's price jumps are clear evidence that there is need for restraint to decelerate inflationary trends.

The budget is intended to accomplish just this. If it does so, it is a good budget.

Nylon Hose

IT is hard for men to realize the importance of nylons in the feminine mind. For years chemistry gave women nylons — sheerer and stronger than silk — then have cheerfully accepted the cost of nylon hose as a necessary item in the day-to-day cost of living. This cost skyrocketed in Jacksonville, Florida, recently when nylons began to run on the legs of the wearers. Without warning, three lines nylons appeared, and as women rushed to buy replacements, a shortage of nylons appeared in city stores

What mysterious force caused this phenomenon? There was a simple explanation Nylon, made from coals is not resistant to sulphuric acid, and particles of that chemical were found in the fumes of an industrial oil blown from a nearby plant Result? Nylons ran

This experience goes to prove that what chemistry can do, it can undo Watch your nylons, girls, particularly around sulphuric acid!

Is This Progress?

LATEST development in parking meters is a sneaky one. A newly patented meter automatically turns back to zero when a car pulls out of the parking space, so that nobody else can treeload on the unused time.

The meter sends out periodic ultrasonic pulses which flip the meter back to zero if the pulses are not reflected back by a car in the parking space.

Sounds like pretty dirty pool to us.

It's A State of Mind

Spring is not a season. It is a state of mind. To Brooks, Alberta, it's busy. To Vancouver, it's Hong Kong. Now, in April, it's "Expo" in Montreal. Everywhere it's something different to some different people. Last summer, Dawson Creek experienced a heat wave. Some people, not realizing it, died. However, most experienced nothing but some pleasant days.

Gardeners are happy. Lovers are happy. Golfers are happy. Everyone is happy except those who are happy all the time. Then they are unhappy because they aren't happy enough.

Doctors are busy. Undertakers are busy. Florists are busy. Everyone is busy except those who are unemployed. Then they are busy looking for jobs.

Students are glad to get out of school. Teachers are glad to get back to school. Some students are glad to get back to school. Some teachers are glad to get out of school. Some students are glad to get out of school. Some Mayor Wes Jackson has otherwise in a town garden centennial project.

Like good civic leaders which he has demonstrated regarding Lacombe's other interests, Mayor Jackson has set the example.

"At the time of incorporation of the village (April 21, 1906) the Ordinance of the North West Territories required that an Overseer be elected.

"The Overseer acted as chairman of the local council and sanitary inspector and ran the village.

"The first election in Lacombe was held at two polls on Wednesday, August 15, 1906 and William Burns was elected as the first overseer.

Campaign For Rail Safety Bears Fruit

Efforts of residents of the Clive-Alix-Joffre areas to have all Canadian railroads locomotives equipped with diesel rotating flashing warning lights are beginning to show signs of success.

A campaign for such lights was launched by residents of the area, south-east of Lacombe following a car-train crash near Joffre on January 6 1965 in which four persons were instantly killed.

Progress of the campaign was slow.

Although widespread support from numerous district and provincial organizations was unsatisfactory forthcoming and despite models, lights and the need, several railroads refused to equip locomotives with the devices.

In recent months however the railway lines agreed to early rail experiments in this direction. According to letters received by Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Fawcett of Clive, the area's found that the present automatic gate lights which are located in yard operation under the Lacombe area that the lights were inadequate after short service life and it has not been possible to obtain from the manufacturers a suitable corrective modification."

A meeting between railway officials, municipal and the Canadian board of transport commissioners also brought to light that the high cost of maintenance on the pre-

We are well aware that many of the people in the area of water control, but it is the real interest with that every ratepayer could have all the facts. We do all we can to the point to put the facts before our ratepayers.

BREAKDOWN OF SCHOOL COSTS — This is a facsimile of the chart of composite school costs shown by school committee chairman A. E. Wigmore at the public school meeting held at the high school here last Friday. The graph, as being used at the other public meetings being held at all centres in the county this week.

In referring to the cost of the building, Mr. Wigmore states that "by incorporating academic area with vocational area, we save" — since 66⅔ of the cost of the total school is being paid for by federal and provincial governments under the vocational training act. (See chart above).

Other costs of the school, as shown by the chart 25% on a basis building grant from the provincial foundation program, the remaining 9% of the cost of the school, a charge on county ratepayers.

School committee chairman Wigmore emphasized during his talk that school space is required at Lacombe anyway — "and if we build without the vocational area, it will cost us more money since there will be fewer grants. The $1,864,000 grant from the federal-vocational training act is an outright gift," he stressed.

School Meetings Held In County

A disappointing crowd of 60 attended the public meeting called to discuss the Lacombe composite high school at the high school auditorium here on Friday evening.

The meeting was called by the Lacombe and district board of trustees and president Dorothy Watrous was chairman.

Chief[illegible] committee chairman A. E. Wigmore of the Alliance explained the cost of a meeting on the construction of the composite school.

Among the points dealt by him made during his presentation

● "We are trying to provide our students with an equal opportunity of education and so make a range of programs as we can available to others."

● He gave the background of the vocational system, the need for vocational training and the sharing of complete costs with the federal and provincial governments.

● "We have adopted the structure in Lacombe for two basic reasons which we think are good, and this school and building is urgently required at La Combe right now."

● He expressed a note of costs rising at this present is delayed, "because we cannot hold our present building and in security."

● "We asked permission of the provincial department of education to build a school away on this matter, and avoid delay, but we were turned down since the school area does not provide for this action."

● The contractor will hold his bid "until we use wisdom and a vote is required if there is such a plebiscite and the school carries now bid will have to be acted for."

● In answer to those who have cried of running a white elephant with the construction of the composite high school, the cost analysis of the 600-plus student Lacombe school.

The analysis shows that the vocational school at that point "is actually operating them in a financial way", because of extra operating grants which are made available by the provincial government for vocational schools.

● "We have 276 high school pupils in Lacombe at the present time and we will have the composite school half full from the moment we move."

● It will take three years before all grades are operating on the actual vocational training section of the school.

Questions

R. V. McCullough of the Harmon district was the only questioner from the floor.

Among his questions were those dealing with the ability of students to pass provincial leaving grade 12 exams, maintenance matters and depreciation and he expressed doubt that children from the "fringe areas" of the county could get any more out of the school because of distances to be travelled.

His Wigmore answered by stating that by school time transferred on a simulated school passage trip, "there is no spot in the county — anywhere — more than 1 hour and 30 minutes from the completed Lacombe school."

Several other questions were asked from the floor for information purposes and a hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mr Wigmore upon completion of his presentation and answers.

Other school meetings dealing with essentially the same information have been held as follows:

AT BENTLEY — Jack Cook, son, deputy chairman of the county school committee and Norman Michael, county councillor were speakers to 27 residents present. Numerous questions were asked, most of them have dropped to the speakers by C. D. Marble and Jim Alexander of Lacombe Roy Reid, public secretary treasurer of the county, also gave facts and figures concerning the school

AT BENCHLAND — Art Wigmore spoke and explained the county's stand to approximately 30 to 40 residents who attended the meeting Mr Wigmore answered a large number of questions, many of which dealt with the school which a composite school in Lacombe would have on the operation of the Bentley high school

AT BLACKFALDS — There were only 10 to 15 people on hand at the school last night to hear school committee chairmen Jack Cochrane explain the composite high school. Majority of the questions asked were from C. D. Marble and Jim Alexander of Lacombe.

AT CLIVE — Over 30 Clive and district residents were on hand last night to hear chairman Art Wigmore explain the financial picture as it pertains to the composite high school construction costs.

Questions dealt mainly with the recent announcement of the county school committee to close the Clive high school and Ben Hoekstra in particular spoke strongly in favour of keeping the high school at Clive in operation.

The series of informative meetings have been sponsored by the district PUA to present ratepayers to obtain answers to questions concerning the composite high school.

Public meeting will be held at Alix tonight, at 8:00 p.m., and the last meeting in the series will be held at Mirror on Thursday, also at 8:00 p.m.

Fire Levels House

A duplex house on the Dominion Lea farm 4½ miles north-east of Clive burned to the ground early Monday morning in spite of efforts of Clive volunteer fire fighters to stem the flames.

One side of the log but old duplex was occupied by Lonnie Lea, who started a fire in his stove around 6:00 a.m. Monday. Flames apparently channelled and from the stove pipe, and Mr Lea's canvas of the house started to blaze for [illegible]

Don Lea who happened to be passing by on the road saw the smoke, and saw the fire of many volunteers who turned up to assist

All furniture and contents of Mr. Lea's portion of the duplex were completely lost as the fire had the furniture, clothing and possessions of Mr. Gertrude Lea, a sister-in-law who lives in the other side of the duplex, were saved

The house is now and a half for the flames to consume the house Clive fire fighters and [illegible] pointed down the nearby new residence occupied by Dennis Lea, and also protected him and his family and [illegible] assets. SCORCH [illegible]

Fortunately there was no wind, and thus saved the job of protecting the flames.

Loss of house and contents is estimated at around $6,000 which is believed to be almost all covered by insurance

15 Cattle Killed; Hit By CN Dayliner

Only seven head of the herd of 22 cattle survived the accident

Mr Weidner had been tending the cattle in a corral for spring marketing. The animals had been led to the lakefrontage and were preparing when Mr Weidner left to visit friends.

It is believed that something unsettled the cattle for they broke through the corral gate and stampeded through three fences to rush headlong down the railway track

$100 Damage in Minor Traffic Mishap On Town Street

One hundred dollars damage was caused to a 1965 Pontiac sedan owned by Mrs. Sandy Atkinson in a traffic accident near the corner of 50 avenue and 50 street. The front end of Mrs. Atkinson's car was damaged when a large 3-ton semi-trailer truck, driven by Joseph E. Beaton of Red Deer, backed into it.

Police investigated. No charges were laid.

Nothing Stolen as Mirror Service Station Entered

From our own correspondent's

MIRROR. — The Esso service at Mirror was broken into some time Sunday evening, although the owner, Lorne Provost, reports nothing missing.

Entry to the building was apparently made by breaking the window in the basement door and reaching the door catch and opening the door.

FUA to Sponsor Meeting

A large FUA-sponsored public meeting to provide information on the Canada pension plan will be held in Lacombe within the next two or three weeks.

Members of the Bentley Valley FUA are organizing the meeting to provide information with specific reference to those clauses which have caused protests from farmer groups during the past two months.

Jim Hainsworth is committee chairman for the meeting, and told The Globe Monday that an invitation to attend would be extended to Harry Moore, MP.

A member of the federal department in charge of the pension plan will also be invited to speak.

The meeting will be similar to one held recently at Aspeland hall which many farmers voiced objection to certain compulsory clauses in the plan.

Sixteen county FUA locals will be contacted in respect to this meeting.

Shorthorn Club Annual Meeting Here April 26

Annual meeting of the central Alberta Shorthorn club will be held at the Lacombe memorial centre on Monday, April 25, commencing at 8:00 p.m. The meeting coincides with the Lacombe spring bull sale which will see Shorthorn bulls sold on April 26.

Organized Opposition

- Opposition to construction of the composite high school at Lacombe is being sparked by a small, well-organized group of men from town and district who are canvassing to have protest petitions signed
- Several farmers of the immediate Lacombe area told The Globe last week that they have been urged to sign petitions to demand a vote on the county's request for additional borrowing powers.
- Such a plebiscite is the right of every ratepayer, but in this case, the mere fact that a vote is held can scuttle school building plans
- In the event of a plebiscite (this paper believes it would pass handily) the present building bid for the school would be null and void, and new tenders would have to be called.
- Politicians are that any new construction bid would be higher than the one now in hand . . . so that the county, even with a favorable vote, would find itself back to its present position six weeks from now — unable to build with its budget.

SPORT

By Tony Aunol

Baseball is a funny game. Jim Cunningham, an old customer with the St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates who now broadcasts baseball, wrote a book under that name.

And Jim, he's right.

Three of all late's fans a look at the baseball diamond (?) Saturday at the diamond in a square with little marks of dirt at each corner. An outfield surrounds it.

The outfield is at the major league only better kept than a city park in Lacombe it is more of a garden. . . lots of weeds and pepper holes.

There are three important games on a ballfield. The diagnol, built pen and press box.

The diagnol, really a hole in the ground, is usually found behind third base and another behind first base.

Slash is covered by a roof. They hedge to protect the contest players from rain, sun and more important, stone, beer cans and programs thrown by non - appreciative spectators or disgusted equipment in all dugouts is a kick-resistant rubber center.

The ball pen is where pitchers are warmed up. It is adequately named because many players about the ball have thus anywhere else in the ball park.

This is the only place in the park where you can find out which referee Bo Belinski had last night, how many ears Wilbo Major went through, and the real reason why Sandy Koufax is still single.

The game has a religion. The sports writers and sports and no who inhabit the box are the only of baseball fans who can talk about yesterday's game while writing today's story and tell you, at the same time, today's going to win tomorrow and why.

It is important, indeed, to blend in with the crowd. This is done by yelling "you lousy" "kill the Umpy" or "Yeah, blind" call Mel from one group as you won't look out of place in New York.)

By explaining to a guy sitting next to you the reasons why the Detroit Tigers are going to win the American League pennant (pitching depth, batting power and hard hitting outfield) you will have no difficulty in being taken for a real expert on the game.

But under any circumstances don't get in a good word for the New York Yankees.

Widen The Horizons

One of the worst features of government bureaucracy is the development of red-tape from which civil servants develop in their own special departmental interests.

The devotion becomes so frequently accompanied by a narrow parochial outlook — a fault more to-be-condemned for the civil servant attitude which leads to stodgy thinking and stereotyped decisions. With the growing participation of government agencies in all lines of extensive vision is needed — and narrow thinking

In the future, the federal government is aware of this danger, and is taking steps to encourage transfer of top civil servants from one department to another. Summer for government officials are being arranged so that they can meet with business men, farmers and fishing groups and so widen their horizons as to needs of the general public.

Our governments should carefully follow the results of these experimental schemes in the future.

Spadework For Centennial

A centennial workshop will be held Friday evening and it is hoped that all organizations in town and district will be represented to discuss Lacombe's plans for observance of Canada's centennial.

Representatives from the [illegible] will be present at this workshop to provide concrete information and advice on local centennial plans.

Suggestions for this type of celebration can be divided roughly into two categories the type of grandiose scheme which is enthusiastically promoted on the theory that whatever else will do all the work then there are suggestions from groups and individuals who themselves are willing to carry their suggestions [illegible]

Whatever type of centennial celebration Lacombe does plan, it is going to need the support of all interested from all walks of life. Let's get behind whatever plans are made . . . better yet let's show up at the LSC Friday evening and take part in formulating the plans!

Incentive in Industry

It is evident in recent reports from Russia that the Soviet are swing away from orthodox communism in yielding a snowballing influence in the field of increased production.

Recently the Russian Government expanded a policy started by Nikita Khrushchev to stimulate personal initiative and institute a competitive element in industry.

Central and regional planning has been scaled down in the USSR. Factory bosses are now given the power to make more decisions, and workers are more acquainted with the not-entirely-novel procedure whereby the more they produce and the better the quality, the more they can earn.

According to Russian figures, non-agricultural workers earned an average of $105.55 per month in 1956. This is an increase of $3.55 over 1954, and is double the 1948 figure.

Production of consumer goods last year increased 8.5 per cent. Refrigerator and washing machine production is up, boasting [illegible] Credited with this increase in production is the loosening of centralized government control.

It is paradoxical that at the same time Russia is learning the benefits of personal initiative our governments are gradually restricting such benefits for its citizens.

BE WISE . . .
PLAY IT SAFE

"You might as well give a burglar an engraved invitation to help himself at your house, if you leave valuables lying about," says Robert Conner, manager of the Bank of Montreal's Lacombe branch.

Mr. Conner adds that behind the staid doors of a B of M vault is the safest place for valuables such as bonds, leases, stock certificates, insurance policies, deeds, birth certificates, passport and other important papers.

"It costs less than two cents a day to rent a B of M safety deposit box," he says, and explains that hundreds of thousands of Canadians use B of M safety deposit facilities, an indication of the popularity of this service. "It pays for itself again and again in years of sound sleep," he says.

"Give the burglar a brush-off at your house," Mr. Conner advises. "Keep your valuables in your personal strong box . . . it's exclusively yours — in the Lacombe B of M vault."

Drop in soon and see Mr. Conner about renting a safety deposit box . . . it will set your mind at rest.

For those of you who dislike the job of ironing, permanent pleated shirts are now on the market. The cost is somewhat higher than ordinary wash and wear.

Consumer reports say that the shirts that were tested perform somewhat after many washings but ordinary bleaching removed the wrinkle-resistant finishing to the panelists they are at least as comfortable as the usual weather as typical wash and wear shirts. They were also found to have adequate strength and durability to meet normal wash and wear tests of a few years use, and have a better appearance than wash and wear shirts especially around the seams if carefully laundered and dried.

Careful, gentle laundering also handle drying is recommended. Two tests are given by low spinning rate, tumble with a small load, or hang damp and towels so they crowd and avoid wrinkles — remove and hang on a hanger. Drip-dry shirts were found to be not quite as wrinkle resistant, however, after laundering and after wearing for a short period.

Shorthorn Club Holds Banquet Here On Eve of Bull Sale

Plans for a Canadian national centennial shorthorn show in Calgary in July 1967 were announced at a banquet and annual meeting of the central Alberta Shorthorn breeders association held at the LMC Monday evening.

Art Bossons president of the club was chairman for the banquet and program. A short meeting was held in the afternoon for visitors by town of Lacombe Mayor Wes Jackson and Lacombe board of trade president Don Vickerson.

Howard Byers, secretary of the Alberta Shorthorn association outlined plans for the centennial shorthorn show and stated that the Alberta government has signalled its intention to provide funds for the show.

Chairman Bossons reported that the junior Alberta shorthorn association female sale will be held in Lacombe on June 10.

Chairman Gordon of the Alberta department of agriculture explained the Alberta beef cattle performance testing program, and expressed concern that Shorthorn breeders had not taken full advantage of the opportunities offered by the program.

Members of the Bentley hit then head provided a musical program and perform a special dance possibly to be known as the "Bentley Jamboree Twist"

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Ave. I Wilson who passed away April 13, 1955.

In tears we see you sinking,
And watched you fade away,
Five months were almost broken hearted
When God took you away.
To part from you was sweet sorrow,
We could not say goodbye,
To watch you suffer was more than we could bear,
To suffer and die.
Sadly missed by Mother and Dad, Terry and Jack. 16-1p

In loving memory of Mother, Mrs. Jessie Cameron, who passed away May 1, 1955, and of Father, Mr. Alex Weatherall who passed away May 1, 1958 and Sister Mrs. Ivy Gordon Deane Weatherall who passed away May 11, 1959.

IBBARSON
Memory of our loving son, Baby Bert John, who passed away April 30, 1965.

Or our darling whom we love can never be sold,
God's memory flowers bloom in Heaven.
In His memory today
Take a lesson and make by kindly.
Some day we shall meet him there.
— Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by Mother, Daddy, Sue and Barbara, grandparents, aunts and uncles. 16-1p

EDITORIAL

Spring . . . . and Burning

SPRING time is traditionally clean-up time, and most householders of town will be cleaning up there lots in readiness for the gardening season ahead.

Such a clean-up involves the burning of refuse. All residents should be aware of the laws in this town covers the hours during which such refuse and garbage may be burned. A four page pamphlet distributed by the town of Lacombe brings these hours to attention of residents as follows:

"No person shall burn or cause to be burned any combustible garbage or waste outdoors on any Sunday or before the hour of 5:00 p.m. on Monday, or before 5:00 p.m. on any other day of the week."

Several complaints have been heard recently of householders who do not follow this regulation — particularly the morning restriction on Mondays, a traditional housewife's washday.

When residents burn they should do so at a time which causes the least inconvenience to neighbors . . . particularly to neighbors whose wash is hanging out to dry.

For Safer Cars

A CHIEFTAINCY by the automobile industry that momentous safety standards for new cars are needed and must be set a good news for all motorists.

While accumulative statistics on motor vehicle accidents in Canada for the last year will not be known for some time, it is estimated that 5,000 persons will be killed on our roads and highways. Safety standards on cars will go a long way toward hammering the severity of accidents which do occur with appalling frequency.

The need for safety in cars has been promoted for years, but it wasn't until the US congress took similar action that we make motor cars mandatory that manufacturers finally awoke to the fact that the general public is becoming alarmed about the traffic toll.

Government action became necessary in the final — and is necessary in Canada too — since private enterprise has failed to meet a glaring moral need.

It is pointed out with truth that most accidents are caused by high speeds, drinking drivers and sheer carelessness. Faulty highway engineering and lack of periodical inspection of cars in use also play their part in contributing to accidents.

To let those common causes, though is not to make light of the urgent need for safer cars. Although nothing can take the responsibility for safety from the car's driver, safety-tested cars can assist the driver in doing his job well.

Oh For The Days Of Brevity

THE word masters of Ottawa are still at it.

Trade Minister Robert Winters' department recently issued guidelines for good corporate behaviour with a view to aiding chief executives of foreign company subsidiaries in this country.

Written in a cloudy, wordy style, the guidelines contained the following sentence: "Realization of maximum competitiveness through the most effective use of the company's own resources, recognizing the desirability of progressively achieving appropriate specialization of productive operations within their internationally affiliated group of companies."

As The Financial Post comments, and interprets it, this muddle says, "Specialize in company."

Certain management quarters seem to consider cloudy statements as indicating deep thought and stylish manners. The result in that the ordinary man requires a guide to the guidelines to understand what is being said.

Land Use

Are you making the best use of all your land? This is a question that many farmers are posing themselves these days in the present mood. However.

There is one thing I can state with certainty, many of us have not been using some land to the best advantage. I'm sure that we could put more land to use if we had more money or the land is productive enough to pay for the use.

In making some areas, we found that we are spending more time and money drained out with some of the drainage ditches every time the rain comes along. Also that ditching does not always improve drainage. Many of us have areas of stand or grubbed out and the costs of farming can be reduced by not having to go around sloughs.

The extension engineers are prepared to do the surveying and layout of most of these drainage projects. Before the area is started it is worthwhile to get an estimate of the cost.

Town Young People's Week

Nothing is more likely to bring farm people and town people together than a common interest in the young people. Such a common interest will be found next June 27 to 29 when the annual young people's conference is held at Camrose. Lacombe is sending a delegation of young people to this conference. Ann Sparrow, Linda Lacey, Ann Lacey, Lesley Lee, Wendy Bacon, Dorothy Lee and Wendy Bacon are attending.

Any ages are given on the events before you leave and keep a record and information regarding the club groups plan for attending the meeting on April 28. Those not unable to attend on that date must make arrangements in writing for the June meeting before June 1.

The result it is pointed that each province gives a one to three acre and just the area over the given is to be in the form of a one-day or two-day meeting in the fall or a spring day meeting.

Senator Is Speaker at Alix Meet

Senator Earl Hastings of Calgary spoke briefly on the Trudeau visit, came to the conclusion that it sounded as if he must have been right at the Alix banquet of trade and agriculture Monday evening of last week.

Referring to himself as a "long time minister the most unknown minister, the work of unsung administrators and modest, private men neither in the prosperity of agriculture.

He said that the world now is in a "mess" but that it is the result of the "mess" of the two previous wars. Still optimistic he said that the world will survive and "the future of man is unlimited."

Senator Hastings was speaker of the year banquet and he spoke briefly and related some humorous stories.

Mr. Hastings pointed out that the Act created trade unions and the reason for its existence.

Farmers of the future must learn to co-exist with labor in the 20th century.

Temperature Rises to 76 Degrees Today

Temperatures climbed to 76 degrees Fahrenheit Monday for the highest reading of the year and presumably the start of summer.

The warm, balmy weather followed a rise of 24 degrees in four days — the low temperature before the April 29 being 15 degrees.

The warm weather signalled the start of farming here and throughout the district as farmers took to their tractors and cultivators to work fields in preparation for seeding.

Power Cut to 175 Consumers In Clive REA

A power interruption of 3½ hours duration affected about 175 consumers in the Clive R.E.A. on Saturday during a pioneer repair job.

Calgary Power manager Ben Martin of Alix told The Globe that the power interruption was necessary after a three-foot section of pole burned off at the rural sub-station west of Clive on Saturday.

After the power was turned on, 66 farms further down the line were without power for about an hour as a result of a switchover Mr Martin said.

Top price of $1,550 was paid recently at the Lacombe spring bull sale for Diamond Jubilee Commander Aberdeen Angus bull from Heatherbrook Farms Ltd of Lacombe brought this price from Carvalho Angus Farms Ltd of Lacombe.

Many animals changed hands during the two-day sale which was held in the Lacombe Agricultural Society grounds.

Sale manager Ben Martin of Alix said The Globe that the sale was successful in spite of the fact that many animals were unable to reach the sale grounds because of heavy snowfalls and cold weather. Buyers came from as far away as Barrhead and Bentley. The bull sale attracted buyers from Lacombe, Red Deer, Ponoka, Stettler, Camrose, Wetaskiwin, Leduc, Edmonton, Calgary and Vermilion districts.

Mr Martin said that trucks were unable to navigate the side roads to bring the bulls to the sale.

There were many top prices paid for bulls of all breeds.

$1,550 was paid for a Hereford bred entered by Bennett Bros of Bentley. The bull was purchased by R A Magee of Clive.

A number of other bulls sold for up to $900 and $800 each.

The auctioneer pleaded a big part on the sales this year and generously offered the judging to farmers present and pointed points kept down the crowds which usually surrounded the judging ring.

The sale moves along smoothly under the guidance of sales manager Ben Henderson, and auctioneer Alberta agricultural society president Ray Hall, assisted by Richard and secretary Jack McKinley.

Rap Pension Plan At Meeting Here

The Canada pension plan is not a popular piece of legislation with the farmers of this area.

Rimbey Health became [illegible] when approximately 150 residents visited in favor of a resolution [illegible] urging all farmers be omitted from the compulsory Canada pension plan at a district PUA sponsored meeting held at the Legion hall here Friday evening.

The resolution did not [illegible] unanimously. At least three audience members voted against it, and one spoke in favor of the pool at the conclusion of presentations made from the platform.

Speakers were

● W Dahl, regional director of family allowances and old age security, who outlined the provisions of the plan.

● Harry Moore, local MP, who admitted he voted for the plan "in principle" but is not in sympathy with many of its clauses.

● Dan Lawrence, chairman of the pension committee of the Sheriff's Lake PUA local south of Pine Lake, who spoke vehemently against the pension plan provisions.

Lawrence Henderson was chairman for the meeting and Dean Chesser of the sponsoring [illegible] Valley PUA local, was master of ceremonies.

Dan Lawrence claimed the pension plan failed as a piece of "socialized legislation because it does not help out the poor people at all."

He scornfully referred to the plan as "money taken from the people who have got it to give to a group who [illegible] and gave them what they need in the first place."

The Pine Lake farmer took exception to many points of the pension plan. He claimed that an 18-year-old employed person puts into the plan for 47 years at the rate of only $180 per year and will see his benefits [illegible] at the age of 65.

At another time in his talk, he stated that "our PUA local members didn't lead that we would sign government plan to force us into a plan which at least them to get their money back [illegible] cash back."

Mr. Lawrence expressed the view that private life insurance company policies with family income benefits provide better protection at more favorable rates for money paid than does the Canada pension plan.

(This statement was challenged from the floor during the question period.)

The speaker also stressed that "as a social measure, an extension of the old age pension payments would produce far greater benefits for all."

He also had a warning for those present: "Once we start getting into particular type of compulsory legislation it will grow and grow and grow . . . and it will be seriously hard to smash the government."

M.P. Leaks

Harry Moore, MP, endeared himself to all present to the provisions of the pension plan which he called [illegible] legislation since it gives the [illegible] Government the last word and gives the wage [illegible] when they need it most [illegible] when they don't need it.

The pension plan proposed is the [illegible] and [illegible] amendments were made [illegible] to amend the pension plan to remove the provision for a base of 25 years of contributions, unless you pay in 25 years of contributions.

He criticized the government for failure to co-relate public pensions with private pensions and compared private plans with the CPP. He estimated that "by the year 1985, the pension plan will build up a fund of about $14 billion."

Mr. Moore outlined details of the plan to demonstrate that "certain age groups under the plan will get a windfall." He explained that an employed person, at age 25 years could pay in only $900 ($1,354 if self-employed), and at the end of 10 years, draw benefits of approximately $1,250 per year. "This is putting a burden on the future generations," he [illegible]

He also expressed the fear that the Canada pension plan "will build a way of life that leads to excessive dependence on government support."

Mr. Moore returned to [illegible] he called overwhelmingly [illegible] the plan. If a farmer would not completely and has no desire to see it go into effect, he cannot say vote the pension plan [illegible] at this meeting.

W Dahl, [illegible] explained the purposes [illegible] Canada pension plan [illegible] both of the plan it's collection [illegible] benefits.

He explained that pensions plan receipts would be invested back into the provinces, and explained that the plan has "year of living insurance — it starts go up as the benefits increase."

He emphasized the need for a social insurance number, the compulsory features of the plan, and the contributions and maximums payable to Canadians.

A lengthy question period followed the [illegible] speeches.

Dean [illegible] Rimbey said that he was not in favor of all clauses of the pension plan, but that he did feel that some form of Canada-wide pension was required. He admitted that he thought farmers should be given right to participate or not as they wished.

One speaker took issue with what he termed more name "untrue" statements made by speakers. He said that the pension plan is the best available for anyone over the age of 25 years, and that private pension plan couldn't match the benefits.

Speaking of Sport . . .

By Tony Assad

Climbing up on a mantle of sport.

I see where Bob Belanger is adjusting his life somewhat. It must not be easy to play with a heart the size of a peanut like the Allan Cup with the Edmonton Mercurys.

One of the best reasons I've heard as to why the Calgary connection shows some bullyish push in Japan over our own Banff for the 1972 Winter Olympics was quoted by Jack Redmond of the Calgary Albertan.

In essence he said the Olympic committee were faced with two tough choices. Japan's famous Sister vs. Alberta Bert and Gloria gets vs. Edmonton Mercantile's Daniel and Lindsay. That much of a choice?

By the time you'll be reading this, Detroit Red Wings should hold a one-game edge in the Stanley Cup playoffs. That is if the home ice jinx remains.

It seems to me that more people are hoping for Bill Gadsby than for Ted Hreo or Gordie.

All brothers at Anderson Lanes pick up their awards Friday evening at their annual banquet.

Elsa Gustafson, flash from the realms of the St. Louis Hawks, is back on the Labatt senior ladies' curling a few more international championships.

L.B.J. Pipe-ed instructor Don Gustafson is tying the knot early in July.

As an important part 3. "After the Small-Japan episode we never have Vancouver fish when they had that opportunity east."

Bill Hunter, GM of the Edmonton Oil Kings, hopes to take a roadster built at the Saskatchewan Junior Hockey League After Bowser's performances in that Western Junior Final, it leaves the Kings number open to two couples. Either let's congratulations Kings or let's condemn Hunter as the home ice jinx situation.

A passing thought — will the Edmonton Gardens fall down before it is torn down?

Farmer Favors Composite High School 'Here

Editor, The Lacombe Globe.
Dear Sir,

It is the land that you must come to have influenced the development of the Lacombe area. Its fertility has produced and sustained both economic and recreational wealth. It has also provided the foundation for the establishment of Red Deer, both in the progressive and the heads of the school and study of the "Science of Culture".

There can be no argument — your latest controversial issue — the combined counties and trades and technical school, or the controversial central school — another Mr Merkle or many of the components of the school seem to leave anything short.

High school education before a primary stage which can be ignored.

Under the industrial — we have economic growth — we're specializing in the — we're content with a high school diploma — a minimum of 25 credits in the technical subject required to that opportunities open. Additional courses in Math and science as required.

No further schooling — required at technical school and students there go only to write exams at the end of each 3 months (27 months in all).

This took satisfactory employer reports, given the student his employment's support and class A or and B certificate, according to requirements. This is only one picture of the school.

My father said his home was big so room if boy was doing very low whether a vocational school is built or not, it should be. The last of my family as an attendance at Red Deer and the money comes from our pocket.

I have not always been of views of the county's school programs, but I do agree with some plans for this vocational school.

In 15 years, Mr. Merkle, things have changed a vocational must adjust our pocket books and thinking to suit the need. I doubt very much if I could do business now with 25 credits, of to teach high to business, unless to look to Brother sources, even though he ended my grade when I was here 10 years ago.

Public opinion has extended on long an understanding university and degrees that they fail to see that their vocational schools . . . foundation courses for other professions in life, as well as the foundation for university.

Too many fail to see that these schools are the answer to the drop-out problem, when placement bureaus of Canada Labor, and the fact that even students of industrialism and labor don't always want valid the universities offer.

My conclusion was, then employment back for short re-training courses and returns to keep the need up to date.

No doubt, darker heads straight or what he is you, you and he eventually with and working under experienced people to their profession they entering banks, valid and have trusts and different only from those when life should and his age group entered the business business.

Business opinions are the trend and students taking courses by semester at any time. I doubt very much if I could do business now with 25 credits, of to teach high to business, unless to look to Brother sources, even though he ended my grade when I was here 10 years ago.

Thompson's best into the [illegible] Globe should there and what is allowed for the young people.

Don't allow an inflated dollar ego and misrepresentation to name the county of Lacombe to lose its big chance to keep in line with the rising big trend of education.

Study the figures. The costs are computed, and study the issue by Mr. Wigmore. You will then have a true picture.

The School Vote

PROPRIETARY citizens of town, villages and county will vote May 16 on what is probably the most important school question ever to reach a plebiscite in this area.

The issue basically is simple. Do the residents of the area want to keep abreast of advances made in the high school curriculum and make these advantages available to county students who desire them? Or do they wish to continue to offer only 10 courses out of a total of 100 which are set up as recognized high school courses by the department of education?

It should be kept in mind that this referendum action bears no direct taxation on any land in this area. All construction costs are paid for by the federal and provincial governments admittedly our money is involved in these grants, but it is tax money already paid by Canadians and which the senior governments are making available across the country to encourage construction of high school facilities.

The $270 000 requested is repayable over a period of 20 years, and will add less than three quarters of a mill to the tax rate. This is remarkably low when will be added if all plans have to be shelved, and new plans started for construction of a classroom space required here.

One thing should be clear in every person's mind. If this school is not built many students of tomorrow will pay a big price in lost educational opportunities for little if any, saving to the school taxpayer.

The Teamsters' Strike

THE teamsters' strike in Ontario is causing considerable difficulty in the west as delivery of goods ordered for spring has been delayed beyond all reason.

Apparently many of these spring shipments are already on trucks which were loaded before the strike deadline and which have since stayed on the idle trucks.

There appears to be considerable evidence that unruly groups of labor men are controlling this strike. For example when the union negotiating committee of the Ottawa teamsters reached agreement with management [illegible] ratified by a vote of less than half of the membership. What happened to half the union members who didn't vote? Intimidation and coercion of members by a rebel group within the union has been alleged.

Unionism does itself a grave injustice by permitting such militarism of U.S. "gangster-like" tactics. The Canadian Labor Congress itself is concerned about its diminishing power, and it is quite possible that the government will have to take action to curb unreasonable powers of labor leaders.

If the CLC is unable to control radical, irresponsible elements within the union, then the government will be forced to take action to protect the public interest.

Succession Duties

[illegible] learned [illegible] originally as vengeance against those with money, wildly [illegible] measures. The [illegible] Post comments that most [illegible] Winnipeg [illegible] taken "not a bad idea". The quotation may lack the ring of policy declaration, but it is the first positive sign that Ottawa may be ready to review a tax which, while devastating to the individual, is totally inconsequential to government revenue.

Alberta's Premier Manning is already planning moves on that front. Very shortly the Canadian taxpayer will be shown how the Carter Tax Commission experts would reshape our tax structure. They will have done their job if they can impress on governments that indiscriminate tax policies can effectively wreck the best-laid government plans for building a healthy economy.

GREEN ACRES

The return of winter that week appeared in the fall, the return of men and machines to crop and fertilize farmers in the southern part of the province this week and next week would have been fairly perfect. Spring would be the best seasonable weather.

Quality of Seed

The question of seed — a problem increasing in importance attention this spring. The cost of seed at present time (and it appears to have additional increases for the future) is high. Perhaps the experimental farm has found that the germination of oats may be increased by one-half by 10%. The seed corporation is a huge [illegible] Many farmers are not [illegible] for their requirements.

Several suggestions for farmers [illegible] are: (1) Buy certified seed. (2) Buy registered seed. (3) Buy [illegible] registered seed. (4) Buy registered reduced germination seed. Let [illegible] germination tests [illegible] Buy [illegible] germination tests [illegible]

New CADP Policy to Affect Alix Creamery Staff

ALIX — With regret, we learn that changes in operation of the Central Alberta Dairy Pool by means of a bulk milk system is going to well go to Red Deer as Bentley has ceased receiving cream at said town.

As a result of these changes Mrs. Frances Wolper and Jack Wilson who have been with the CADP for some time, have handed in their notice to leave on April 30th.

Mr. Wilson is going to take over a dairying farm in the summer and Mr. Wolper is going to Red Deer to work for Bob Thomas of farmers' wholesale supply there.

Congratulations and best of good wishes to Mr. Wolper and Mr. Wilson in their future endeavors.

Mrs. Wolper and family will remain in Alix for the present time.

Regret that the report that Mrs. Art McDermand is home from the Lacombe hospital was too optimistic. She is still not quite herself as there is much pain to endure and quite long period of convalescence is required.

Welcome to Lois to Mr. and Mrs. Kline who have moved into the modern premises (Burleigh and others) on main street of the Alix. We have been interested on the Rinder property in the Hill Street district of the Harold Rogers place where they will live in the house and garage.

Get well wishes to G. A. Wheeler who is receiving medical attention at the university hospital in Edmonton.

Best wishes for success and contentment to the young folks who have left the district to wed. Miss Sherry Walton is a telephone operator in Red Deer, Miss Astrid Lundgaard is now with the Royal Bank at Stettler after being a member of the staff here since a number of others who were not on to continued to get their driving report and a Private inspection of all our people.

Despite a cool, chilly week the Alix golf course is green and picturesque are making final preparations for the official opening date now not more far from neighbors.

Mrs. G. F. Bertram made a return trip up to Edmonton on Sunday, April 24 when she visited her brother R. A. Studer who was a patient in the Barry Ave. Hospital.

EDITORIAL

The By-Law Vote

NEXT Monday school ratepayers of the county will vote to determine whether or not the county council has the authority to borrow $270,000 toward construction of a composite high school at Lacombe.

The vote will determine at the same time whether county ratepayers want the federal government to construct, at federal expense, a county vocational school for the benefit of students of that area.

The Globe has advocated a vocational school to provide a more rounded high school program for students of this county. Now is our chance to get it under the most favorable terms possible. It will be a shame if we miss the opportunity.

Vocational School Successes

AN interesting survey recently undertaken by The Financial Post shows that most Canadian teen-agers are getting the message that the longer they stay in school, the better prepared they will be to create a satisfactory work life for themselves.

The Post survey notes that, since 1951, Ottawa has poured an estimated $50 million into vocational schools and training facilities to provide an additional 200,000 new "student places" across the country.

What these vocational schools are doing, considering, in meeting the drop-out problem, is further shown by the survey results: "60% of the 15 to 19 year old population was in school last year as opposed to 50% in 1950 and 40% in 1951."

This suggests that the general level of education is being brought more commensurate with that with the requirements of an increasingly demanding economic era.

In addition, The Post says, the serious shortage of well-trained technicians is gradually being eased, instead of getting steadily worse. Because of the sharp step-up in spending, by the federal government, on technical institutes and vocational schools, enrolments have almost tripled since 1960.

Union Interference ?

A RECENT edition of a business magazine contained an article to the effect that the RCMP band in Ottawa was not allowed to make a recording of one of the band's concerts because permission had not been given by the American federation of musicians.

The record producer checked into the matter, and found out that most military band members in Canada are members of the American union (although military bandmen in the States are not), and that orders from union officials can apparently supersede military orders as to when and where the band can play.

The article reports that this American - headquartered union has even prevented the RCMP band from appearing in city parades in Ottawa.

If this is true, it is a ridiculous state of affairs.

There are many matters not clarified in the article, why the RCMP band would require approval from New York before it can play in Canada is beyond us. Secondly, reasons for the union's refusal are not given. It might well be that there is more behind the surface than appears on top.

But one thing should be clarified. If the RCMP band is being prevented from playing in parades in Canada because an American union doesn't approve, it is high time that Ottawa took into the matter, and put a stop to such nonsense.

Where's The Street Cleaner?

WITH the extension of black-top streets in Lacombe, street cleaning is becoming a more important part of public works activity. The lack of it has also been the subject of considerable conversation during the past month.

It is quite evident that street-cleaning as in the past has been inadequate, as a result dust and mess. Two or three weeks ago the spring clean up of town streets was completed and most of the sand and mess that was used during the winter to make icy streets safer was removed.

Since then there has been little accomplished.

Surely a regular schedule of street cleaning can be set which would permit each paved street to have its surface cleaned at regular intervals. There seems little point in taxpayers paying for dust-free streets if they are not, in fact, dust free.

It is recognized that rain and weather will have considerable bearing on the matter, with which such a schedule would be met. But once a season the schedule could be adapted to fit the weather.

Such a schedule would certainly be worth the effort.

Teacher Salary Schedule

IT is now almost two months since both county and teacher salary negotiating committees reached a settlement on a new two-year salary schedule for the coming term.

County ratepayers are still in the dark as to what type of agreement was reached. Other school divisions and counties have published their terms, but there seems to be a reluctance on the part of ATA and county officials to release such figures here.

Why?

County ratepayers have a right to know what kind of a job their representatives are doing in negotiating with teachers on salaries which, after all are a direct charge on every adult citizen.

Outside of a brief news release that the teachers and county had reached agreement on salaries, there has been a complete blank. The release did state that relations between the two committees was cordial. This is of doubtful interest and certainly gives no information of importance.

What is the new salary schedule here? Is it in line with those agreed in neighbouring educational points? Does the trend toward higher teacher salaries continue in the manner as low as 2 or as high as 10?

Ratepayers don't know. They should.

Dangers Of Welfare

SO much publicity has been accorded the U.S. "war on poverty" program that few Canadians realize that this country, too, is waging a quiet but similar-type campaign through its every-increasing welfare schemes.

Billions of dollars annually in Canada during the past decade has been an phenomenal and their continuance at such that it is well to ask where we are going, and see whether or not we are accomplishing what was originally intended.

Certainly, a recent report from the Canadian Welfare Council paints a grim picture over one million Canadians are functionally illiterate. Most Canadians live on less than $75 per month, poverty among the aged is widespread.

Conditions of this type must be corrected, but unfortunately, our welfare spending from the start has not been aimed at drawing directly with those whose need is the greatest.

Canadian welfare philosophy seems to be based on the principle that what is given to one must necessarily be given to all, that because one receives benefits because of need, others should receive benefits in the name of fairness.

This is basic Canada's quiet "war on poverty" should be turned to the point where ..... and not invade and thoughtlessly the entire citizenship in the name of democracy. If we continue to proliferate welfare benefits regardless of circumstances, we will surely be asking the entire citizenship to lean on the government for all its needs ..... a situation which the government professes to abhor.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our darling mother, Mrs. Mary Ann Stinson, who passed away May 26, 1964.

Just a prayer from those who miss you,
Just a memory fond and true;
In our hearts you'll live forever
Because we thought the world of you.

God gave us strength to take it
And courage to face the blow
And what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.
We bless the years you spent with us,
Your heart was true and kind,
You toiled so hard for those you loved
And left us to remember.
Sadly missed by daughters Mrs. Ruth Stinson, Mrs. Ivy Jones, Mrs. Ella Stinson, Mrs. Joan Ted and their families.

In loving memory of Ben Jones who passed away May 27, 1965.
Time has not dimmed a sparkle
To bring you to our minds,
For you are with us always
In memories we find.
Are you well loved to find,
They say your books all success,
And I believe that's true
But time so far has only shown
How much we miss you.
Time gives us strength to take it,
And courage to face the blow
But what it meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.
If you God's will to take you,
In his mercy and his love,
We pardon meant for us below,
We'll meet you up above.
Sadly missed and remembered by his loving wife Mary, daughter Mrs. Ruth Stinson and family.

We express our appreciation to our many friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness and expression of sympathy during our recent bereavement in the loss of a dear wife, mother and grandmother. We would especially like to thank Rev. Ardison and the ladies of the hospital staff for being so kind.

Reflections On the Plebiscite

On the corresponding further lines in the school by-law plebiscite held last week was the poor turnout of voters from the farmlands of this area. No total of qualified voters is available, but it is apparent that sending and field questionnaires at this time of the year seriously cut down the number of ballots cast.

Of particular interest to county council members in the school committee was the result at the purely rural polls. Deducting all town and village polls, (including one at Lacombe), the remaining (entirely rural), the remaining 13 rural polls returned a total of 184 votes in favor of the by-law.

This is most re-assuring to county councillors in particular who represent these ratepayers on both municipal and school matters, and many of whom looked at this plebiscite as a straight vote of confidence.

While it was the overwhelming turnout of voters in Lacombe proper which gave the plebiscite the majority it enjoyed, it is gratifying to see that rural polls supported their town brethren in favoring construction of this school.

It is now hoped that construction work on the school can get underway as quickly as possible.

Letters to the Editor

During the past few weeks, The Lacombe Globe has received a large number of letters to the editor dealing with the composite high school. Because of the importance and keen interest in this topic, the editors have accepted letters which have exceeded the normally - accepted length of 600 words.

This has led to longer and longer letters, and The Globe wishes to remind its paltry forward acceptance of letters for publication:

- No letter in excess of 600 words will be published and this paper reserves the right to edit any letter to this length.
- All letters must be signed. A pen name may be used for publication, but no letter will be considered unless it is signed properly by the writer.
- Naturally, all letters must conform with the laws of libel, and no libelous letters will be published.

The Globe cordially invites its readers to use its columns to express personal views on matters of interest, subject to these conditions.

A Worthwhile Centennial Project

Canadian insurance companies are to be congratulated on their own private centennial project: a youth safety seminar, in Ottawa, to spite young inexperience with a plan for any feelings they may have about their own driving records, or to advance any proposals that may improve them.

Such a seminar can do nothing but good. All safety planning that has been done to date has used adult ideas about young people and their driving problems. Possibly the young people can advance ideas of their own about teen-age driving.

Statistics show that driving accidents are the number one killer of young people. The time has certainly arrived to enlist support of drivers of this age to afford direction in fighting the problem.

The insurance companies are to be congratulated on their centennial project.

A Market for These?

New products being produced for Canada's mass market continues to grow and grow. Many of the new products are labor-saving devices which will find ready acceptance among the shopping public.

But occasionally there is one which is really far out. Among these is the introduction of a quilted vinyl plastic boot which is designed to massage the feet as the wearer walks. The leakproof boots can be filled with warm water to relieve aching feet . . . on the go, as it were.

Should Publicized Yields

By the time most of our crops are seeded. However, we are still waiting and the early maturing barleys and naturally are using herbicides.

If you are trying a little potash with your regular fertilizer to determine if potash is needed on your land, there are a few things to keep in mind.

First of all, be sure that you know what is making the difference in yield. For example, if you normally use 80 lbs. of 16-20-0 and you want to try some potash, then mix 80 lbs. of 16-20-0 with 80 lbs of 16-20-0 and then get your attachment to seed 120 lbs of fertilizer.

You should use at least two drill rounds at this rate and then reset your attachment back to 80 lbs per acre of 20-0 again beside it. Be sure you have these two trial rounds marked. If you wish these trials checked for yield next fall contact our office just before harvest. We will endeavour to take yield samples.

Member Farm Family Awards

Do you know a farm family in your district who has been on the same farm for 20 years, who are an outstanding example of a good farm family, having built up a good farm by top management practices as well as contributing to the well being of the district and community activities?

If you do, then why don't you and a couple of neighbors nominate them for the master farm family award?

Winners of this year's master farm family award will be given an all-expenses - paid trip to the Montreal world exposition in 1967.

Let's give this some serious thought and get some nominations from the south of Lacombe. More details and nomination forms are available at our office.

The Perfect High School

Although we've never been above a queen since our science days, the subject has always had a fascination for us. While he could write and figure his high school marks were nothing to write home about, he was terrific in the fundamental sciences such as human nature and Latin.

Most of the ex pure puppy fads of today had a genius so far as we were concerned. We were the original sit and wriggle and beg dog. Our master thought we were the cat's whiskers. Our mother thought we were the bee's knees. We thought we were the cat's meow. We were a combination of those same expressions when they were out of fashion. Consequently we had much more than a fair amount of getting our self-esteem a much fairer appraisal, and a much more merge with it.

Lots of parents and some teachers don't understand this business that there is no fun like freedom of speech, freedom and action, freedom of mind and freedom of soul. Freedom is the greatest thing in the world. It's the thing that makes us human and happy.

These comments are from parents who wonder what's the matter with their son or daughter. Perhaps as their confidant or teacher, I can help you understand your child a little better.

The subconscious desire dependent on the subject's age, his own personalities and their limitations, and of course, his school as a unit. Let's look at some things of interest like having a ball in class.

Science hands itself about the most of everything and the all mankind can know about it. The shortage of scientists and the teachers lead about the paper supply and the curriculum itself about the science and it's not administration and school board.

You might think that we are suggesting that there are some slight imperfections in our high schools. And you might be right. But it is not as bad as it sounds.

What I can't understand is that I haven't been approached for a definition of the perfect high school. It's probably just as well though, and to be honest I'm not a purist type. But who is better qualified to have been in the high school factors every day and has a daughter who enters home every day and makes no bones about it?

Well here goes. Don't panic, here the changes would be slight and outgoing. I think we'd a open life more etc. and the boys and girls are in.

First of all let's rule out the cluttered cloak-and-dagging hours. I believe in prayer and practice it quite often myself when I'm in a jam. But it's all most sacrilegious the way it is at present.

The R.E. system is brought it and we've had the last part of the class and schools are in. The teacher stands up leading three or four dogged Protestants who aren't always sure of them still.

Next I'd give The Queen. We've had a review of her and have the time to respect for Queen Elizabeth I am not unsure 30-odd teenagers stand be sure to stand every morning in a purpose as I had piece of music it be such as I don't know the world that does to honor and loyal good hard enthusiasm.

How would we like to go to the farm in the office and stand at attention while a tape recorder played a selection of three selections to you and you'd have to see the flag raised in front of the coffee house.

In place of these I would suggest a warm up period. We've had enough dodgy last thing in the morning. The time could be used by master of ceremonies. Witty sayings announcements, brief weather reports. Some Beatles and Bob Dylan and the Rolling Stones. An original poem or song from the students. Letters to the Editor

Editor, Lacombe Globe,

Dear Sir

One of my main concerns regarding the coming composite high school in Lacombe is the staffing of qualified teachers.

The people charged with the responsibility of hiring the needed staff will, it is hoped, take this responsibility most seriously and realize that students will need qualified educators — not babysitters — much more than fancy buildings.

Might I point out from experience that it is the teacher, not the color of the wall, that produces the educated student.

Thank you for allowing me to express my feelings in your paper.

School Tax Up

A tax rate of 66 mills, an increase of two mills over the previous year, was set by (Clarenshion) town council.

It was stated the increase was made necessary by the cost of living, ever-increasing educational costs, upward cost of building materials, inflation, etc.

Increased taxes, it was explained, are necessary to meet the ever-increasing demands for more and better services.

Assessment of the town has declined somewhat during the past year.

Abolition Here

By Marilyn Stefan, grade 10

The outcome of the recent Canadian federal government debate on capital punishment was the extension of the death penalty. Was the government's decision wise?

The death penalty is actually a paradox in Canadian history. It is an outdated, barbaric punishment which is out of step with modern morality and thought in fact it is based on Hammurabi's code of have an eye for an eye, or in this case a life for a life.

It is argued that the death penalty is the only punishment to prove terror to the guilty of the crime it carries. The punishment for the crime of murder is hanging. Hanging is a most horrible death. It is a slow strangulation which may take minutes. Many times the victim struggles and writhes in the noose. Is this a humane way to die?

Here's Timely Advice For the Wise Man

Years ago, an unknown young author had his book completed, and ready to be published which he professed, a hundred pounds for the copyright, or a royalty arrangement.

The young man chose the latter course, but what he supposed to be a great deal to prepare the contract, someone who paid him 1/4 take the royalty if 1 were you.

The young fellow refused, the author observed an elderly man walking back at his work. The author didn't take long to decide. He went back into the publisher's office and settled for royalties.

The book, King Solomon's Mines" by Henry Rider Haggard, became an all time best seller and what that advice cost the company no one has dared to compute.

You have a lot of advice, you'll find much worth heeding. The easiest, safest and surest way to avoid financial stress and strain is to make regular deposits in a Bank of Montreal savings account. Then when unexpected need or opportunity arises, you have the ready cash waiting for you. Wendy Norton and Donna Coppin represented Lacombe well at the Alberta high school track meet held Saturday at Edmonton stadium in Calgary.

Norton captured first place honors in the junior girls' high jump event.

Coppin walked off with four ribbons in the meet. She demonstrated the senior girls' division with first place finishes in the 60 and 100 yard dashes, and added a second in the 100 in the broad jump. Coppin finished third behind teams from Calgary and Edmonton.

In all, local girls brought home 39 points. Given Mc-Lachlan placed second in the 880 (senior class) Joyce Vanderveggle received a fourth in the junior 220.

The Lacombe girls' relay team placed third in provincial competition, and consisted of Sandra Bowes, Linda Adsdie, Linda Williams and Harriet Bodnarp.

Eleven girls made the trip to Calgary Three local boys also qualified, but failed to bring home any ribbons.

A SPECIAL GLOBE SPORTS FEATURE

Puck Trail End?

Lacombe Rockets, Alberta senior hockey champions in 1965, could be Lacombe's representation as a European tour in 1966. Last-place finishers in their own league in 1965

Very likely a different organization in 1966-67. The Globe reported this possibility as long ago as last Christmas. It was a prediction that has now made himself by the resignation of the league's secretary (almost 1965) at 15 junior league teams.

You can't operate in a top-flight hockey loop with those kind of results.

So the Rockets may fold — and their dominant personality is being lamented by the high-heeled actions of the Canadian and Alberta amateur (the big) hockey associations.

The CAHA, in typical dictatorial fashion, has ordered the Rockets, Olds Kings to play in a seven-title junior hockey league next winter.

Apparently the eastern moguls don't like being pushed around by the Old Kings, so were the politically-renowned Chinook Oilwells (Alberta junior representational) in a short six-game series last year.

And why are the Edmonton Journal's sportswriters aware of the results? Sheriff Shy have agreed in a central Alberta league composed of intermediate and (near-called) senior hockey teams. This sort of competition has caught them how to play hockey well.

All the Oil Kings have done is win the western Canadian junior hockey title (Abbott) that is considered the seven years in a row, during which time they have won the Alberta junior championship twice.

This is apparently too much for the big shots which pushes to try to bring the Oil Kings down to the level of respectability that they can't help to play in an Intermediate.

Wood CAHA officials should be striving to do, instead, is improving the standard of western junior play and bringing it up to the level of eastern Canada — to the Oil Kings have done so successfully.

Last year, the Oil Kings played in a league with Lacombe, Red Deer Chevvies and Drumheller Miners. Without the Kings, the field is narrowed to three teams — in the CAHA has successfully nuttled the future of the central Alberta loop anyhow

Without the Rockets, Red Deer and Drum will be looking elsewhere — perhaps in a new senior-intermediate league embodying the recently-formed Edmonton Nuggets and Calgary Spurs.

The two city clubs state enough players from Lacombe and Drumheller last winter to make a respectable showing if the new league comes into being.

The AAHA was responsible (to its shame) for allowing the likes of Ron Toomey, Al LaPointe and Butch Tomchiliuna to sign with the Nuggets last winter — despite the fact the Rockets held their playing contracts.

A star like John Ivanetz was given the okay to join the Calgary Spurs from Drumheller Miners — while the Alberta senior hockey organization turned its eyes the other way

This shabby and unjust treatment (while it hurt Rockets) didn't stop Mines from going all the way to the Canadian senior hockey crown.

Drum enjoyed crowds approaching 1,000 all winter at Hanna (after their own arena burned down) and had for orphans' On top of that, the club split $10,000 for winning the Allan cup.

So the fate hereabouts saw the best junior hockey team in the country, and the best senior hockey team in the country, but not enough least advantage of the opportunity.

There's no crying need on hitter recommendation. It's plain fact.

The town of Lacombe can smash Drumheller to meet years of glory and fun enjoyment.

We'll still see live hockey but it will be in a different form . . . and before smaller crowds for senior years to come.

"We have to team up to get what is fair that's what we're going to do," said O'Malley

LACOMBE (Staff) — Lee Pepper has been re-elected president of the Lacombe Rockets.

Pepper is a little heavy about the Rocket's chances next year

"We've been having a little trouble with fan support, but I'm sure they will improve," commented Pepper at a press conference today

"Right now the main cause of concern is the players. Bob Belanger and he will play again that year but that the rest of the team would be spent on the bench."

Bob tells me that he's got a couple of old pros lined up, and Pepper, "He mentioned some goalie named Hall, a defenseman named Gadsby and two forwards named Ullman and MacGregor. All are from Detroit."

Emergency Telephone Numbers

LACOMBE'S emergency telephone numbers are hard to remember difficult to dial

A person calling on a fire alarm, for instance must change dialling numbers four times even if he uses the abbreviated 2-digit five-digit number for a police call — 3 3370 — at least twice He must change dialling numbers for each one of the five digits.

Older people particularly those who wear glasses find it trouble dialling such numbers particularly under the stress of an emergency

Since completed numbers seem to spell all other controls. Take the Innisfail exchange for instance. Emergency numbers are much more simplified than at Lacombe for fire, dial 7 3333, or to call the police dial 7 3733.

We don't know the technical details involved to change such Lacombe numbers in the central Alberta dial system, but it should be no great trick to simplify them A fire call, for instance could be 3-3333, and police 3-3331 Easy to remember; easy to dial

A Paperweight Government?

THE public is completely fed up with the proceedings of the present session of the house of commons in Ottawa — and with just reason

Just how ineffective and how unbusinesslike the house was last year can be measured in pounds and ounces. The bound volumes of the Statutes of Canada, 1960 has been recently released by the Queen's Printer in Ottawa The volume contains in printed form all acts proclaimed and proclamations issued by our legislators during the 1960 session Total weight of the volume is one pound four ounces.

A pretty feeble effort for the 265 $18 000 per year men who represent our interests in Ottawa

As a comparison, the 1960 statutes weight three pounds four ounces, and there are many bound volumes which greatly exceed this figure in size and weight.

Since lack of volume is not a sound basis on which to judge quality of legislation, but it does provide an indication of industry in attending to the nation's business

It is not that the number of months in Session at the House have diminished Oh dear no Hansard each day records thousands of words of backbiting and bunk — containing repeated references to names like Diefenbaker and Spencer and Sydney

The 1960 house of commons membership is essentially the same as that of the 1965 house The result of legislation in 1960 was pitifully inadequate to deal with this nations business, whether measured by weight or quality There is no apparent effort to improve on this sorry record this year.

Time Planning Time

Tree planting in the country is profitably completed by the second half of May Planning for 1967 should be done now The principle requirement of the tree planting program and the key to the success of any shelterbelt is well prepared soil Land to be used for tree planting should be free from perennial weeds such as quack grass and Russian thistle

Likewise, frequent cultivations are necessary if weed growth is to be eliminated Control of weeds will also keep soil moisture losses at a minimum

Other factors to bear in mind when planning a tree planting program are such things as the location (windward, leeward, or side) the spacing (that is the distance between rows and between the species of trees to be planted) and whether to replant (fill in) the following years after planting How specific should be with regard to the use of equipment that is available

Some suggestions have been experienced in the farming country that the two factors given have been derived from some points in the fall of 1965 The reason for this is that all species are not equally winter hardy. Damage occurred to certain species during the past winter which has resulted in incomplete orders in several cases

University of Alberta Annual Feeders' Day

Results of experiments conducted during the last year on many common problems concerning breeding, feeding, and managing cattle will be featured at the University of Alberta's annual feeders' day on Saturday, June 4.

Many followers will be attracted to the report comparing beef cattle with dairy cattle as regards the tenderness and the percentage of fat The report discusses the implications of various treatments in beef breeding programs.

Another report is based on the production characteristics of the two beef herds at Kinsella Unique features of the herds will include three generation traits, weights gain, feed conversion rates, and carcass characteristics

Two experiments on Hutterite wheat will also be included in the day's program The first deals with feeding and harvesting methods at different combinations of storage and storage and the other with Finishing Hutterite cattle

The two experiments involve comparisons of limited feeding with those compared with self-feeding rations and pelleted, or mixed hay. Another report evaluates the results of an experiment designed to evaluate the advantages of feeding rapeseed meal as a source of protein throughout the growing and reproduction periods of confinement reared gilts. It deals with the performance of the gilts up to market weight compared with three litter mates which received equal access to an all-concentrate ration

A report outlining the changes adopted over the past few years in B.C.P. carcass standards of interest to many hog producers It compared the present method with that used in the past and outlines the advantages of the new system.

One of the reports to be given on sheep discusses an experiment on lamb growth It was found that the lamb gave concentration of lambs on creep with lamb weight, indicating that protein utilization becomes less efficient as the lambs mature and as the proportion of muscle in the weight gain increases The latter gives conservation as the maize suggests that they use protein more efficiently than concentrates

The feeders' day program is scheduled to start at 10 00 a.m. in the University of Alberta's livestock pavilion, located at 51st Avenue and 116th Street. Lunch will be available at a nominal fee

Reflections . . . of the Times

Work Bees

Work bees helped to build the country and the fall and rail out of debt In fact it is the wrong word to describe any work bee Necessity likely is more descriptive

In more rugged times the community work bee often provided essential shelter for settlers like Thomas Tom and their livestock People gathered together and donated their services in a race against the elements in order to increase both a chance to survive and struggle for existence in a stark and sparsely populated countryside.

This passing of time and latest as has come less rugged conditions and the betterment of communities life in rural and improve the plan grounds and recreational centres of the Western Canada.

Recently when a county group discussing possible Centennial projects, spoke of the need of an old time work bee the remark brought a smile from the audience Their comments, and the listeners have discarded the work bee as a means of raising something for the general well being of the district. — High River Times

Lawyer Discusses New Farm Estate Taxes

According to Alberta's agricultural minister, Clark Wallace there are many legitimate ways of lessening, and in some cases, eliminating estate taxes altogether.

One way is for parents to give that part of their estate to their children which exceeds $50,000. There is no estate tax on an estate of $50,000 or less.

Mr. Wallace points out that a farmer can make a gift of $10,000 once in a life time to a child in his estate by entry on the family farm provided the gift is part of the farm land. If the capital value of the land and cattle given in cash, it would be subject to gift tax.

In addition to this once-in-a-lifetime gift of land anyone can give about $4,000 per year without paying gift tax if the gift exceeds $4,000 a year, the difference between the two amounts is taxable. The only exception to this rule concerns those whose net earnings are over $18,000 a year. The value of the gift they can give in a year is established by a formula based upon half the difference between their taxable income and the taxes they paid in the previous taxation year.

For a person who makes so many gifts not exceeding $1,000 in value to be taken in over years as gifts from a different people it is important to remember here, that of the gift is over $1,000 in value the total amount is taxable. For example if a person gave $1,200 to another person he would have to pay gift tax on the whole $1,200 not just on the $200.

Incorporating the farm in such a way that the parents do not retain the participating shares is another way of keeping taxes down says Mr. Wallace. This does not mean that parents must relinquish their control over the operation of the farm. Depending upon the type of arrangement they can

To Meet Tuesday to Discuss Future of Clive High School

Future of the Clive high school in the light of natural growth will be discussed at a special meeting to be held Tuesday afternoon of next week.

Events [illegible] to register meeting Tuesday agreed to meet with Clive [illegible] school committee [illegible] further discuss the proposed [illegible] of said school system at Clive in the coming fall term.

A letter was read from the deputy minister of education in which he reported that a delegation from the Clive area had [illegible] them in the matter of education asking that the Clive high school be kept open.

The letter from Edmonton stated that the minister requested that [illegible] Clive high school be postponed until the new composite high school at Lacombe has been opened.

Decision to cancel high school classes at Clive was made earlier this year when it became apparent that the new central high school at Alix would be completed in time for the 1966 fall school term.

At that time it was agreed that the present high school students at Clive would be accommodated in this new school at Alix or at Lacombe.

Parts were also [illegible] by officials, proposed that the present area served by the Clive high school be enlarged to [illegible] to [illegible] the number [illegible] east of Clive attending [illegible] at Alix.

The remainder which would be [illegible] Clive students, possibly [illegible] would [illegible] to Lacombe.

The [illegible] Clive area [illegible] to attend the [illegible] grounds here on Friday, and officials [illegible] to discuss [illegible] future plans [illegible].

Those unable to be present should leave their names with Reg Burgess at phone 782-3166, or Dave Rodger at phone 782-3137. They will be contacted later.

"Let's celebrate the centennial in song" — an apt slogan — if there are 100 willing volunteers.

Start Work on New School

- Renovation work on the site of the composite high school here will start this week as county heavy machinery goes to work to move some 30,000 cubic yards of top soil and clay for construction workers.
- County officials obtained final approval to build from provincial government departments late last week. The actual construction contract was signed by county and department of education heads last Friday.
- Removal of the top soil and some clay is expected to take almost a week, at which time work will start on footings and foundations.
- Contract price for the school is $2,423,000.

To Form 100-Voice Chorus for Centennial

Local centennial committee is attempting to organize a 100 voice mixed chorus to represent Lacombe and district at various functions both here and points afar.

First meeting will be held at the Lacombe memorial centre courtroom next Wednesday June 15, at 8:00 p.m.

Those attending don't need a quality voice to join Mirror organizers are interested only in arranging and men and women are cordially invited to attend the meeting and take part.

Hope to Start Limited Vocational Courses Here

Although the new composite high school here is not yet under construction, present plans call for three limited vocational courses to be offered at Lacombe, starting in September.

A limited number of graduate will be offered grades 10 and 11 studies in automotives, building construction and electrical courses.

Instructors for these courses are already on hand, and classroom space and facilities can be found for these students by moving all elementary students out of the present high school.

Tightest squeeze for classroom space in Lacombe this fall will be for the elementary pupils — and it is believed that additional space will have to be rented in town to provide classrooms on a temporary basis.

When the composite high school is completed, all high school students will move to the new school.

Junior high classes will then be moved in the present high school, and the elementary school overflow can be accommodated in the present junior high building.

New School At Alix Named; M-A-C High School

The new high school at Alix received its name this week.

County high school committee members accepted the suggestion that it be referred to as the M-A-C central high school (1966).

The initials, of course stand for Mirror, Alix, Clive, and the school will provide facilities for students from these areas.

High School Examinations Start Next Week

Final examinations for high school students will get under way next week when grades 10 and 11 pupils throughout the county start writing on June 13.

Students of these grades will then continue writing exams until the last starting next Monday at 1:00 p.m.

The second class — like the first — is limited to 100 students, and there are still some vacancies open. This series of classes will continue each week.

Grade 12 students start writing on June 22, and grade nine on June 24.

The departmental examinations continue through to June 30.

Golf, Country Club Course Now Limited

Membership quotas for golf and country club has been successful as it has to obtain a license for the sale of liquor at the clubhouse. It is expected that the license will become valid by Monday, June 13.

Club vice-president Hans Bensinger reported this week that government officials had signified their approval of the application, and that the license would be issued upon receipt of the license fee.

The fee was forwarded Tuesday morning.

Accept Teacher Resignations

A further ten teachers have resigned from county school staffs, to bring to 63 the total number of resignations for this year. This is about the average number of resignations from staff each year.

County school superintendent Dr T E Gries in his report to the county school committee meeting, afternoon reported the following resignations:

Mrs E Nordlund Blackfalds; V Nordlund and Mrs E Hatton, both of Clive; A Epp and Mrs C Epp, Lacombe; A Lukaszuk and D Mooney both of Alix; R Galloway and Mrs K Wipf both of Bentley; Mrs M Lund, Mirror.

New teachers hired to fill vacancies were given by Dr Gries as follows: Miss B A Aguilar, Melvin Darrow, Dale B Donaldson, Mrs Ethel Morton, B J H Du and Miss Adorateur Zapanta.

There are still 14 vacancies on the county staff of 165, Dr Gries reported.

School Bus Drivers to Get Raise In Pay

County school bus drivers will receive a pay increase of 10 cents per day, effective September 1, 1966.

The increase was reached at informal meeting between the county of Lacombe school committee at the regular meeting held at the county offices Tuesday.

County employed bus drivers will receive $7.00 per day effective with the fall school term, instead of the current rate of $6.50 per day.

The additional five cents-per-mile-per-day for drivers whose route is in excess of 60 miles per day remains unchanged.

An increase of one-cent per mile per day for contract school bus owners was also passed. This increase will affect bus fleet owners, who operate school buses under contract with the county, and who pay their own bus drivers.

Depending on the size of the bus used the county now pays from 26c to 30c per mile per day for use of school buses. This allowance will raise the schedule from 26c to 31c with the full term.

Thought for the week

BENTLEY PHONE CHANGE OVER — AGT workmen are busy at Bentley installing new telephone preparatory to the change-over to the direct dialling system next July 16. About 250 phones are being changed in the village, and 180 had been done up to last week end. Bentley and rural area will have the number prefix "782". — Staff photo

Speaking of Sport . . .

by Tony Jonas

Aaray or no aaray, I'd like to be entering the hosts of Cassius Clay about now.

Karl Mildenberger. That's the probable opponent for Clay's next bout. Who's afraid of Karl Mildenberger? The way things are going now, someone will probably result to Joe Louis before Clay is finished.

Ole' Mohammed could be named "heavyweight boxer of the decade" on a few points. He might also be the only champion of the decade unbeaten fresh a two-fisted counter conservative in Africa with the two prime contenders to win — mouth and mouth.

But only do you have to be right Clay, you must eat-talk him. And Cassius talks a good fight.

At a fighter Cassius Clay is the greatest (I'll repeat that for the benefit of any members of the World boxing association who might be in the area). THE GREATEST, not as beautiful as he would like to believe, but THE GREATEST!

As a person (using the words of my old English teacher) up "there is something to be desired". No matter how much I detest what Clay stands for, I can't help but be impressed by the guy.

I mean, who would pay the price he is paying just to keep his un-safe from entering Spinks' jaw.

And this draft bit I mean. Can't you just respect Clay to pay allegiance on a soldier's salary? Sounds like Clay was dealt as the prince of his earning years.

One conclusion though. Cassius will not have to worry as much about trifles like income tax. Nothing unexpected by the good Lord.

He'll have more important things to take care of, such as K.P. suspension, K.P. outhouse duty, drills and more K.P.

Can't you just hear him

—TEN—SHUN All right men, stand up straight, chest out, belly in. Jones ! ! ! !

The Handy Telephone

FOR many years Canadians have led the world in telephone calls per capita. No logical reasons have been given as to why we out-talk America but it isn't hard to see why we outtalk residents of other countries.

The Bell is so available. For in Mexico or Peru a telephone in the house is a mark of social status, about the same as a pair of diamond cufflinks.

But the Japanese grant telephone-lishers. No wonder. A Japanese has to wait three months or more between the date of application and the actual installation of a phone. At last count, there were some two million people on the waiting list. In Japan, no embalmisms have been slow. When the three months or more time lag is up, a standard fee of $450 is charged for phone installation.

We have our troubles with the AGT and associated phone companies. But compared with some systems, our troubles are trifling.

Strike Consequences

THE strike of the national union of seamen in Great Britain seems on the verge of accomplishing what neither the Kaiser's nor Hitler's submarines could succeed in two world wars starve the British into submission.

With the dockside stoppage now in its fifth week, and 170 ships of a merchant fleet stopped, the harmful strike is causing unimmeasurable hardship in the mainland economy throughout the island's economy. Unemployment is now at short supply and the country's economy is estimated to be suffering losses of twenty million dollars per day in lost trade.

Somehow or other, it doesn't seem right that one group of workers can place such an intolerable burden on millions for selfish reasons. One might be oversimplifying things to the disadvantage of the seamen, but their responsibility in causing such misery is great.

The basic grievances of the seamen have apparently been recognized by both the owners and shipowners, and offers made to correct them. But with the acceptance of new hours terms, the union secretary is quoted as saying "If we were thinking of the country first and foremost naturally there should be no strike. But charity begins at home."

Such thinking also prompts government legislation which can deprive seamen of the very powers which they under. There are no strikes in Russia.

Impatient Driver

WHAT is the main responsibility in the use given sig high way accident toll? It is not drunk. It is not speed. It is not unsafe cars. It is impatience. So says the [illegible] Automobile Association.

If all accidents could be analyzed with certainty the BCAA believes it would be found that the majority are caused by sheer impatience.

The automobile association points out the various examples of impatience behind the wheel

- The speeding motorist on the highway.
- The driver who fails to slow down at intersections
- The person who cannot wait and must break in to cross the traffic stream whether it is safe to

Local MP Reports On Ottawa Sittings

Harry Hays, MP for this area, makes the following report to The Globe on the activities of the House of Commons:

"The current session of parliament having sat for eighty odd days, a moment on the performance and accomplishments should be in order.

● Failure to remove the 11 per cent sales tax on building supplies and production machinery. The government had been assured that this would be partially lifted.

● Failure to hold down the cost of living and combine elections.

● In autumn as having the RCMP provide information to the government as to the political complexion of members of parliament.

● Failure to provide sufficient mortgage funds for home builders and the promotion of a "right money" policy.

"The government survived the first non-confidence motion with a good deal of help from Social Credit members.

"The over-emphasis of supply the house has approved the various estimates in 1957-58 which had not been individually approved because of the election, raises serious questions about the responsibility of ministers and supporting civil servants and the House of Commons as the departmentals of economy and financial responsibility passed. The request for $7½ does in addition, the estimates of many other departments are being considered by the standing committees of the house.

"The basis on the budget debate of five days. Another five days was spent discussing the Commonwealth Prime Ministers conference which in effect set the boundaries for the new restrictions on trade with the rest. Federal elections will be held.

"The heated debate on the Munsinger affair used 3½ days of the Commons's time, and since then all newspaper accounts concerning the matter have arisen from events which have taken place outside parliament.

"After a five day high-level debate the house voted to reject capital punishment. The vote was not taken along party lines.

"Passage of legislation has occupied 15 days to which twenty bills were passed. Most of these were non-controversial. "housekeeping" type. One important act, however, was the setting up of a fifty million dollar fund for a joint federal-provincial program of land reclamation and improvement in the prairie areas of Canada.

"Members have been actively engaged in 33 house committees some of which sit every day as well as looking after the interests of their constituencies. There are many evening committee meetings and the house sits through the dinner hour, and until 10:30 most nights. It is hoped that the house will recess in July but it is too early to make any predictions."

Study Possibility Of Semester High School Courses

Possibility of instituting a semester system in the new composite high school at Lacombe is being studied at present, a statement that the decision has been made is "incorrect", Dr. T. F. Giles, county school superintendent told The Globe.

There is no possibility of instituting semester high school courses this year; but the matter is under consideration for the school term starting in 1967.

Mirror Sets 1966 Tax Rate At 62 Mills

Village Mirror set its 1966 taxation rate at 62 mills—up two mills from last year—at the regular council meeting held last week.

Breakdown of this year's mill rate: school foundation, 26.6 mills, school supplementary requisition, 6.6; hospitals requisition act, 2.2, special hospital requisition (Lacombe hospital) 1.6; health unit, 2.8; municipal 21.

Village officials — mayor George Hooper, councillors Dave Thatcher and Roger Lefave, and secretary-treasurer H. McDonald — studied estimates carefully before setting the taxation rate for the year.

teachers if the school were kept open.

The students can be assimilated in Alix and Lacombe schools, he said, if the will is there.

Representing Clive were Mrs. W. H. Somerville, Art Slocum, Charles Webber, Ben Morrison and Bill Stewart.

They wanted Clive high school to remain open until the 1967-68 term when the Lacombe vocational school would be in full operation.

They also questioned the cost of busing, and raised fears that "double-handing" would be unfair to elementary school students now being transported to Clive.

The committee requested the support of Clive local school board in setting up a series of bus routes which would be as fair as possible to all.

Mr. Wigmore assured the delegation that he was confident the decision reached would provide students with a broader opportunity and a wider choice of subjects.

RING SCENE AT 4-H CLUBS' SHOW — There was a large crowd on hand all day long at the county of Lacombe 4-H calf club annual show and sale held at the central Alberta pavilion last Friday. The showing and judging of the calves took place inside the pavilion because of the rain which fell intermittently throughout the day. Shown above is a scene from the ring side as one of the club steer classes are judged. During the sale in the evening the pavilion was filled as district residents came and sale held at the pavilion to admire the quality of the calves and the showmanship displayed by the 4-H'ers. — Photo, Lacombe studios

Lincoln Ladies Set Objective For Club Centennial Project

Members of the Lincoln community circle and the Lacombe fish and game association have reportedly taken up a centennial project the re-establishment and levelling of grounds at Wilson Beach as a public picnic ground.

The six-acre site, located on Gull Lake four miles north, has not been used since the mid-1930's, and is now in a state of neglect.

Mrs. Don Wilson and Bob Wilson, associated with members of the council of the county of Lacombe last Thursday to ask for assistance in their project. They specifically requested the aid of county equipment to level off the grounds, and improve the road leading to the site.

Mrs. Bradley told council that this property was not suitable for a public picnic ground, and the Lacombe fish and game association would like to restore the area for this purpose.

Council was sympathetic to the request for the levelling, and councillor Art Wigmore will look into the work necessary. "It won't be much", he stated.

Reeve Bill Lee noted that the group could expect no help this year next spring on purchase of picnic tables, kitchen, etc. "Our budget for this purpose is all allocated," he explained.

Maple Leaf Flag Raised at Lacombe Legion Hall

The new-familiar red Maple Leaf now officially recognized as Canada's flag, was raised atop the flag pole at the Lacombe Legion hall last Thursday afternoon.

The flag-raising ceremony was conducted by past-president Russ Bailey and Al Humberger, prior to the regular Legion meeting, while president Max Kirkman and other Legionnaires looked on.

According to Legion headquarters, it is proper if the Red Ensign is flown alongside the Maple Leaf but since there is only one flag pole at the Legion hall the official dominion flag will be flown.

Local Company Completes Main $997.00 for Research

Northwestern Utilities gave notice that larger mains will have to be installed to provide gas service in the proposed high school and the proposed new hospital. This will entail breaking through present pavement on the C & E Trail.

Clive School To Close

A five-person school delegation from Clive reluctantly accepted the decision of the county to close Clive high school in the fall of 1966, at a special meeting held in the Lacombe county office yesterday.

Almost 40 high school students are involved in the move which will see part of them making east of Clive attending the new centralized school at Alix, with the remainder coming to Lacombe.

County school committee chairman Art Wigmore outlined the reasons behind the move, of closing Clive high school, one of the main factors being the cost of hiring three extra

Start Sidewalk, Curb, Gutter Programs

A crew of 12 men have started work on the town's summer program of sidewalk, curb and gutter programs. Town council, Monday evening, agreed the crew should be for the construction work. Contract price is $64,882.

Immediate attempts were been called for the paving program which will see four blocks of streets hard-surfaced during the summer. Tenders will be opened on June 27, and it is hoped to start this work shortly after this date.

Gull Lake Residents Win Telephone Battle

Eleven telephone users in the Gull Lake area will remain on the Lacombe exchange.

This is the word received yesterday afternoon by Ray Thompson, secretary-manager of the Lacombe and district board of trade, who was "officially informed" by telephone that service for phone subscribers in the area will remain unchanged.

Gull Lake residents recently sent a petition to the provincial government protesting a change of their exchange to Bentley and later met with ALTA officials at a meeting in Lacombe to express their views.

Alberta's Tax Rebate Plan

The provincial government's rebate of $50 to all Albertans who live in these areas is an honest effort to assist the gasoline tax burden which is borne by home-owners.

It is obvious that [illegible] Albertans should not be the only federal income tax payers which has referred to Ottawa the problem of income taxation on this item.

The inspectors apparently argue that this $50 tax rebate is, in effect "real income" and as such should be taxed [illegible]

This is supposed to The provincial government each year makes millions of dollars of grants to cities, towns villages and counties to assist in meeting the expenses of local government. These are not considered taxable income to the ratepayers of the municipalities concerned.

If the federal department of internal revenue comes up with a ruling that this $50.00 tax rebate from the provincial government is taxable income all the provincial government has to do is to change its method of payment, and make the "rebate" in the form of a grant to the municipal office concerned.

Such a system would make the rebate appear less of a politically "soft" — but the net result would be the same. Home-owners who live on three acre leases would pay $50 less in taxation.

This after all is the basic reason for which the rebate was originally conceived.

The Canadian Flag

It isn't too long ago since the new Canadian flag was unfurled across the country. The brave red maple leaf on its white background could be found flying from school flagpoles government buildings, service stations, hotels and manufacturing plants across the country.

Time has proven that the coloring and dyes in enthusiasm use were wrong. This was too bad that the owners should accept the loss with resignation and at least haul down the old looking bunting which they now fly.

The flag has been seen in use long enough to know that it cannot stand the rigors of time without becoming a sorry sight. Better no flag than some of the creations which are supposed to represent our country.

Would you really sell your home for the amount of insurance you have on the building? In most cases you would not.

The cost to replace homes today is increasing more than the original cost. Keeping your insurance in line with current values can ensure this situation. Even older homes are actually worth more than they were originally and you should keep your insurance value current. Consider also, the value of any additions or improvements to your home in recent years. Adequate insurance is worth far more than the little extra it will cost.

If your home insurance is being renewed now . . . here is the time to remember a general review! We shall be pleased to carry out this review Of course, no obligation

We invite you to call into our office for sound insurance advice.

CBC Film Crews Here

A number of Lacombe residents took part Monday and Tuesday in the filming of a CBC television documentary production which is expected to be televised later this month.

Television cameras and sound crews spent all day Tuesday at Juniper Lodge here and Monday evening, part of the time without lights, filmed an indoor chicken dance and barn dance performed by the members of Juniper Lodge and Garage last year.

On Monday, Steve Mooney, Barry Barnes and Sherwood Brown of Lacombe, together with Keith McCall of Red Deer, worked in front of cameras as the Drumheller backhand no-flop dropped a tipped fastball and jumper over head.

Yesterday the same crews filmed a swamp boat and also took pictures of a bivouac being constructed on trees at the Juniper Lodge area. A trail rode around Juniper Lake was a feature of the filming yesterday afternoon.

EDITORIAL

Can You Suggest a Candidate?

DISTRICT residents are reminded that nominations for the Calgary Power's annual review of the year awards must be submitted no later than July 31.

Nominations are open to any adult may be left with this newspaper, which cooperates with Alberta's independent electricity utilities companies to ensure that outstanding young Albertans receive the recognition he's deserve.

Junior citizen awards, inaugurated four years ago have been made to 20 young people who have performed acts of courage or displayed outstanding community service, and this award is open to young people in that area.

Residents who know of such deserving young people before the closing date on July 31 should get in touch with this newspaper.

No matter government officials in Ottawa are treading warily.

Quebec Changes Government

RESULTS of the change of government in Quebec could have considerable repercussions, and reports from Ottawa indicate that leaders are not to shake off uncertainty as they see Quebec's demands with a "what next?" attitude.

Until Daniel Johnson and his new government provide an indication of where they plan to lead Quebec any forecast is sheer speculation.

From the general mood of Mr Johnson Canadians might well believe he is no separatist though he has been a staunch defender of "equal opportunity."

His views on equal status are set out in his book Equality or Independence. The Financial Post this week gives excerpts from his book, among which is this passage "But a single nation but two . . . each must have local powers."

No matter government officials in Ottawa are treading warily.

More Inflation Ahead

THE outburst of strikes across Canada is causing grave concern to government officials, and may yet cause serious repercussions in the entire country's economy.

Grain company officials — mainly Gordon L. Harrod, president of the Alberta Wheat Pool and A. M. Runciman, president of the United Grain Growers — are particularly vocal in protesting the longshoremen's strike at Canada's ports in Quebec.

Both agree on one main principle that one compartmentalized group is doing irreparable damage to Canada's reputation as a reliable supplier of grain in the [illegible] market.

Mr Harrod emphasizes that he does not feel that the line has already been drawn between what should be settled without stoppage of work.

Mr. Runciman in even more emphatic. He states, "for the overall time within a year a relatively small group of striking workers have held a gun, metaphorically speaking, to the heads of millions of innocent Canadians who threatened them with grim consequences if they do not strike action."

The recent rounds of labor unrest are causing an equal feeling of unrest among Canadians about their future economic stability. Two-month strikes may be going to take on alarming proportions, including the deterioration at Port Mc Murray against recruiting school graduate welders working on a government job.

It is well to remember that it enjoys as democratic rights only insofar as it shows responsibility toward its place in society. Democratic actions are viewing toward a position of being authoritarian. Thus is where it could get its wings clipped by government action.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother David Ray who passed away June 29, 1965.
Time has not wore your smiling face,
Nor taken from our hearts a place,
You looked to us to fit and well,
That little did we realize
It was to our last farewell.
Sadly missed by mother, brother and sister.

In loving memory of Ray who passed away June 29, 1965.
A loving wife — gentle and kind
What a comforting memory she left behind
Long days, long years
Have come and gone
To wait for you I will in vain
Till God Almighty calls me home
To clasp your hand again.
— Dear husband, missed by her loving husband, Daniel 20-1p

In loving memory of a dear Mom and Grandma who left us on June 29th, 1961.
Sleep on dear one, sleep in peace
Within the grave we all must go
One by one
But must be remembered yet
As angels keep their watch up there
Please God just let her know
That we still love her
And miss her
We love and miss her so.
— Dear remembered by 19-1c

Speaking of Sport . . .

(by Terry Jones)

Looking back
It was quite a year
Those two Belanger's Burkets
And Shelly, too!

The Buckets notched good
In all four of their wins.
The rest of the line
Plays supported them well

Things were rough
In Red Deer's net,
The goal at each end good
Ended up black and blue

But that was a Football
Things were different
[illegible]
In Sickle ball, it was just
That, I have, the Eagles were

In track it was different,
[illegible] the two Lions.
Where [illegible] was not
We know he was lying.

Lee Pearce he tried
[illegible] back,
But it was to Mike Kenna
That he was always one back

Now that the season
Has nearly vanished,
We will tell you
Where I have studied.

When those workings fail
To appear
It's not that I am not feeling well,
But for the next few months
The Red Deer Advocate
Will have the working like

Changes in Store Closing Hours

LACOMBE merchants will watch with great interest the decision of retail merchants at Ponoka to close their stores all day each Monday, starting with July 11.

Such closing has become quite common in southern Alberta towns during the past few years, and is also in effect in other small trading centres east of the mainline. The one-day closing decision of course, have been largely forced by the extension of the maximum 44 - hour - per - week work hours to include employees in towns of under 3,000 people. This maximum 44-hour week has been in effect in Alberta cities for several years, but not until January 1, 1966, did it apply to smaller provincial centres.

There have been many studies of one all-day closing per week made by board of trade retail merchants' committee members here. A questionnaire was recently distributed to 49 business places in town asking each to state preference on seven-hour closing hours, and the results should be available by the end of the month.

Good arguments can be advanced for and against proposals to close for one full day each week. Any decision, though, should be based only on the answer to this question: can a centre provide as good service to its district customers by closing one full day per week, (and providing one evening of late-shopping), than it does at the present time by closing one afternoon per week?

It will be interesting to see how local merchants have answered this question when the results of the questionnaire are tabulated.

Size Changes

THE fact that people in this country are growing taller with the passage of years is only a matter of passing interest in the general public.

But it is a problem of real concern to some Canadian manufacturers. Those who make bedroom suites and mattresses for instance, have to study the matter from a viewpoint of the size of their product. Should they make the present "standard size" mattress six inches longer?

How about doors and houses? Should pre-fabricated units be made three inches higher to accommodate the increased height of future generations? And can manufacturers see they going to have to increase leg sizes in their products? Should chairs be made another inch higher, bicycle sizes changed, sizes of clothing revised?

Although scientists maintain that every species has a size limit, this limit is being inched upwards with the passage of time. Should that our cities and towns of today will appear like pigmy villages to the generations of the unforeseeable future.

Sugar and Spice

. . . by Bill Smiley

Oh, Those College Boys

May you never have a child who is going to college. And if you have one, please accept my heart-felt sympathy.

Once in a while, I don't know what college girls are like (and more, he said sadly) but I suspect they're just as much of a menace to boys as college boys.

I had to get out of bed this morning at 6.4 am to get coal and fuel, but it was worth it. After he'd clambered on the bus, in a flurry of last-minute hugs and admonitions, I must confess to a distinct lifting of the spirits.

It isn't that we don't love our son. We love the deepest affection for him, and show it in the usual stupid ways. That is, we worry about his welfare, we puff with pride when he does something well, we do our fumbling to figure out what is best for him, and we put up with months from time to time of sad, normal paranoia.

And yet it isn't a delirium. Although there are times when I've been tempted to look up the exact definition of that word.

No, he's really quite a decent, average college student. He's pleasant enough company, he is good-natured, if you don't count him. He is reasonably polite — he doesn't belch at the table. He is thoughtful with old people and children when they bore him. He can work steadily for 12 hours at something he likes doing. Like sleeping. He would give you the shirt off his back, and is completely self-centered. He can distort all sight, but he can't see when he's in half-mourning.

You'd wonder why we'd have that sense of foreboding in reverse. There's lots of fun when he's around. He's handsome, gentle and sings, plays piano well plays much organ, is full of brains.

When he's around it is loud. As there's the ash. He has just spent three weeks "at home". This included a couple of days visiting his grandparents, a week off track-hiking to Montreal and back, three days with a friend at the latter's cottage, and a day with another friend in the city.

But it's been nice to have him home.

And he's been a great help to me. He moved one-third of the lawn out day, the four feet of a 40-foot border another, and washed the car another (at the moment).

I'm not trying to imply that the fun is from-him. It's just that he's too busy. When he is home he usually gets to bed an hour sometimes two, before I get up at 6.30. When I get home for lunch, about 1.30, he is not coming to. By 2.30, it's too late to mow the grass, but just right for the beach.

Maternity compels me to admit that he did set a new record this time. He got in at 3.30 one morning, and was just struggling downstairs for breakfast at 3.30 p.m. when his accomplices of the night before arrived to pick him up for a date they'd made for 1 p.m. Even then were a bit startled.

Oh well sonnie and all that and I don't care. Anyway, he's off in his summer job working on a farm near Innisfail on the old coach. Got a free rail pass from the company.

He started figuring out his expenses for the trip out. A bottle for three nights, meals at the diner for three days, perhaps a couple of nights at a Vancouver hotel as once his host wasn't at, plus meals for the next few days. He just dropped gradually but steadily during the first recital.

He was pretty badly shaken when I told him he would be renting a pillow for 25 cents and sleeping in his car. would be mixed bath, meals estimate the train stopped long enough, and ended after at the YMCA when he got there.

We compromised on $80. My wife and I were happy that it was "it seems odd," she said, "that we're looking for $50 so he can get to a job, so that he can save money, so that it won't cost us so much next year." I agreed.

Anyway, our vacation plans for the summer are made. A week ago the old girl stated flatly that the only trip we would afford this summer was a week camping in a provincial park, with a borrowed tent.

Ten minutes after he's left she informed me that she was packing a trip to the west coast, and taking a cruise on Hugh's boat.

Bentley 4-H Dairy Show — July 6

On Wednesday, July 6, the Bentley 4-H dairy club will hold its annual show at the skating rink in Bentley. Here the students will display the results of their calves, yearlings and two year olds.

Ed Kanngie of the Lacombe multi-project club will show his two-year-old heifer, and George Langrich (also of the Lacombe club) will show his calf in competition with the Bentley champion. Ed's 2-year old was the grand champion and George's calf the reserve grand champion in competition between the Lacombe and Nebraska clubs held on June 16.

The top calf and yearling from each of the three clubs will go on to show in the provincial competition to be held in conjunction with the Red Deer fair.

Lacombe County Farmers Are Thrifty

Generally speaking, farmers in the county of Lacombe are in the habit of laid-on getting their fields harvested on time. We all realize that when crops are ripened fully, weather permitting, combined and machine is used.

In a log through other districts in the north of us last week, it was apparent that the farmers in the county of Lacombe were well advanced with their spraying operations.

Master Farm Family Awards

July 4 is the deadline for nominations for the annual Master Farm Family Award. Winner of the award this year will receive an all-expense paid trip for two to the 1967 world's fair at Montreal.

Nomination forms and further information can be obtained from our office.

Clive Bingo Success

CLIVE — The Clive ball park held until over 100 cars on the evening of the bingo. Lacombe's Ed. Sim, Morris Erskine, Trochu, Bentley and Blackfalds were all represented as people of those places attended.

It was discovered that one lady was playing 13 cards, and in another car, 30. Large cards were being played. It was a very successful evening and was run off in a most efficient manner. Interest in these bingo games is high.

Mrs. Howard Thomas of Clive won the blanket, huge draw prize, and Mrs. Pinic of Trochu won the blanket television set prize. The transistor radio door prize was won by Lyle Knight of Tees.

Other prizes were won by Reg Knight of Tees; Mrs. Ben the Knudsen, Clive; W. Kuhman, Tees; Mrs. Hensel, Alix; Mrs. Carlson, Alix (2); Mrs. B. Dermott, Alix; Mrs. A. Werling, Clive; B. Dietz, Alix.

J. Bear, Erskine; Dick Dodd, Clive, Mrs. E. Baker, Clive, Mrs. Jack Dodd, Clive; Mrs. Les Trigg, Clive; Mrs. C. Scace, Clive; Jacques Beaudoin; Mrs. Ken Avery, Tees; Mrs. Matthew and Mrs. Ruby Somerset, Trochu.

Although no exact figures are yet known, those in charge estimate a profit of "around $100" on the evening.

Recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Emma Gochwendtner have been Mrs. Ben Hensel, Alix; Mrs. Bottin, and Louis Bottner.

Sunday Mrs. Cora Gochwendtner and Sara Schafer took Mrs. Gochwendtner to the autumn show at Wetaskiwin.

There have been one or two rain showers the past few days which have temporarily helped the dust problem. A good steady gentle rain for about 24 hours or more is really needed on.

An interesting sight last week was a mother robin digging for worms for her three offspring. The mother robin had as their mother's fellowed her around for hours waiting to be fed. The worms were plentiful in this garden, after the water sprinkler had been turned on all day.

Mrs. A. L. Benecal and Mrs. J. H. Harrow, accompanied by Mrs. Bartlett, attended a Tupperware tea at the newly new home of Mr. and Mrs. N. Merrical. Mr. Merrical, it will be remembered, was the winner of a sweepstake several years ago.

Miss Judy Grant has been home for a week before going to Carmacillo, Nova Scotia, to take her basic training in the navy. Judy has been employed in Calgary for several years. Best wishes of the community go with her.

The longest day has passed and from now on the days will get shorter. It seems only yesterday that the long evenings were starting and it comes as a shock, as most evenings have been cool and certainly not pleasant to enjoy.

It certainly isn't bathing suit weather yet, and June is almost over. It has been exceptionally cool and heat-loving vegetation has been very slow in growth.

Unless hot weather and plenty of moisture comes in July and August it is possible that some of this vegetation will not mature in time. It seems that home gardens require a lot of watering to keep them going. Wonder what happened to these gardens, when they relied on rain alone.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kohlsmith and family of Clyde were Clive visitors during the week end. They are former Clive residents.

Visitors to the J. H Harrow home on Saturday included Mrs K. Bailey of Alix and Mrs. F. G. Harrow, Richard, and Maureen. On Sunday, the Harrow family visited A. W. Fuzzin and daughters at the Forster cottage at Gull Lake.

AT ANTIQUE SHOW — Close to 2,000 items and dishes were shown attracting the crowd to the antique show at the Floral Wedding farm four miles north of Ellis on the Mountain highway. Top picture shows the main museum building which was crowded throughout the day. Lone-type wanted outside the big barn to see if there were figures of all types which were on display.

Large Number See Antiques at Westling

WESTLING — The room at the Floral Wedding home on Sunday afternoon was filled to capacity with antique lovers who came to see the display of antiques and quilts.
